Burglars Get Papers Worth Small Fortune

Burglars yesterday entered the home of W. E. Trestle, 937 Mo... avenue, Alhambra, and stole negotiable papers exceeding $20,000 in value. The valuables were in a steel box, but the burglars forced the lock. Constable Parker of Alhambra asked local police and the sheriff's office to assist in the search for the robbers.

The loot includes deeds to citrus orange groves, stock in the Key... Iron Works, $10,000; stock in the Arizona Copper Queen mine, the Fillmore Community Oil, $1000; the ... ny Slope Water Company, $5400. A wicker suit case containing $100 worth of clothing was also taken.

LOOT HOMES WHILE FAMILIES ARE AWAY

Two homes were looted yesterday while the members of the families were absent, according to reports made to the police. J. B. Gray states that from his residence at 2823 Ingraham street, ... jewelry and clothing of a total value in excess of $400 were stolen. Attorney Lyndon Bowring, of 1... South Rampart Boulevard, reports the loss of clothing and jewelry worth $1300.

Twenty Black and Tans were attacked on Wexford street, but with the exception of one elderly man wounded by the fire of the military there were no casualties. The other happened near the North Dublin barracks when volunteers fired on a military lorry.

KEEP PAPERS IN STILLMAN CASE SECRET

Pleadings and Affidavits Will Not be Made Public, Says Clerk.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—Definite announcement that pleadings and affidavits in the Stillman case will not be made public when filed in Westchester county was made today by County Clerk Charles Decker. He declared he would take advantage of a section of the general code of procedure prohibiting any court official from permitting copies of the pleadings of testimony in such cases to be taken by any one other than counsel for both sides, without a special order of the court.

The testimony and papers will be filed with the County Clerk when Supreme Court Justice Joseph Mayer Proskauer, before whom the court hearings have been held, files his decision fixing alimony and counsel fees for Mrs. Stillman, which is expected this week.

BUDGET CUT HUMOROUS

Senate Committee Makes Report.

Total of $350,000 Might be Taken from $81,000,000 Total, They Say.

Thelen's Bond Suggestion is Declared Financially Impracticable.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—Reductions in the proposed State budget of $100,000, representing salary increases, and $250,000 because of falling cost of commodities, are suggested in a report that will be placed before the Senate tomorrow by the steering committee of the budget investigation which ended tonight. The Senate is to be asked to adopt the report as its findings in the inquiry.

Senator W. J. Carr, chairman of the Steering Committee, announced tonight that he would submit the committee's recommendations tomorrow and request that they be printed in the journal so that the Senate may be in a position to act in the matter on Wednesday.

THELEN SAT UPON.

The tentative findings declare the suggestions of Max Thelen, former Railroad Commissioner, that permanent improvements of a substantial nature be placed in a bond issue, is financially unsound and impracticable. The report further declares "adherence to the firmly-established policy of building for current needs out of current funds."

The report commends the State Budget Board, which recommended appropriations for the next biennium, for "its thoroughness and conservatism."

The Steering Committee's report sets forth that the budget board was justified in its eliminations of more than $24,000,000 from the requests of State departments and asks the Finance Committee not to give favorable report to items which failed to get the approval of the board. The Finance Committee is urged also to exercise the "greatest restraint" in reporting out any special appropriation bills not budgeted.

The various items of the tentative findings are segregated so that the Senate may vote upon them separately.

A summary of other sections of the Steering Committee's report states:

COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

"The committee found that the budget for the coming biennium is $80,324,138.73 and not $81,387,692.51.

"The latter amount includes the deficiencies of slightly over $1,000,000 allowed in January of this year for the present expiring biennium. The expenses of the State for the two years ending June 30, next, will amount to $53,737,809.44. So it is going to cost for State government the next two years, over the present biennium period, $26,585,329.29. Of this increase the sum of approximately $18,000,000 is accounted for by the vote of the people at the last general election.

"This leaves an increase in the present budget of roughly $8,500,000, of which in excess of $5,000,000 is for buildings and improvements at the various State institutions. It is set forth that the State has allowed all building and repair work to lapse during the past four years because of war conditions. This accounts in part for the large difference between the last budget and the present one.

ANALYZES BUDGET.

"The committee further analyzes the budget by showing that the fixed charges of government, including highway bond interest, building bonds sinking fund and interest, Sutter Basin assessment, support of orphans, amount to almost $11,000,-

CRISIS NEAR IN CHINA.

Attempt to Restore Monarchy Seen.

Rumors Declare That Gen. Chang Tso-Ling is Preparing for Coup.

Present Cabinet is Said to be About Ready to Resign Portfolios.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PEKING, March 28.—Rumors of a third attempt to restore the Manchu dynasty as the ruling power in China and of the impending resignation of the Cabinet are disrupting the calm which settled over the internal affairs of the nation within the past six months.

The move to re-establish the empire is generally taken to be the outgrowth of the capture of Urga early in February by Baron Unger, an associate of Gen. Semenoff, the anti-Bolshevik leader in Siberia. The coup was supposed to have been effected by Gen. Semenoff after an agreement with Gen. Chang Tso-Ling, China's present war lord and the dictator to the republic.

MAY DEMAND PRICE.

Chang has been requested by the Chinese government to rush reinforcements to Mongolia to recapture Urga. However, he made a counter-request for funds to raise two more brigades and in the meantime he has been holding a large birthday celebration at his home in Mukden. It is predicted that Chang may demand the restoration of the Manchu dynasty, with himself as the power behind the throne, in return for the expulsion of the combined Russian and Japanese forces from Mongolia.

These rumors have been further strengthened by the return to Peking of former Prince Tuan, one of the stanch supporters of the Boxer uprising, and who has been exiled for twenty years. One of his sons was at one time nominated as heir to the throne.

TALK OF MONARCHY.

The climax to the monarchy talk was reached when an interview was given an American newspaper man by former President Li Yuan-Hung, in which HI was quoted as saying that if the expected clash in the spring between the Chi-Li and Chang Tso-Ling faction happens, it will result in the monarchy movement which Chang is now promoting and which is inevitable. Li denied he made that statement, saying that his remarks had not been correctly interpreted, but nevertheless his remark, as reported, is given much consideration in many sections.

The fall of the Cabinet, which is impending, has as its immediate cause the pauperized condition of the government. The Ministry of Finance has not been able to find the necessary funds to meet the urgent administrative and military expenses. The teachers in the government educational institutions are striking because their salaries have not been paid for months, and the Ministry of Education is bankrupt. Admiral Sah Chen-Ping, the Minister of the Navy; Fan Yuan-Lien, Minister of Education, and W. W. Yen, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, are all officially ill, which is the Chinese custom of procedure preliminary to resignation. Prime Minister Chin Yung-Peng also is contemplating quitting his post.

CLEARING OBSTACLES.

Although the Cabinet crisis has no direct bearing on rumors of the restoration of the monarchy, it probably will be a step toward clearing away some of the obstacles which Chang has before him.

If Chang should prove successful in his attempt, the monarchy would very likely prove short lived. Two attempts have been made to restore the empire since the founding of the republic. The first attempt was that of Yuan Shai Kai, the first President of the republic and the latter was led by Chan-Hsuan. Both ended in failures and in the death of the leaders.

China as a whole is wedded to the republican form of government, and the progressive element is doing everything possible to evolve order out of the present chaos and give the country an efficient republican administration.

SEEK RELEASE OF AMERICANS FROM RUSSIA.

State Department Active on Behalf of Prisoners Held by Soviet.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 28. — Efforts to release about fifty Americans held in soviet Russia are being made by the State Department through unidentified agencies, according to information given today to Senator Heflin of Alabama, who has made inquiries in behalf of Emmett Kilpatrick, said to have been sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment at Moscow.

Of the fifty Americans held by the Bolsheviki, the Senator was informed, about six or eight, including Kilpatrick, are reported in prison. The others were said to be under detention in various towns. Kilpatrick, a former Red Cross agent, is said to have been accused of serving with the armed forces of Lithuania against the soviet government, and with being in the employ of the United States government.

PASSPORT BARS LIFTED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Americans leaving or entering the United States and outgoing aliens are no longer required to have passports, under the act repealing the war laws approved March 3, though whether Congress in that act intentionally or otherwise repealed the law requiring passports of incoming aliens is now before the Attorney-General for determination.

Although not required under our laws to provide themselves with passports, Americans would find it possible without them to enter but few foreign countries, passport regulations being still in effect abroad, though France and England are showing a disposition to lift the bars imposed by the war. Passports are still necessary therefore, except in visiting countries which do not require them.

As originally passed by the House the War Act repeal resolution specifically excepted the act of May 22, 1918, and the President's proclamation placing the passport control regulations made under the authority of the Secretary of State. In the law as approved March 3, however, it was not specifically included among the acts excepted from the operation of the resolution and counsel for

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of the famous Confederate general, went to the White House today and informed President Harding that the Republicans would have swept the South if the women had been permitted to vote.

Mrs. Longstreet told the President that all over the South "Dixie councils of Republican women" were being formed, and that there would be a rapid breaking up of Democratic control of the solid South in the near future.

GENERAL STRIKE IMPENDING; COMMUNISTS AGAIN ACTIVE THROUGH CENTRAL GERMANY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, March 28.—The government late tonight ordered Wilhelmstrasse, the principal street, closed to all traffic in anticipation of possible disturbances Tuesday, when the radicals hope to tie up the big industrial and other plants in a general strike. Government troops occupy the street. Approaches to all government buildings are barricaded with barbed-wire entanglements. The city was quiet today. Late reports from Middle Germany say the situation is unchanged. There have been sporadic outbreaks at points not yet occupied by the troops, which are temporarily held by rioting bands.

GERMANS IN FEAR AT UPRISINGS.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, March 28.—Reports from Central Germany, where Communist workers are in open rebellion, gave the government much apprehension today. They indicated that the rebels were winning back the upper hand in the controversy from the "green" troops, or security police. The situation is said officially to be serious.

Reports that large bodies of Reds, fully armed, were concentrating in various places in Saxony were taken as indication that new outbreaks were being planned. One report declared that tomorrow, when factories will reopen after the Easter holidays, fighting will be begun in several new points and that a demonstration in Berlin will take place.

The revolutionary workmen's council in Leipsic, despite opposition of the Independent Socialist members, voted today in favor of a general strike to begin tomorrow. The Communists are expected to occupy all plants and to prevent the entry of those who disobey the strike order.

TAKE RAIL STATION

The railroad station at Halle was occupied yesterday by Communists after a brisk fight with "green" troops. The railroad station at Ammendorf, near Halle, and a railroad bridge on the main line of the Leipsic-Berlin line were blown up.

All trains yesterday running between Berlin and Halle and Berlin and Leipsic were shot at by revolutionists. At Halle armed workers, from 16 to 20 years old, are holding up all trains and seizing the passengers' baggage.

The great Luena factory at Halle, which is occupied by 20,000 armed workers, has become the center of the Saxony uprisings. From there armed foraging parties are swarming over the land and requisitioning vast food supplies in preparation for a long fight.

Herr Doersing, president of Prussian Saxony, has proclaimed a 9 o'clock curfew law for the whole state, and has ordered that all persons found possessing arms be shot. Reichswehr troops called from West Germany are expected to arrive Monday.

REPLY IS REQUEST.

BERLIN, March 28. — Germany, replying today to an inquiry of the Inter-Allied aeronautical control commission as to whether manufacturers of aeronautical material were still supported by the German authorities in their continued violation of the Entente's decisions regarding construction of such material, proposes that the matter be referred to arbitration.

Germany states that it still adheres to its standpoint that the Versailles Treaty did not give the Allies the right to prolong the embargo on the manufacture and importation of aeronautical material beyond July 10, 1920.

FRENCH LINES ADVANCED INTO RHINE TERRITORY.

Announcement as to New Duties Will be Made Soon; England Hanging Back Regarding Penalties.

BY RALPH COURTNEY.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, March 28.—In a new advance of their line in Germany, French troops, since Friday, have occupied the station at Osterfeld. Osterfeld is an important railway junction on the Essen railway lines and is situated a short distance from Oberhausen, which is to the northeast.

The announcement of new details concerning the status of the new Rhine customs state is expected. The Rhineland will be considered autonomous economic territory under the new regime.

The 150 customs posts along the eastern frontier will not impose duties on goods in transit to or from foreign lands across the Rhineland, but will confine themselves to controlling shipments. Such taxes as may be applicable will be imposed at the external German frontier — that is to say, at Forbach, Wissemburg or other frontier stations.

DETAILS HELD BACK.

Though no details are given of the proposed new taxes, it is stated that export duty on goods leaving the Rhineland for Germany are to be less than the import tax on the same articles coming from Germany. The plan, it is said, is to tax all articles passing from unoccupied Germany into the Rhineland from 20 to 25 per cent of the import duty now imposed by Germany on foreign products entering German territory.

The project then is to increase gradually the percentage of duty to 100 per cent; that is to say, until the Rhineland is an economically independent state, taxing German imports at the same rate Germany taxes foreign goods. In these circumstances, France naturally desires the new Rhine state to include as much as possible of the great Westphalian industrial region.

ENGLAND HANGS BACK.

Much to France's disappointment, England seems to be hanging back on the question of inflicting new sanctions on Germany. If nothing is decided before May 1, it will be largely because of England's reluctance to act.

France wants to put in operation at once certain minor sanctions corresponding to Germany's failure to deliver the 1,000,000,000 gold marks demanded by the reparations commission March 23. These minor sanctions would then have been followed by a more formidable program of action, May 1, when Germany, as anticipated, refuses to settle the bill of 12,000,000,000 marks

GREEKS HOLD BAGDAD ROAD

Ottoman Forces Evacuate Kutaja and Flee Toward Anatolia.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 28.—Kutaia has been evacuated by the Turks, and the Greeks are masters of the Bagdad Railroad and are continuing to advance toward Angora. The Turkish communication announces the withdrawal of the Ottoman forces to new positions. The plan apparently is to keep the army intact and retreat into the depths of Anatolia, drawing the Greeks after it.

ATHENS, March 28. — Afium-Karahissar, an important railway junction south of Eski-Shehr, has been taken by Greek forces from the Turkish Nationalists, a dispatch to the newspaper Neaellas says. Many prisoners and large quantities of war materials have been captured, the dispatch declares, and the Turks are fleeing toward Kiutayah, about fifty miles northward.

An official statement giving details of Saturday's fighting says that the army east of Smyrna pursued the Turks to within approximately four miles of Afium-Karahissar, where the attack halted for the night. It is said the Greek losses have been insignificant.

The Greeks east of Brusa have advanced to north of Sughut. The statement seems to indicate that the Turks are intrenching themselves before this important city of Eski-Shehr

PARIS GETS NEWS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, March 28.—The Greek delegation in Paris has just received a dispatch from Smyrna announcing the capture of Afium-Karahissar from the Turkish Nationalists and declaring the fall of Eski-Shehr is but a matter of a few hours.

MORROW NOW GOVERNOR OF CANAL ZONE.

Capt. Kittelle Also Named by President as Head of Forces in Virgin Islands.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Col. Jay J. Morrow, who has been acting as Governor of the Panama Canal Zone, was formally appointed to the zone governorship today by President Harding. At the same time the President appointed Capt. Sumner R. W. Kittelle of the Navy as Governor of the Virgin Islands.

Capt. Kittelle has been on duty at the Navy Department as a member of the board of inspection and survey nearly two years. Prior to that he had been on sea duty with the Atlantic Fleet. He will relieve Rear-Admiral Joseph W. Oman, present Governor of the Virgin Isles, about April 20. Admiral Oman will report at the Navy Department for duty, probably at sea.

MOTOR INDUSTRY NEARS NORMAL.

Detroit Factories Rapidly Increase Production.

Most Plants Soon to be on 100 Per Cent Basis.

Manufacturers Optimistic of the Future.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DETROIT, March 28.—One hundred per cent production schedules will be put into effect in practically every automobile plant in Detroit next Monday.

Manufacturers are optimistic of the future of the industry. Almost every plant reports orders coming in rapidly. Men are being hired every day, and departments are being built up to a normal basis.

TO RESUME FULL TIME.

The Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company will resume full-time production on a 100 per cent basis. Officials of the Hupp Motor Car Company said that production will be increased to normal Monday. Production in the Hudson and Essex plants will be 50 per cent greater in April than it was during March, an official stated. Plants of the Studebaker Corporation, which have been running on the five-day week basis, will be operated six days a week beginning the first week in April.

At the same time production in the Packard plant will be 50 per cent greater than it has been during the last three weeks. In May it will be increased to 100 per cent more than during January, February and March. The new plant of the King Motor Company will be opened next week and production resumed on a 60 per cent basis. The Maxwell company will increase production to a 65 per cent basis. Production in the plant of the Chalmers Motor Car Company will be 75 per cent greater during April than in March, said one official.

TRUCK COMPANY INCREASE.

The National Motor Truck Company, which has been running on a 35 per cent basis for several months, will begin operation on a 50 per cent production schedule next week. Officials at other plants, although admitting that production will be increased April 1, refused to give actual figures.

The Ford Motor Car Company has received orders for 90,000 cars to be delivered in April, as against about 80,000 in March. Starting Monday morning, two of the largest departments of the Buick Motor Car Company at Flint took on 200 additional men, extending the operations to a basis of a five and a half day week instead of the three-day schedule in effect the last several weeks.

BUDGET CUT IS MICROSCOPIC.

000. Education and fixed charges, together, amount to $54,668,206.15. This leaves $25,000,000 in round numbers for the support of all the insane and other dependents and for all the other expenses of State government, including buildings, only $12,500,000 a year."

Exactly one month from the time it began, the Senate's investigation of appropriations proposed for State institutions and commissions ended tonight.

The closing session found the principal parties to the controversy with views apparently unchanged by the results of the inquiry. Members of the budget board stood firmly by their recommendation for appropriations aggregating $81,000,000.

Clyde Seavey of the Board of Control said the estimate could not be reduced unless the Legislature was willing to "take a chance on a greater reduction in the cost of living" than was now apparent.

John S. Chambers, State Controller, characterized the budget as the "best ever made in California." He said it had been compiled with great care and that no man could go over it in a short time and make intelligent recommendations as to reductions.

THELEN STANDS PAT.

On the other hand, Max Thelen, former president of the Railroad Commission, who was retained by public utilities in the matter, held to his contention that the budget should be reduced by approximately $8,000,000.

He declared that the budget in Illinois showed but 9 per cent increase and that a decrease was shown in New York's budget. California's budget, he added, represented a 54.5 per cent increase, and even after deducting the $18,000,000 added to the State's expense by vote of the people, the increase was 26 per cent. Seavey contended the cases were not comparable.

Thelen quoted figures from the California State Purchasing Agent, and from the United States Department of Labor in support of his contention that the budget board had not made sufficient allowance for the falling cost of commodities.

"I know it is a hard job," he said, in urging the necessity for economical administration of the State government. "The Legislature has my sympathy in this work."

RANGES OVER WIDE FIELD.

The discussion today ranged over a wide field. A dispute over the difference between "depletion" and "depreciation" consumed some time and several of the Senators harked back to a minor feature of the controversy involving the cost of a fence at a State institution. When Seavey noted that practically no inebriates were being admitted to State institutions now, prohibition opponents sought with some success to show that the number of drug addicts was on the increase.

Will H. Fischer, director of the Taxpayers' Association of California, warned the Senate against the "dangerous policy" of State aid. He said care of the afflicted was properly a county function and that the extension of State aid in such matters virtually meant a bribe to the local governmental units to carry on their natural activities.

When asked if his association was interested in limiting local governmental expense, Fscher said it was. He added that he was preparing a bill intended to limit county governmental extravagance. Senator King then announced that he had ready for introduction a measure that would prevent counties from increasing their tax rates more than 5 per cent in any year.

Senator Inman criticised the system whereby he said salaries of county officials are constantly increased through passage of county government bills in the Legislature. "The people are never represented in this matter," he added. Duncan said that in acting upon county government bills the Legislature was a rubber stamp for grand juries.

Questioned by Senator Rigdon, Fischer said his association's membership was made up of corporations such as the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Northwestern Pacific railroads and the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation, as well as 3000 or 4000 individuals.

H. A. Jastro, director of the State Agricultural Society, and Albert M. Paul of the Sixth District Agricultural Association spoke against reductions in the appropriations they requested. Prof. W. L. Howard of the University of California, pleading for $50,000 for deciduous fruit experimental work, said this activity had virtually saved the apricot industry in the bay region, where one crop was valued at $5,000,000.

ATTEND BALL GAME.

Half a dozen Assemblymen went to a ball game today, and as a result the Assembly spent the afternoon in session and passed a whole grist of county government bills, cleaned up the Senate second-reading file, the Assembly second-reading file and all the other routine business in sight. Meantime, the Senate continued to labor with the final stages of the budget hearings, devoting some time to consideration of the present arrangement whereby county and group hospitals for tubercular cases receive State aid.

Where the ball game got into legislative consideration was that the absence of those who attended it caused a call of the house. Some bills by Gilbert L. Jones, amending the Workmen's Compensation Insurance Act, were under consideration about ball-game time, and a roll call developed that there were not enough affirmative votes for one of the bills to pass it, nor enough negative votes to beat it.

A call of the house was demanded, and while the Sergeant-at-Arms and his assistants were locating the missing lawmakers at the ball park, the Legislature turned its attention to cleaning up the files. The call held three hours, and twelve county government bills were passed, numerous other bills amended and the second-reading files all completed.

There were five of the Jones bills up for consideration today. Three were passed, one defeated and the fifth made a special order for tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Reconsideration of the sixth of the series, which passed Saturday, was held over until tomorrow.

Numerous committees met as soon as the Assembly adjourned tonight, including the Committee on Public Morals, which promptly passed out, with a recommendation that it "do pass" the Wright bill for enforcement of the prohibition laws. The Wright bill was substituted for the Harris Senate bill, but some amendments were made tonight in committee and these also were ordered out to be voted on tomorrow and incorporated in the bill.

VETO SUSTAINED.

Gov. Stephens's first veto of the session was unanimously sustained in the Assembly today. It related to a bill validating bonds of an irrigation district in Riverside county. The Governor sent the bill back with the comment that he believed such a validation was unnecessary and would only tend to add legislation to the existing burden. Assemblyman White, who introduced the bill, said he agreed with the Governor about it and asked that the veto be sustained.

Other than passing county government bills and disposing of four of the Jones insurance bills, no final disposition was made of proposed laws today. The Jones bills passed included one making a new provision by which a claimant might be allowed, in addition to any damages awarded him under the act, half as much more by way of exemplary damages if he established that his injuries were due to willful disregard, by his employer, of safety requirements of the commission.

A bill that would have resulted in preventing dependents not legally members of the family of a deceased employee from recovering under the act was defeated. Jones said it was meant to protect employers against claims by minor children of women living illicitly with insured men. The opponents argued that the immorality involved was not chargeable to the minor dependents and that they should not suffer for it.

A third bill that Jones said merely repealed a section already held unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court, was passed, but notice of reconsideration was given. The last of the series acted on today was passed. It provided for eliminating from the provisions defining the term "independent contractor" and providing a presumption that certain persons are employees and making workmen associated under a partnership contract employees of the person having the work executed.

The reorganization of State government, quiescent since the Governor read his initial message on that subject during the first half of the session, again became active today with the word that a series of joint hearings would be held by the Senate and Assembly committees on governmental efficiency and economy, beginning Friday night, and continuing thereafter at all possible times, including Sunday, until the bills have all been considered and some sort of a program reported out.

ASSEMBLY BILLS PASSED.

The Assembly passed and sent to the Senate the following bills:

By Jones, Gilbert L.—Three amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Insurance Act.

By Windrem—Fixing the salary of probation officer of Madera county. Also an act fixing the salary of the probation officer of Merced county. Also a general salary schedule for the officers of Merced county.

By Jones, Isaac—Fixing salary of probation officer of San Bernardino county.

By Bishop—Fixing salaries for officials of San Diego county.

By McCloskey—Fixing salaries for officers of San Benito county.

By Powers—Fixing salary for probation officer of Modoc county. Also fixing salaries for probation officer and librarian of Plumas county.

By Ream—Fixing the salary of the librarian of Siskiyou county.

By Coombs—Fixing the salary of the probation officer of Napa county.

By Stevens—Fixing the salaries of officials of Sonoma county.

REBUFF FAILS TO STOP REDS.

Soviet Government to Keep on with Trade Efforts.

Hughes's Reply is Handed to Bolsheviks Through Reval.

Communism in Russia Will Stay, Says Minister.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HELSINGFORS, March 28.—Regardless of the rebuff administered by the State Department at Washington in its recent communication on the subject, the Russian soviet government probably will continue its efforts for trade with America, Jaan Antonovitch Behrsin, soviet Minister to Finland, told the Associated Press today.

"Other efforts undoubtedly will be made," he said, "most likely through American business concerns to which we are ready to grant concession, while, of course, soviet Russia is undoubtedly ready to make new overtures at any time the American government sees fit to change its viewpoint toward us.

COMMUNISM TO STAY.

"But one thing is certain, despite all newspaper reports to the contrary; Russia will not give up Communism and revert to the principle of private property.

"In brief our situation is this: We now have for the first time peace with our neighbors and have things well in hand at home. Our government is willing to become a capitalistic concern itself, in order to maintain Communism within its borders. As a government, it will deal with foreign concerns, granting and guaranteeing concessions, but the results of these deals in produce necessary for our people will continue to be distributed communistically by our government."

HAVE RAW PRODUCTS.

M. Behrsin said that soviet Russia had a certain amount of raw products, including wool, ready to offer America now, but that the principle in view in the trade offer was future concessions in Siberia and elsewhere, the minister pointing out that a vast territory in the Russian domain was still undeveloped.

"Conditions in the inferior are far from satisfactory," he added, "but they are better than at any time since the revolution."

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The American Consul at Reval reported to the State Department today he had received and transmitted to the diplomatic representative of the soviet government the communication of Secretary Hughes giving the administration's policy on trade with Russia.

ORDER LOCOMOTIVES.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, March 28.—The Russian soviet government has given Sweden an order for 1000 locomotives and Germany an order for 100, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow today.

Forty thousand smokestacks, 2500 tires, more than 18,000 tons of tin and quantities of other railroad materials already have been received from Germany, the message adds.

PASSPORT BARS LIFTED.

three immigrants rescued from deportation by writs of habeas corpus have appealed their cases to the Attorney-General on the ground that there is no law requiring them to have passports.

ENTIRE LAW NULL.

The appropriation bill, which was approved March 2, continued in force for incoming aliens the passport provisions of the 1918 law "until otherwise provided by law." Counsel for the immigrants holds that the repeal act approved March 3 "otherwise provided" by wiping out the entire law.

On the other side, it is argued that passport control as applied to incoming aliens is not essentially war legislation, that the clear intent of Congress to continue passport control was shown by its passage of the act of Oct. 9, 1919, providing that control should not end with the termination of a state of war in case peace was arrived at prior to the expiration of the Control Act on March 4 and by the insertion of the provision in the appropriation bill approved March 2. Pending a decision the control will be continued.

INFLUX MAY BE RESULT.

If the Attorney-General decides that the repeal act blots out passport control as applied to arriving immigrants, passports vised or otherwise cannot be required of incoming aliens until Congress passes a new law to meet the situation. Nothing would then prevent a rush of foreigners to this country. The danger of the situation is mitigated, however, by the fact that a sufficient number of would-be immigrants with properly vised passports already are awaiting the transportation to fill arriving steamers for some time to come and the only ones to be affected would be aliens whose passports showed irregularities, as in the case of those now under consideration.

Many would-be immigrants also are finding it impossible because of low wages in England and exchange rates in France to save money to pay for their passage to this country, according to Rowland B. Mahany, immigration commissioner, who has returned from Europe and reported today to Secretary of Labor Davis. Mr. Mahany was sent abroad to attend the sessions of the international commission on immigration. His resignation was accepted by President Harding last week.

country and the damage to crops and live stock by tornadoes and blizzards in the Dakotas, Minnesota and parts of Iowa and Colorado would seriously affect the grain markets today, but the prices did not show the anticipated fluctuations.

RIVERS ARE SWOLLEN.

Crops in the Ozark Mountain region are said to have escaped, but in Southern Arkansas and Louisiana heavy winds and squalls wrought considerable damage.

The river bottom residents near Terre Haute, Ind., and those of Seymour, Wabash and Evansville, Ind., were preparing to leave their homes yesterday because of the swollen condition of rivers. Green River at Evansville, White River at Seymour and the Wabash, all were rising above flood level.

One woman was killed and several persons were injured in a tornado at Longview, Tex.

Earth tremors, apparently in the United States, were recorded at the University of Chicago.

RAIL TRAFFIC IMPAIRED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OMAHA, March 28.—Rail traffic is still impaired and telephone and telegraph wires are down in the western part of the State as a result of one of the severest Easter storms in years.

LOSS REACHES MILLIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) March 28.—Based on reports from Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, officials of farm and horticultural associations said tonight much damage had been caused by freezing temperatures last night.

Little hope for early fruit crops in Missouri and Kansas was indicated, although it was said the later crops probably had not suffered materially.

The sudden cold snap was preceded by warm weather in most localities and officials said, in many places fruit trees were in bloom. Grains crops were said to have been well advanced.

Oklahoman State Board of Agriculture estimated today the loss of early fruit in that State would approximate $11,250,000 and said 75 per cent of the crop was ruined.

TEXAS ESCAPES LOSS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DALLAS (Tex.) March 28.—With the possible exception of the extreme north and west sections the Panhandle early fruit and vegetable crops in Texas escaped damage from the sudden return of wintry weather Sunday and Saturday night.

MISSOURI FRUIT HIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) March 28.—Fruit suffered severely and heavy damage is expected to result from last night's freeze, Jewell Mayes, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, announced tonight.

TWO KILLED IN STORM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—An eighty-mile gale swooping down on New York late today tore off roofs, uprooted trees, caused accidents which have resulted in at least two deaths and brought a touch of winter. The wind was accompanied by a drop in temperature from 78 at 2 p.m. to 37 degrees at 10 o'clock. The Weather Bureau declared the gale to be mostly local in character, caused by the heat of yesterday and this morning, but part of a general storm in the East. Reports from Plainfield, N. J., declare a hurricane cut a half-mile path through the western part of that town.

The temperature dropped rapidly with a heavy downfall of rain coming on the heels of the squall. Later in the evening it turned into sleet and hail.

The deaths reported were those of a child playing in a frame structure and an unidentified woman struck by an automobile. The building collapsed when it was struck by what spectators described as "whirling clouds."

Brooklyn was struck hardest by the wind and it was there the greater part of the damage was done. The walls of a synagogue under construction in Flatbush were blown down.

The fall in temperature aroused fears for the safety of the enormous pear, peach and plum crops in Southern New Jersey, where the trees are covered with developed buds.

GERMAN REDS IN REBELLION.

in Central Germany are concentrating on Bitterfeld, where the extremists have succeeded in disarming the local police and occupying the public buildings, according to an official communique issued shortly before noon today. During Sunday, the statement says, bandits looted the bank and the postoffice at Sangerhausen and put the local telegraph office out of commission. A Halle dispatch today announced that Sangerhausen, southwest of Eisleben, had been occupied and put under control by Federal forces.

TRAINS REROUTED.

Through trains, which normally traverse the Halle section, are being rerouted, owing to the sabotaging of the trackage and bridge by the Communists, who are continuing to spread terror as they proceed westward and northward from Halle, with the security police at their heels.

The extent to which a general strike movement is likely to develop as a sequel to the present outbreak could not be determined today, as the workers everywhere are taking their Easter holiday. Troop reinforcements are constantly arriving at different points in the riot area, and the government announces that it does not intend to enter into a truce, and that it will also demand the unconditional surrender of the arms and ammunition held by the Communists.

POLICE IN CONTROL.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HALLE (Germany) March 28.—Eisleben is quiet and is under control of the police. Reports from Bitterfield say authorities have suppressed the revolt. The only fighting has been near Sangerhausen where a workmen's armored train was held up and an engagement ensued, a few men being killed or wounded.

The workmen still have the upper hand in Leuna, police showing no intention of attacking them for fear they will fulfill their threat to blow up big factories there.

At Halle the situation is quiet this being due, according to the police, to postponement of the Communist plans, which provided for the capture of the surrounding towns first. The intention then was to march into Halle and gain control of the strategic and industrial center of the province. Police are not yet ready to say the Communist movement has failed, and are nervous over the outlook. Conditions, however, are such it is generally believed the police are in a position to enforce the law.

TAKE HARSH ACTION.

Later in the day Halle was cut off from virtually every line of communication except to Berlin, by the police, who instituted rigorous control of all activities in an effort to check agitation by alleged Russian Bolshevikl who, they say, are numerous here. No telephoning was permitted except in Germany. The streets were ordered cleared by 9 p.m. and no vehicles were permitted to go beyond the city limits.

Congregation in the streets of more than three persons was forbidden and there were wholesale arrests. The Associated Press correspondent and two other American reporters and one Englishman, who had been frequently investigated, were arrested for the second time while entering the security police administration headquarters, where they had been a number of times. They were sent to district police headquarters under guard and examined for three hours.

Their papers were scrutinized for suspected forgeries, their speech was examined for signs of the Russian accent, and their opinions were solicited to show if they had radical sympathies.

When they entered the room, conversing in English, a resplendently uniformed sergeant with monocle, closely clipped hair and upturned mustache, called out sternly: "Speak German here." The correspondents, paying no attention to this order, a young officer appeared and said: "Follow me!"

"Who are you?" was asked, and he replied, tapping his chest, "Here I am. Follow me."

The correspondents followed and were subject to a cross examination regarding other newspaper men reported to have made Bolshevist speeches. Finally they were permitted to proceed when the German authorities were convinced they had no intention to act as agents of the enemy and that they were hat Bolshevist propagandists.

Another arrest occurred as the correspondents were calling on a Communist leader, and caused a long harrangue, during which police authorities attacked the English press as partly responsible for the situation here; because of its antiarmy attitude.

AMERICANS GET BUSY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

COBLENZ, March 28. — A Communist uprising occurred this morning in the American bridgehead area at Montabaur, six miles northeast of Ehrenbreitstein. A riot call was sounded, the provost marshal, and American military police were dispatched to Montabaur to restore order.

It took the twenty men of the American military police only a few minutes after their arrival at Montabaur to put down the disorders. They arrested the leader and confiscated Communist literature.

TRACTS FOR SOLDIERS.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BEUTHEN, March 28. — Communist tracts, emanating from the French Communist party, have made their appearance among the French troops in Upper Silesia. Several persons charged with attempting to incite the troops to support a strike will be tried tomorrow when two Allied courts-martial, one for the Pless and Rybnik districts, and the other for the Beuthen and Kattowitz territory, open session, under the act declaring Upper Silesia in a state of siege.

Death sentences must be submitted to the Allied plebiscite commission for approval, but sentences to fifteen years at hard work may be carried out summarily. The Allied authorities have issued a proclamation prohibiting all persons from appearing on the streets after 10 p.m. under penalty of trial by court-martial.

One man has been arrested following an attack on a British motor convoy, in which several hand grenades were thrown. Three British soldiers and as many civilians were wounded by the exploding grenades. Col. James Cockerell of the British forces, has been nominated as plebiscite controller for Beuthen.

NO REPORT RECEIVED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 28. — Neither the State Department nor the War Department had received late today confirmation of the reported Communistic uprising in the American occupied area in Germany.

It was indicated at the War Department, however, that the object of the presence of the American soldiers is to maintain order.

ATTACK MILD ONE.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, March 28.—No official confirmation has been received in London of the report that thirteen British soldiers had been wounded in an attack by German Communists in Upper Silesia.

The Chronicle representative was informed that on Friday or Saturday, Polish propagandists attacked a military motor lorry, but it appeared to have been a comparatively trivial affair and there were no casualties.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The Supreme Court decided that profits derived from the sale of corporate stock and bonds and capital assets are taxable as income.

Members of the House Ways and Means Committee now believe that it is necessary to retain ad valorem rates of duty in the new tariff law, although the Republicans had expected to return to specific rates ordinarily favored by the party.

Congress in repealing war legislation has blotted out all passport control unless the Attorney-General holds that the repeal act approved March 3 does not apply to incoming aliens.

LENINE TURNED DOWN.

British Labor Party Refuses to Affiliate With Third Internationale.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SOUTHPORT (Eng.) March 28.—The Independent Labor party conference here today, rejected by an overwhelming majority a proposal to accept Lenine's twenty-one conditions for affiliation with the Third Internationale of Moscow. The minority report favored the action of this element may secede from the party.

By the vote today the party has taken a position at variance with the Bolshevik program for the second time defeated the extremist section wishing to affiliate with the Third Internationale. Fifteen branches of the party supported the Moscow conditions, and there were some stormy incidents, but the Moscow proposal was defeated, 521 to 97.

The Independent Labor party is the extreme wing of the Labor party, and today's vote is interesting in connection with Premier Lloyd George's speech accusing the Labor party of Red proclivities.

LONDON, March 28.—Agreement with the principles enunciated by Charles E. Hughes, American Secretary of State, in his reply to overtures for a trade agreement by the Russian Bolshevik government, is expressed by the Daily Mail, in commenting on the situation. The newspaper says the British government's attitude in concluding an agreement for the opening of trade relations with soviet Russia contrasts strikingly with America's decision.

"President Harding," the newspaper says, "distrusts Bolshevik diplomacy and lost no time in rejecting Lenine's overtures. It is certain Great Britain will find herself

"Atmosphere"

When words cannot be found to convey certain intangible or subtle ideas, the national advertiser turns to the artist.

The artist may be necessary for involved technical illustration, but his highest value is in creating "the proper atmosphere."

In the absence of a Charles Dickens, words may be lacking to convey the eager relish that Cushman Parker brings to you through the faces of delighted children.

The grace and elegance of a certain silverware may not be easily expounded, but Franklin Booth creates for it an atmosphere that is compelling.

There is a world of opportunity as yet unrealized in the art of advertising.

When you start—start right. The cost of the very best artist is so infinitely small, divided among so many readers as to be wholly negligible; while the effectiveness and profit in each case, multiplied by millions of readers, is enormous.

OMEN'S STYLES SHOWN BY DOLLS

ller Dresses 185 Showing Costumes Since Rome.

ered More Than Six Years on Collection.

dy's Hats Also Have Been Given Attention.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NTSFIELD (Mass.) March 28. ions in woman's wear for the 1920 years, from the abundant of the Roman patrician to the ivolated skirts of today, are represented on 185 dolls dressed by Charles S. Wright of this city. rk was begun on the unique collection of mannequins more than six ars ago, after months of study of ticulated prints portraying ion of different periods. It is id to be one of the best of its e in the world.

In a specially furnished room ntains of the dark ages contemn belles of the Renaissance and ghtly debutantes of our ante ellum and modern days. Eve also s a place in the fashion review, merely as an example of how ey make the woman.

DRESS UNCHANGED.

One of the most interesting costumes is that of a fisherwoman from the Firth of Forth. Tailored suits with peek-a-boo waists have had no effect on the hardy Scots who live on the shores of the sea, for their dress method has remained unchanged for 100 years.

Dolls in American styles are illustrated by eight waxen-faced ladies, starting with the street dress of 1850. In this display are a afternoon frock of 1857, a calling costume of 1869, a ball gowns of 1870 and spring year of 1869. The Empress of 1910 stands haughtily erect in the extremely tight skirt of that year.

Soldiers in dazzling costumes are on view, Japanese, from the time of their introduction to the western world. Several sacred, brown-faced dolls present a complete picture of feminine Japan's armor of conquest in rich brocades and satins. A large group of Chinese mannequins, arrayed in rich silk fabric, peep from beneath their ornate oriental sunshades.

STYLES IN HATS.

Hats have received particular attention in the collection. There are several headgear popular in the year 1 A. D., the monster mitre hats and the scarlet hoods with clusters of grapes dressed high against the supporting heart-shaped device.

In analyzing the various styles, Miss Wright, who is an author and wife of the District Attorney of Berkshire and Hampden counties, says: "Women of all ages, apparently have an eye for the material and more than to cut the world over.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL REQUESTS INFORMATION FROM ORGANIZATIONS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MANILA (P. I.) March 28.—The assembling of data for information of the Wood-Forbes mission, due here early in May, has been started by Acting Gov.-Gen. Charles E. Yeater in accordance with instructions from Washington. The executive has asked the Chamber of Commerce and other trade organizations to prepare statements on conditions in the Philippines, which will be submitted to the mission upon its arrival here.

Representatives from two of the universities, leading educators and residents of the Philippines also have been requested to be ready to present views on conditions in the islands.

The commission, during its two months' investigation, it has been indicated, will hear testimony of a large number of individuals including Filipinos and Americans, in addition to receiving written statements from many organizations.

POLICEMAN IS SHOT FOR OFFERING HELP.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 28. — Policeman Laurel Grant of the Filmore-street station was shot and probably fatally wounded by Robert Cook, an employee of the Metropolitan Elevated Company, last night, on a crowded elevated train. The shooting is said to have followed an attempt by the policeman to assist Cook to his feet after he had fallen into the aisle.

According to witnesses, Cook abused the policeman when he offered aid, reached into the officer's pocket, and, taking his pistol, shot him in the abdomen. Grant then snatched the gun from the other man's hand and fired a bullet into his leg. The train was stopped at the Laramie-street station and the men were taken to the County Hospital.

FAST TRAINS TO STAY. SANTA FE STATEMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Published reports from Albuquerque, N. M., that the Santa Fe Railroad Company is to take off its trains number 19 and 20, operating between San Francisco and Chicago, were denied by the company's officials here today.

The trains are the San Francisco Flyer and the Chicago Limited, and bookings have been accepted for two months ahead, the officials said.

SHIPBUILDING ACTION DISMISSED BY COURT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, March 28. — Action brought by the Slaon Shipyards Corporation and tributary companies against the United States Emergency Fleet Corporation for $3,200,000, alleged to be due as a result of war-time shipbuilding contracts, was dismissed by Federal Judge Jeremiah Neterer today. Judge Neterer held that he was without jurisdiction in the case, which, he said, should go to the Court of Claims.

TARIFF IS GIVEN PREMIER PLACE.

Farmers Get Right of Way in Congress.

House Intends to Pass Bill on First Day.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The law of the Medes and Persians was no more immutable than was the determination of Congressional leaders to put through the tariff and taxation program in the form in which it was tentatively announced last week. This means that the various financial measures will be taken up in the following order: Emergency tariff, "antidumping," American valuation, permanent tariff and taxation acts.

"Yes, that program stands," said Chairman Fordney of the House Ways and Means Committee, in reply to a question. "All talk of change in it is beside the mark. President Harding has indorsed it, and it is going through. We will tackle taxation when the rest is out of the way."

All the present indications are that Chairman Fordney is correct and that the program as outlined will be pressed. Even Nicholas Longworth, who would like to have seen some other disposition made, is reconciled to the arrangement. So is Frank W. Mondell, the Republican floor leader, who, like Longworth, found himself in the minority and has made the best of it.

HARDING IN FAVOR.

Mr. Harding has expressed himself in favor of the program and, moreover, it has wide support in a Cabinet which includes even such nonpoliticians as Herbert Hoover.

Politics, however, in both a broad and a narrow sense, has determined this program. It is recognized that there are two groups from which pressure is going to be brought to bear on Congress, the great farming community and the great commercial interests. The farmers want the emergency tariff and it is held that Congress will be "pestered to death" until the farmers get the relief they are asking for. With the emergency tariff out of the way, the commercial interests will be promptly heard from, demanding prompt revision of the tariff law. Members of the administration believe, passage of the emergency tariff will in the end expedite revenue legislation.

ADVOCATES REVISION.

It is understood that Secretary Mellon of the treasury has been a strong advocate of early revision of the tax laws on the special ground that taxation legislation will affect the business of the current year and it is desirable that commercial business interests know exactly where they stand.

It is the present plan of the House to pass the emergency tariff bill on the first day of the session. "Antidumping" and American valuation legislation should not take more than a week or two. House committeemen are already framing the permanent tariff bill. An optimistic forecast would be that they might finish drafting it by May 15 and pass it through the House by June 1. It would then go to the Senate.

MAY BE SIDETRACKED.

Right there is a possible opening for revenue legislation. The Senate takes a long time to thresh over the tariff. While the Senators are airing their tariff views at length the House will draft revenue legislation. Men like Longworth and Mondell, who have been giving this end of the thing attention, already think that taxation legislation can be framed in a couple of weeks and passed through the House fairly promptly. The tax bill thus may get to the Senate before that body has disposed of the tariff bill and if so it will not be at all impossible for the Senate to decide to sidetrack the tariff temporarily to dispose of the revenue bill.

The phase of trade that Mr. Hoover wants to see covered with promptness is the unloading in this country of great stocks of commodities of which we have a surplus. This particularly applies to wool. Argentine and other wool-producing countries are dumping their product in American markets in immense quantities, partly in anticipation of a high tariff and partly because they are able to take profitable advantage of the present abnormal conditions of exchange.

DECLARES INDIAN HAS CONFESSED TO MURDER

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN ANDREAS, March 28.—Sheriff John Cosgrove announced today that Harvey Fisher, an Indian, had confessed to the murder and robbery of Arab Howe at Angels' Camp Friday afternoon. In his confession, Fisher said he entered Howe's cabin to get something to eat and upon being discovered by Howe, who threatened to kill him, he caught up an ax and dashed out Howe's brains and took $32 out of his pocket.

Sheriff Cosgrove discredits Fisher's claim of self-defense and clings to the belief that Fisher waylaid and struck Howe down as the latter approached the cabin as Howe was known to carry large sums of money on his person.

USING PADDED CELL TO HOLD WANTED BOY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EUREKA, March 28.—William Clark, 16 years old, who escaped from the Eureka City Jail Saturday night, was captured today at Scotia. He was locked in a padded cell this time, the police reporting that he attempted to feign insanity.

Robbery of the Fields Landing postoffice, after escape from the Eureka jail, is included in the list of charges pending against him. Others are stealing an automobile at Sacramento, desertion from Mather Field, having government property in his possession, and five burglary charges. He was arrested here on a burglary warrant Thursday.

EXTRADITION IS REFUSED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—After a hearing today Gov. Stephens refused to issue a warrant for the extradition to Chicago from San Francisco of Charles C. Baron, wanted in the Illinois city for alleged wife and child abandonment. Baron contested the request for extradition on the ground of bad faith.

Panama Expected to Resist Edicts of Secretary Hughes

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Panama is expected by Central American diplomats here to exhaust every means of diplomatic resistance before complying, as demanded by Secretary Hughes, with the Panama-Costa Rica boundary award made by Chief Justice White.

The Panama Assembly met today to discuss the Hughes note, and diplomats here said unofficial cable reports indicated that the first move would be to authorize President Porras to protest further against ceding the disputed territory to Costa Rica.

They looked for a vote of confidence in the administration to this end. Should President Porras receive such support, his reply to the American note, it was said, probably would take issue with the American contention that the boundary controversy was settled by the White award.

Nature-Faking Story Vouched for by Mayor

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WHITE SALMON (Wash.) March 28.—Mayor G. C. Crow said today that he believed the cow that jumped over the moon had little in altitudinous achievement to boast of over a certain hen of his flock. For several days members of his family had heard this hen cackling forth her lay, but nobody could find her nest. Finally, she was seen to fly down from a tall fir tree near the Mayor's house. A neighbor boy was persuaded to climb the tree. Forty feet above the ground, in an abandoned squirrel's nest, he found six fine hen's eggs. All but one were taken away and since then the hen continues to lay an egg daily in her lofty retreat.

CHESTERTON GIVES HAMON CASE VIEWS.

SAYS HE WOULD HAVE HAD OIL MAN KILL CLARA; MAKES BETTER PLOT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—"Clara Smith Hamon did not face trial for murdering Jake L. Hamon, millionaire oil man and politician," said Gilbert K. Chesterton, English author, today in giving his impressions of the case.

"A jury man told me," explained Chesterton, "that what they had to decide was 'should Hamon have gone?' The answer being another interrogation, 'Was Clara the best instrumentality?'"

"The lure of a fine plot drew me to Ardmore, Okla.," declared the author. "The amazing mysteries of American jurisprudence and a persistent oil stock salesman held me there till the trial was concluded. I bought some oil stock. All's well."

"In England," sighed Chesterton, "we would have been reluctantly forced to hang the young woman. Which scores a point for the humanizing properties of American legal procedure.

"The homicide rate in England is disgustingly low for a hard-working detective-story writer in search of a plot from real life. There are no plots in their murders. They are just killings."

Chesterton said if he had written the plot he would have had Hamon kill Clara so that he could have had the pleasure of fastening the crime on the guilty party.

Found a Cure for Indigestion.

"I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for indigestion and find they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried, and I have used many different medicines. I am nearly 51 years of age and have suffered a great deal from indigestion. I can eat almost anything I want to now," writes George W. Emory, Rock Mills, Ala. These tablets contain no pepsin, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to digest the food naturally.—[Advertisement.

Hair and Scalp Ailments Solved By Science

A Hair Specialist Is of as Much Importance as Your Doctor or Dentist.

Prof. John H. Austin, well-known hair and scalp specialist of Chicago, says that it useless to try to cure dandruff, falling hair, oily hair, baldness, or any other hair or scalp trouble with ordinary dandruff cures, mange cures, hair tonics or vaseline—in fact, it is just like taking medicine withot knowing what you are trying to cure.

When you stop to think that there are many conditions of the hair and scalp, and that nearly all require different treatment, different remedies, it is easily understood that only a specialist can advise what to do.

The roots of the hair must be examined with a powerful microscope—the exact cause of each particular trouble must be determined before the case can be intelligently treated.

Professor Austin, over 40 years' experience, has been with Hamburger's the past six years—during this time thousands of men and women have remedied their hair and scalp troubles; in many instances new hair has been grown on bald patches, and baldness arrested.

Free microscopic examinations of the hair and scalp daily. Both men and women invited. Hours 10 to 12, and 2 to 4—Private Office, Second Floor Hamburger's.—[Advertisement.

BLACKMAIL, SAYS CAMERON

Arizona Senator Declares He Will Fight Alienation Suit to Finish.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Senator Cameron of Arizona not only denies the accusation against him in the $100,000 suit brought by Edward T. McFarlin of Boston for alleged alienation of his wife's affections, but characterizes the suit as a blackmailing attempt to discredit him as he is entering the Senate.

"I hesitate to employ strong language where a woman is concerned," said Senator Cameron, "but since I have been attacked unfairly and unjustly, I feel I owe it to my family and to my friends to make my position so clear that there will be no misunderstanding as to where I stand.

MET ON TRAIN.

"I first met Mrs. Margaret T. Worcester McFarlin in the observation car of the Oveland Limited in 1912 when I was on my way from Arizona to Washington. She and I were but two of several who met casually as it is not unusual for those traveling together for three days between the Pacific Coast and Chicago to do.

"She was not then married to McFarlin. I have met her but twice since. I have met her husband, McFarlin but once, and that was in Boston after they were married.

"Papers in the case were first filed in 1915 or five years ago. Although I have spent much time in New York city on business during that time always stopping at the Waldorf, and although my movements were well known to my friends and acquaintances in that city, no effort was ever made to serve a subpoena upon me nor was one served until two or three nights ago when it was handed to me as I was coming out of my office here.

EFFORT TO INJURE.

"Now that I have become a United States Senator, those behind this ridiculous suit have evidently decided to attack me in the hope of injuring me by giving me widespread publicity to the absurd charges made by them.

"I am not afraid of these charges any more than I am of my political enemies. I have been accustomed to hard fighting all my life and I am prepared to fight this suit now with both fists, fearlessly and in the open, knowing as I do and as my friends do that the accusations of McFarlin are untrue, unjust, ridiculous and above everything else, a blackmailing attempt to discredit me just as I have taken my seat in the United States Senate."

Senator Cameron's son, a young man of 26 or 27 years, is standing by his father. He was in the office when the Senator gave out his statement.

SUIT AGAINST RICE COMPANY DISMISSED.

PROSECUTOR STATES ASSOCIATION HAS DESISTED FROM HOARDING.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—The suit of G. Amsinck & Co., importers and exporters, to dissolve the Pacific Rice Growers' Association for alleged hoarding and conspiracy to restrain trade, was dismissed in the United States District Court today upon motion of the Amsinck company. The company stated that the association had desisted from its alleged objectionable practices.

The action was originally against the association and a number of San Francisco and Sacramento county banks were accused of overloaning to association members. The original complaint was dismissed with leave to amend, the court holding that it was not specific enough. Today's ruling terminates all phases of the action. The company had charged that as an independent concern it had found it impossible to contract for sufficient quantities of California rice to meet its demands because of wholesale hoarding and market manipulation.

CHINESE IN BAY CITY DIE IN PISTOL DUEL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Jew Jung and Lam Jow, Chinese, were killed in a pistol duel today and the police are unable to determine whether it was a tong or a personal affray. Jew Jung is a Hop Sing Tong member, while Lam Jow is a member of the Lee family, which the police say is not a tong.

The men met on the stairs of a boarding-house and evidently opened fire simultaneously. Their weapons were found beside them. Near by was a sign:

"Strangers keep out of this hallway. It is dangerous."

NEVADA TO EXECUTE CONDEMNED BY GAS.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL SUBSTITUTING LETHAL FLUID FOR ROPE OR GUN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CARSON CITY (Nev.) March 28. A bill providing for the use of lethal gas in executing the death penalty in Nevada was signed here today by Gov. Boyle.

Nevada is the first State in the Union to provide for the use of gas in inflicting capital punishment. Under the old law condemned prisoners could choose between hanging and shooting.

Under the present act the death warrant must designate the week in which the execution will take place. It must not be less than sixty nor more than ninety days from date of sentence. A suitable cell for inflicting the penalty will be provided, and the warden, a competent physician and six other persons at least 21 years old must witness the execution.

The bill gave no details concerning the cell, but it is understood it is intended to be airtight, fitted with windows of thick glass and equipped with valves which will regulate circulation of air.

It is planned to use the gas when the condemned man is asleep, the lethal gas being forced into the cell through special valves.

ARREST FRUSTRATES CITY HALL ROBBERY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—An attempt to hold up the cashier in the Recorder's office in the City Hall here was frustrated late today when police arrested Rinini Giometti.

Police said the man applied at the cashier's window, exhibited two medals which he said he had won while serving with the Italian army in the World War, and demanded that the cashier "come through with the coin."

ARIZONA MINES TO CLOSE DOWN.

Absence of Markets and Huge Stocks the Cause.

Action Was Held Off Until Really Forced.

Travel Californiaward Now is Appearing.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

GLOBE (Ariz.) March 28.—Suspension of operations at the Old Dominion mines and reductions works has followed several days of consideration of the move by President Charles S. Smith, who also heads the Arizona Commercial Company, with local mine officials. About half of the Old Dominion stock is held by the Phelps-Dodge Corporation, from which is understood to have come approval of the move.

The main point against closure lay in the fact that it would scatter a force of exceptionally capable and loyal employees, many of whom have been working for the company for a score or more years. Then, there will have to be the large expense of maintenance of pumping, for the Old Dominion is one of the wettest of Arizona. This year, however, the volume of water raised is somewhat less than usual, compared with the volume in former years from the same levels.

There has been no sale of the copper produced. In the Globe-Miami district the copper on hand exceeds 60,000,000 pounds, valued at $7,500,000, even at depreciated valuation.

The ore reserves are reported to be the largest ever known in either property, development work having been pushed in the absence of market for the product of the furnaces. The decision to close is a severe blow to the district, in which the mines had dropped fully half the men employed in more prosperous years. In the Old Dominion about 600 will be affected. The Commercial closed down several months ago and the near-by Iron Cap also has suspended work.

Adjoining the the Old Dominion on the north is the New Dominion, lately visited by President E. Walter Mitchell of New York and a party of stockholders. Development work is to be prosecuted to greater depths.

Notice has been given that the asbestos lands on the Apache reservation will be open for location after April 15. All who enter the reservation for mining purposes before the date set will be arrested for trespass.

TRAVEL OUT EARLY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) March 28.—Tourist travel toward California already is appearing, though the roads are not yet good and the summer time still is distant. Most of the travel is being diverted around by the south from Albuquerque. Preparations are being made for much work on the main highway both east and west of this point. This year an alternative road will be open to travel eastward, via Gallup, or by the usual and longer route via St. Johns and Springerville.

Westward, in Mohave county, there is to be early completion of the Oatman-Topock road, covering a stretch that hitherto has been one of the worst on the transcontinental journey. The way through the Oatman section has been put in the best of shape. Mining developments north of Oatman have caused betterment of the Union Pass Road, over which, from Kingman, is reached the Katherine section. Heavy grades have been eliminated.

To the northward better roads are being built into the Hopi and Navajo reservations. Winslow is to be the transfer point for Indian supplies, instead of Holbrook, and a new road is to be built from Winslow to Keam's Canyon.

Grand Canyon traffic before long is to be handled over a new thoroughfare, with practical abandonment of the roads northward from Williams and Flagstaff. The new way will branch from the main highway about midway between the two towns and will follow a route declared especially well favored naturally, with water available and with much scenic attraction.

MAIL-ORDER DIVIDEND PASSED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 28.—Sears, Roebuck & Co., through its board of directors, today passed the usual quarterly dividend on its common stock. The company attributed the action to slack business.

CITY LOT IS MAN'S CRYPT.

Discovery is Made Through Visit of Woman.

Body Not Identified; Marks Are Missing.

Police Hunt for Visitor to Odd Tomb.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 28.—A death mystery, involving the clandestine midnight visit of a woman to a sidewalk crypt, was disclosed early this morning with the finding of a man's body at 947 West North avenue. The police are seeking the woman. The man has not been identified.

Walter Jonas, watchman at the Budlong pickle factory, was making his rounds at 11:50 o'clock when he saw a slender, well-dressed woman enter an alley.

He followed her. She went to a small vacant lot and walked rapidly toward the sidewalk, which is elevated about ten feet above the lot.

Jonas saw her stoop and scrape away a quantity of cinders and stones from the base of the embankment. Then she crawled in. He waited until she had disappeared, then hurried in search of the policeman on the beat, Edward Sullivan.

The search consumed fifteen minutes. Then Sullivan, armed with a flashlight, entered the hole. He saw a body and concluded it was that of the woman. He immediately notified the East Chicago-avenue police station.

The body was that of a man. No trace of the woman was obtained. The man's head rested on a parcel of men's underwear. He had been dead about two months. He was about 35 years old, five feet eight inches in height and weighed 200 pounds.

There was nothing to identify him in the way of clothing marks. His underwear bore the laundry mark "748-R." A pair of rosary beads was gripped in his right hand.

MACHINISTS' UNION REPRESENTS MEXICO.

ORGANIZATION TO BE NATION'S COMMERCIAL REPRESENTATIVE HERE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The International Association of Machinists, under an agreement just reached, has been named commercial representative of the Mexican government in this country, it was announced today. The organization will act as official adviser to the Mexican government, which binds itself to use products of union shops in establishments under its control.

An active market exists in Mexico, according to Secretary E. C. Davison of the machinists, for farm machinery and standard railroad equipment. The policy of his office, he said, would be to assist manufacturers who use organized labor in placing orders with Mexico.

It is understood the Mt. Vernon Savings Bank, controlled by the machinists' association, will be utilized for financing operations. Negotiations looking to a similar appointment of the association by the present Russian government is understood to have been inaugurated.

PLANES OFF TODAY ON SEA-LAND TRIP.

MARINE CORPS TO ATTEMPT 2759-MILE FLIGHT TO THE VIRGIN ISLANDS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Two airplanes, piloted by Marine Corps personnel, will leave Bolling Field tomorrow for a 2759-mile flight to St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, as a demonstration of the adaptability of land-type aircraft for combination land and water flying and to map the route.

TACOMA (Wash.) March 28.—Three airplanes from Mather Field, Sacramento, Cal., were being tuned up today for survey trips over the devastated forest area on the Olympic Peninsula, where damage estimated at $100,000,000 was done by a hurricane last January. Camp Lewis will probably be the base of operations, during which each machine will cover about 400 miles daily for three weeks, making photographs and maps.

MINES OF MEXICO SOON WILL RESUME.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MONTEREY (Mex.) March 28.—According to information that has reached here, the Avino Mines Company, an English corporation, which invested several million dollars in the Avino district, State of Durango, plans to resume operations as soon as the necessary rehabilitation work can be done. The mines and mills of the company have been closed down for several years. They are reported to have suffered much damage at the hands of revolutionists and bandits.

In the Vetagrade district, State of Zacatecas, Fred Weber will resume operation of several mines. The Nuevo Refugio group at Vetagrade is to be developed by Manuel Bescosse, who recently obtained title to the property. Announcement is made that the two groups of mines owned by the Cartagena Mining Company in the Vetagrade district are to be sold at auction. These properties have produced considerable quantities of rich ore.

SMELTING COMPANY PASSES DIVIDEND.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BOSTON, March 28.—The United States Smelting and Refining Company today passed the quarterly dividend on its common stock. The last dividend declared in January was 50 cents a share.

Directors of the Puente Alegre Sugar Company today voted to reduce the quarterly dividend from $2 to $1.25 a share. This action restores the rate that prevailed prior to last October. No statement was made as to the reason for the reduction.

TRACK SEASON NEARS CLIMAX.

City Meet Brings the Preps Together Friday.

Lincoln Speeders Favored to Snatch the Honors.

Believed That Many Records Are Due to Tumble.

BY LEEPSON BOWNES.

The cinder scattering season as far as prepdom is concerned hits its high-water mark on Friday afternoon when the city high schools mingle on the fast Occidental College oval in the annual city meet. It always a wildly exciting struggle the meet this year promises to be even more blood-curdling than usual and numerous preps and preppettes will have their tonsils in a sling for several days after screeching at the meet Friday.

STRONG FAVORITES.

Jimmy Davis and his undefeated aggregation of Lincoln High spacemanipulators enter the contest strong favorites because of a season of unbroken success. But such meets are not always won by the team which loom strongest in dual contests and a team with three or four one-fire stars frequently upsets the dope.

One thing seems certain and that is that numerous city meet records are sure to be eased into the discard. Coach Sid Foster has been a committee of one investigating records in the city meets held ever since the beginning of such affairs and his compilation of records made these contests leaves room for several new marks. Half a dozen of the existing records have already been shaded in dual meets and, as the same men will be competing in the city meet, seem most likely to fall by the wayside.

HURDLE RECORDS.

Those who have been following the prep track season most closely feel that the hurdles are certain to be productive of new records. Huss of Lincoln and Laney of Manual both skidded over the high sticks in 16 flat this season, which is three-fifths of a second under the existing digits. In the low hurdles the same pair and Steans of Manual Training performed close to the present mark of 26 flat.

The warmth of the competition and the acknowledged speed of the Occidental oval should combine to bring out everything that the wiry legs of the contestants can accomplish and it is not going too far to expect new marks in both stick events. Then the struggles in the 100 and mile are likewise liable to result in records. Young Mr. Irving Thomas of Manual will be up against Bengal of Lincoln, Holland of Hollywood and Holcomb of Los Angeles in the shorter race, while in the mile will meet Marvin of Lincoln, Measelbee of Hollywood and Holcomb of Los Angeles again.

Following are the existing city meet records:

[illegible] dash—10 1-5s, Paddock (Pas.) 1918; [illegible] (M.A.) 1920.
[illegible] dash, 22 4-5s, Redman (M.A.) 1920.
[illegible] dash, 52 3-5s, Schiller (Poly.) 1918.
[illegible] run—4m. 41-5s., Sampson (M.A.)
[illegible] run—4m. 42s., A. Scoral (M.A.) 1920.
[illegible] hurdles—16 2-5s., R. Lamport (M.A.) Leighton Dye (M.A.) 1920.
[illegible] hurdles—26s., H. Lamport (M.A.)
[illegible] run—11m. 29s., Maurer (M.A.) 1918.
[illegible] run—11m. 9 3-4s., Boyle (M.A.) 1919.
[illegible] jump—5ft. 9in., Scrocrbox (L.) 1920; [illegible] Bonbright (L.A.) 1920.
[illegible] vault—12ft., Omer Davis (Poly.) 1917.

A Pair of Railsplitters Sliding Over the High Hurdles.

Two Favorites.

Harold Boles (left) and Jack Huston, the nifty Lincoln High hurdlers who are expected to place in the city meet at Occidental on Friday afternoon. Huston is favorite to grab the title in both hurdle events in record time.

WOMEN'S DRIVING CONTEST

Motor Car Dealers' Association to Stage Event at Exposition Park.

Keen interest has been aroused all over Southern California in the women's driving contest that is to be staged Saturday, April 9, at Exposition Park under the auspices of the Motor Car Dealers' Association of this city. The contest, which will be limited to one driver from each line represented by members of the dealers' organization, will begin at 10 o'clock and will be a "three ring" affair in order that it may be facilitated as much as possible.

The committee in charge of this detail of "The Call of the Open Road" week of April 4-9, has been fortunate in securing the following who will act as judges of the event: Capt. James McDowell, head of the traffic squad of the police department; Fred Wagner, the well-known starter of the American Automobile Association, who officiates at national speed events, and E. B. Leferts of the National Safety League and who is now in Los Angeles co-operating with the Chamber of Commerce and the Automobile Club of Southern California, in a campaign to reduce accidents.

It is the purpose of the test to display the contestant's ability to control her car under conditions of ordinary city traffic and also to demonstrate her knowledge of such matters as turning, stopping, parking under varying circumstances, passing other cars, negotiating corners, brake control, reversing, etc.

One hundred points will constitute a perfect score. Fifty points will be devoted to the driving test, twenty-five to knowledge of rules of the road and twenty-five to motoring poise and appearance. General knowledge of rules of the road will include knowledge of standard speed limits, lights and their regulation, right of way, control of car at street intersections and railroad crossings etc. Knowledge of the operating mechanism of the car will be included in the driving contest. Motoring appearance will be based on proper handling of the wheel, driving position, use of the hand in signaling, etc. Prizes will be automobile accessories suitable for a round championship event. women.

VARSITY CREWS TO RACE ON APRIL 9.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) March 28.—Two University of Washington crews, varsity and freshmen, are scheduled to leave here tomorrow night for Oakland, Cal., where they will race University of California boats on April 9.

Washington's varsity probably will be sent to the national intercollegiate rowing regatta at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., this summer, if it wins from California. It is believed the California oarsmen will go East if they defeat Washington.

Ed Leader, Washington crew coach, is none too optimistic about Washington's chances at Oakland. Bad weather has kept the varsity eight from some of its training work and reports have come north that California will have one of the strongest varsity crews in its history.

MRS. CHAPMAN IS WINNER AT GOLF.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PINEHURST (N. C.) March 28.—There was one upset today in the second round of the woman's North and South golf championship tournament when Mrs. J. D. Chapman of Greenwich defeated Miss Sarah Fownes of Pittsburg, on the home green.

Mrs. Dorothy C. Hurd of Pittsburg, present titleholder, defeated Mrs. Hope Gibson of Canada, two and one. Mrs. J. S. Pritchard of Chicago, former western champion, and Mrs. F. C. Letts, Jr., of Chicago, present western champion, were the only other players to win their way to the semifinals.

COACH FISHER LIKES LOOKS OF HIS TEAM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) March 28. Head Coach Robert Fisher surveyed the prospects for the Harvard football eleven next fall, when spring practice for the gridiron squad began today. He found a likely backfield in the making, but a line full of holes. Of the fifty men who reported for the three weeks' drill, most were candidates for line positions, and Fisher said he would devote much of his time to them.

The Crimson spring season this year is starting later and will be shorter than usual.

NAVAL ACADEMY WILL BE IN RELAY CARNIVAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 28. — Announcement was made today that the naval academy would be represented at the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival here on April 29 and 30. It is the first time a Navy track team has been given permission to compete away from home. The middies will enter the distance medley relay, the two-mile college relay, discus and javelin throws and the pentathlon, or all-

MISS WOODBRIDGE IS CHAMP SWIMMER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT, March 28. — Margaret Woodbridge, Detroit Athletic Club, won the A.A.U. 500-yard free-style swimming championship for women last night in a close contest with Charlotte Boyle of Brooklyn. The time was 7m. 33 4-5s.

In a special match race at 220 yards, Norman Ross, Chicago, won from George Vernot, Montreal. Ross's time was 2m. 27s.

WAITING TO SEE SPEED DEMON RUN.

Electrical Timing Device Will Give Accurate Dope on All the Athletes.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 28.—Particular interest is being shown here in the appearance tomorrow of Charles W. Paddock, star sprinter of the University of Southern California, in a meet that between that institution and the Cardinals. Paddock's newly achieved marks of 9 3-5s. for the 100-yard dash, and 20 1-5s. for the furlong confirm him as the world's premier sprinter and the biggest crowd that ever attended a meet on the local oval—barring the annual Stanford-California contests—is expected.

Paddock will be given stiff competition by Morris Kirksey, Stanford captain, who has always given the Southerner his warmest battles, and it is hoped here that the Cardinal flyer will press the stubby Pasadena sprinter even closer than Red Hutchinson of California did last Saturday. The races will all be timed by the new electrical-timing device, so that there will be no question as to the actual clocking in case of a new record.

When Stanford and U.S.C. met at Los Angeles about ten days ago the Southerners gave the Cardinals a very close contest, being defeated by only ten points. On the local campus and with Kirksey competing in both sprints the score should be larger. The showing of Gwynn Wilson, U.S.C. half-miler, against Sprott and Saunders at Berkeley on Saturday, however, makes it unlikely that he will again finish third to the Stanford runners tomorrow as he did at Los Angeles.

PORTLAND STAGES BIKE RACES MAY 29.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 28.—Motorcycle races in which there will be entries from cities of Oregon, Washington and California, will be held here May 29 and 30. The races, which will be at the Rose City speedway, will be held under the auspices of the Daddies Club, an organization of fathers of soldiers and sailors formed during the war.

Otto Walker, holder of several world's championship records, has been announced as a participant in the program. Other noted riders will be among the racers to compete with Walker, it is announced.

A feature will be a race for a special prize between Portland police motorcycle officers and a team from the forces of the Sheriff of Multnomah county.

ZORK AND FRANKLIN DENY THE CHARGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) March 28, — Carl Zork and Ben Franklin, St. Louisans, indicted in connection with the baseball scandal, and charged with being organizers of an alleged plot to throw the 1919 series, in a statement made a general denial of the charges. They explained their part in making wagers on the series and said they would go to Chicago this week and furnish $40,000 bond.

Zork is head of a shirt waist factory and Franklin is a horse dealer.

ZBYSZKO MATCHED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 28.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, heavyweight wrestler, and John Pesek of Nebraska, today were matched to meet here in a finish match April 13. On the same date Ed (Strangler) Lewis, world's champion, will meet either Jim Londos or Renato Gardini.

LONG BEACH VICTORS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DINUBA (Cal.) March 28.—After a hard-fought game here yesterday afternoon, the Long Beach basketball team defeated the Dinuba team, 44 to 24. This game was played for the State championship by these

LONG RUBS IT IN GOOD ON HUGHIE

Tommy's Yannigans go into Lead in Series; Dell and Mitchell Heave Niftily.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Tommy Long's yannigans went into the lead yesterday at Maier Park in the current series, defeating the High, 10 to 0. It was the first time Hughie's hopefuls were so badly walloped since suburbs were invented. Slim Love and Shore mounded for High and it is now rumored that Tommy snaked both of them.

Hughie hinted after the catastrophe that he had a shrewd suspicion that neither Love nor Shore screwed down the grease cups on Saturday, however, it is more likely that he will again finish third to the Stanford runners tomorrow as he did at Los Angeles.

Otto Walker, holder of several world's championship records, has been announced as a participant in the program. Other noted riders will be among the racers to compete with Walker, it is announced.

NORTHERNERS BOX TONIGHT.

Dundee Takes on Joe Coffey at Doyle's Pavilion.

Young George Meets Holley in Semiwindup.

Seven Good Bouts Carded for the Fistic Bugs.

Jimmy Dundee of Oakland and Joe Coffey of San Francisco will meet in the main event at the Vernon arena tonight. Both boys have appeared here in the last two weeks, Dundee being beaten by Joe Fisher and Coffey coming along a week later and walloping the sailor.

Coffey and Dundee figure as two of the best 128-pounders on the Coast. Each has beaten some good boys and there are very few defeats charged up against them.

GEORGE-HOLLEY.

Young George and Buck Holley are due to tangle in the semiwindup. Holley has boxed a number of bouts at Vernon. His most impressive showing was when he took a clean-cut decision from George more than a year ago.

Sailor Ritter and Kid Mexico, a couple of heavy-hitting middleweights, will meet in the feature preliminary.

Other bouts scheduled are: Benny Vierra vs. Sammy Good, 128 pounds; Kid Mende vs. Eddie Macy, 118 pounds; Kid Layman vs. Sailor Mickey Gray, 126 pounds, and George Wells vs. Frankie Murphy, 122 pounds.

ARNOLD BROTHERS LEAD AT BOWLING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BUFFALO (N. Y.) March 28.—Bowling in the two-man and individual events of the American Bowling Congress tournament today was devoid of any scores high enough to win a place among the ten leaders.

The leaders in the tournament standing today were:

Five-man events—A. H. Arnold and Brothers, Chicago, 3047.

Fleming Furniture Company, Cleveland, 2961.

Lincoln Life Insurance, Fort Wayne, Ind., 2936.

Two-man events: O. Kallusch—A. Schiemen, Rochester, 1314.

C. North—S. Knoche, Madison, Wis., 1294.

W. Pieper—A. Broell, Milwaukee, 1291.

Individual event: Fred Smith, Detroit, 702.

Frank Snyder, Erie, 686.

All events—A. Schiemen, Rochester, 1909.

Fred Smith, Detroit, 1889.

O. Kallusch, Rochester, 1887.

STUDEBAKER BREAKS WINDOW THIS TIME.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, March 28.—Mrs. H. D. Johnson stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake of her big Studebaker car last night and drove the auto through the plate-glass front of the Royal Ice Cream Company store and into the place, injuring two people seated at the tables. Mrs. J. R. Lopez and Theodore A. Stiquel, the injured people, were taken to the Emergency Hospital, but neither was seriously injured.

Mrs. Johnson herself was uninjured though the glass of the window of the store was broken into a million pieces as the car crashed through. The car itself was not badly damaged. A number of sailors were in the ice cream place at the time, but scattered in time to avoid the car. Chairs and tables were broken by the impact.

NEVADA OUT WITH BIG FIGHT OFFER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Mrch 28.—Two new offers of sites for the Dempsey-Carpentier heavyweight championship were made to Promoter Tex Rickard today. One came from a Nevada silver mining camp and guaranteed the promoter $800,000 if he would stage the contest there July 4. The other was presented by representatives of a London syndicate and included a $600,000 offer for the bout if it could be held in the Olympiad during Derby week.

Rickard said that a decision might be expected this week.

It was learned, however, that Rickard has no intention of holding the match in any isolated section if a site near the metropolis is available.

QUAKERS HANG ONE ON STANDARD OIL.

Whittier College sprang onto the baseball map yesterday afternoon when its varsity squad downed the Standard Oil team of the Quaker City, 16 to 3. Pickett pitched an excellent game for the collegians and let the oilmen down with four hits.

| The score: | R. | H. | E. |
| Whittier College | 16 | 15 | 3 |
| Standard Oil | 3 | 4 | 5 |

"LONE STAR" DIETZ TO COACH PURDUE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LAFAYETTE (Ind.) March 28.—Announcement was made today that William H. Dietz, former Carlisle football star and former Washington State coach, had been signed as football coach for Purdue.

DUFFY BARRED FROM BOXING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 28.—Jimmy Duffy, Oakland welterweight, who was scheduled to meet Dave Shade in a ten-round bout at Milwaukee next Wednesday night, was today barred from boxing for one year by the Milwaukee Boxing Commission because he had refused to go ahead with the match, according to Frank Kendall, matchmaker of the commission.

Giants Tackle L.A. White Sox Again Today.

With the White Sox having already won two games, Alexander's Giants are more determined than ever to trim "Doc" Anderson's outfit this afternoon and tomorrow, when the second and third games of the series are played.

The games will be played at Alexander Field, Thirty-second street and Long Beach avenue. This is somewhat of a change from the original plans of the series.

In the games last Saturday and Sunday the two great colored clubs played to capacity crowds and even though the games are on week days this time, large crowds are looked for.

The line-ups for today:

| L.A. WHITE SOX. | | ALEXANDERS GIANTS. | |
| Ward | left field | Pineta | right field |
| Fagan | second base | Carr | first base |
| Ray | catcher | Hill | third base |
| McNair | center field | Blackman | second base |
| Moore | short stop | Fallin | catcher |
| Harkins | first base | Butcher | center field |
| Riddle | third base | Davis | left field |
| Kyle | right field | Parry | short stop |
| Rankin | pitcher | Baugh | pitcher |

JOE LYNCH PUTS IT ON PINCHOT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURG (Pa.) March 28.—Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion of the world, won by a shade from Young Pinchot of Charleroi, Penn., in ten rounds tonight, according to a majority of sport writers. The only knockdown came in the seventh when Lynch sent Pinchot to the canvas for a count of nine. The bout was slow and in the early rounds Pinchot was the aggressor. Lynch took six rounds, Pinchot three, and one was even.

CLINTON IS CHAMP.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BOSTON (Mass.) March 28.—Johnny Clinton took the New England lightweight championship from Jimmy Fruzetti of Brockton in a hair-line decision after ten rounds of fierce fighting here tonight. Clinton played constantly for Fruzetti's body while the latter worked his left successfully to Clinton's face. Clinton's best rounds were the third and sixth.

EDWARDS OUTPOINTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—Joe Gorman of Portland, Or., received the judge's decision over Frank Edwards of New York after a fifteen-round bout in Brooklyn tonight. Gorman weighed 125½ pounds and Edwards 124.

LONG BEACH PREVAILS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERKELEY, March 28. — The Long Beach High School basketball team won the State interscholastic championship tonight by defeating Berkeley High, 21 to 17 here. Long Beach was behind until the last few minutes when three field baskets gave them victory.

MISS ROWE IS MEDAL VICTOR.

Carries Off Golf Honors at Griffith Park.

Is the Only Woman to Finish Under Century.

Miss Berdu is the Winner's Closest Competitor.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Leading the field by ten strokes, Miss Elizabeth Rowe, a product of the municipal links, yesterday won the medal in the qualifying round of the ladies' annual city golf championship at Griffith Park, scoring a neat 90.

Miss Rowe was the lone lady athlete of the twenty who teed off shortly after lunch to finish under the century mark, and can be excused for betraying a certain amount of exultation. Miss Natalie Berdu, with an even 100, was her closest competitor.

ARE DIFFERENT.

But medal play and match play are two different things altogether and there are seven ladies in the first flight who figure that the ultimate victor of the championship flight won't be Miss Rowe. What the latter thinks of the matter is a different story.

The scores as a whole in the qualifying round failed to startle any of the native element congregated on the Griffith Park field house, watching the ladies hole out on the home green. In fact, the male audience appeared to fluster the fair ones as they appeared over the brow of the hill leading to the eighteenth.

IN ALL TINTS.

Many a charmer, decked out in all the tints of the rainbow, reached the last green in three, only to suffer the ignominy of taking four or five putts to make the pesky ball drop. Miss Berdu, for instance, took three shots to sink a four-footer.

On the other hand, there were sensational long putts clear from the very edge of the green, Mrs. H. W. Kidd sinking a beauty after a careful sweeping of the oily surface.

Nearly all the players complained of their inability to approach with any degree of dexterity. Mrs. R. D. Trabue of the greens committee rolled up 104, finding her ball past the green on practically every approach shot. Sun and wind of the past few days have thoroughly dried out the course and it is lightning fast.

SURPRISE PARTY.

One of the surprises of the day was the inability of Mrs. Harvey Myers of Covington, Ky., to make the first flight. She shot 105, being squeezed out by Mrs. Trabue with her one stroke better score. Mrs. Myers is accustomed to grass greens and was unable to accommodate her game to the run-up shots that make scoring easy at Griffith Park. High pitches to the pin were invariably over.

Misfortune trailed Mrs. W. A. Lincoln all over the place. Coming to the eighteenth, she hit a tree a short distance from the green, the ball bounding back, and it took her four strokes to reach the green in position to hole a long one.

Mrs. J. H. DeLorenzi of South Bend, Ind., and Miss Ruth Killiam, late of Berkeley, featured with clever and scintillating approaches to the eighteenth. Here are Miss Rowe's qualifying figures:

| Out: | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Par | 4 | 4 | 4 | 3 | 4 | 4 | 4 | 5 | 36 |
| Miss Rowe | 5 | 5 | 5 | 5 | 5 | 5 | 6 | 6 | 46 |
| In: | | | | | | | | | |
| Par | 3 | 4 | 4 | 4 | 4 | 4 | 5 | 5 | 36 |
| Miss Rowe | 3 | 4 | 4 | 5 | 4 | 4 | 6 | 5 | 44 |

Mrs. D. D. Jones won the low net prize with a 14 handicap on 103, giving her 89. Match play will start this afternoon and on Thursday, when the final are scheduled.

DEUSIES ARE MUCH FASTER.

Racing Cars Said to Have a Lot More Pep.

Fred Deusenberg Returns to Los Angeles.

Jimmy Murphy Says He'll Wallop De Palma.

Fred Deusenberg has his four fast cars ready for the sprint races April 10. The famous designer and his racing machines floated into town yesterday from Oakland, where the engines of his gofasts have been undergoing mysterious and potent alterations, which Fred claims will give them anywhere from five to ten more miles per hour.

FAMILY JAR.

Where all was peace and quiet in the Deusenberg camp a week ago, Ross Deusenberg returns to find his quartette of space annihilators snarling and snapping at each other and emitting terrible threats. Pullen, Earles, Murphy and Thomas are walking around with chips on their shoulders and monkey wrenches in their fists, and the camp has about as much evidence of brotherly love as there is in Russia.

Jimmy Murphy, who has felt rightly that he was the "ace" of the Deusenberg outfit by reason of his consistent winning all last year, seems quite as peevish as Roscoe Earles at the idea that Eddie Pullen is the "hope" of the Deusenberg team to wallop Ralph De Palma. "I beat De Palma in the sprint races at Beverly a year ago, and if my car had been working right would have done it again in February," remarked James, "and if anybody has any idea that they can get on the Deusenberg team and expect the rest of us to make pace for them, they've got another guess coming."

NO LOVE THERE.

If the truth be told, the much-touted Deusenberg esprit de corps is a sadly bedraggled affair. In fact, when Murphy was asked, "Where is the Deusenberg esprit de corps?" he said he thought Fred Deusenberg took it up to Oakland with him to get it fixed or something. Anyhow, each of the Deusenberg team has doped out his own plan of campaign for the April 10 races, and it will be a case of every man for himself.

The Deusies will be put together right away, and will soon be out galloping around the big wood tureen in practice. Just what may be expected of them in the way of speed may be surmised from the statement of Mr. Deusenberg himself to the effect that he expects the cars to develop at least 10 per cent more horsepower than they have previously. Every little horsepower helps when you get up to 105 miles an hour, and the quartet will probably be capable of 110 miles an hour or better.

IN GOOD SHAPE.

Tommy Milton's little car, which pulled him into second place ahead of the whole Deusenberg outfit, is in shape again and even faster than it was on the day that Tom pulled his big surprise. Just what De Palma thinks of all the agitation to relieve him of his crown as sprint champion of the U.S.A. nobody knows. Ralph made his car five miles an hour faster than all the rest for the last race, and seems to think that he can keep it just that far ahead without asking any help or telling anybody what he did to accomplish the feat.

Armed Guards in Manila Strike.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MANILA (P. I.) March 28.—Police armed with riot guns were placed today around all cigar factories affected by the cigarmakers' strike here, following a complaint that a number of workers desiring to return to work were threatened with violence by strikers. Ten thousand men are idle as a result of the strike.

"Jimmie the Flea" Captured.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND, March 28.—Police today arrested, after a chase, E. R. Romaine, who they said was known as "Jimmie the Flea." They said he confessed ten robberies in Portland and that he had served in San Quentin (California) prison.

CLINE IS TAXED WITH STALLING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) Mar. 28.—A scheduled fifteen-round bout between Irish Patsy Cline of Newark and Cal Delaney of Cleveland was stopped in the fifth round tonight, the referee claiming that Cline was stalling.

HOW CASH CAME; WHERE IT GOES.

Fish and Game Commission Makes its Statement.

Supported by Sport, Trappers' Licenses and Fines.

"Preservation Funds" Spent on Wild Life Work.

Fresh from the State Printer comes the Fish and Game Commission's "Biennial Report" detailing its many and varied activities in behalf of the licensed sportsmen whose hunting and angling dollars entirely pay for maintaining our outdoor attractions. Particularly interesting chapters cover scientific study and legal regulation of food fisheries, also made self-supporting by a similar system of licensing this big industry whose growth was the economic sensation of the State during the war.

GOOD INCOME.

During the biennial period ending with last June, the Fish and Game Commission took in, mostly a dollar at a time, over $800,000, about 65 per cent of it the last year. Hunting license was increased, largely by systematic advertising of our outdoor attractions, from $178,837 to $221,433; angling license from $122,080 to $147,724; market license from $46,320 to $50,780. No less than $46,873 was taken from 1707 successful prosecutions of 1891 men arrested for violations of fish and game laws, and 824 days in jail were served. Licensing trappers produced a total of $4971.

Apportionment of expenditures to sources contributing revenue is indicated by $269,769.81 spent on raising and planting 34,000,000 trout and 29,000,000 salmon from sixteen hatcheries and six egg-collecting stations. This is by far the largest turn-off, and was given the broadest distribution ever possible in any two-year period, despite added costs of some $35,000 for hauling fish cars that were handled free until the United States Railroad Administration canceled all passes.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Substantial improvements were made for fish culture: a $25,000 stone hatchery at Lake Tahoe; another splendid plant was turned over to the Fish and Game Commission by the C-O Power Company in lieu of an impracticable fish ladder over their high dam at Copco on the Klamath. Complete renovation of the mother hatchery at Mt. Shasta, proper landscaping of the grounds at Mt. Whitney station commensurate with the very finest trout hatchery in the world have given California both the biggest and the best. Egg-taking and hatching facilities in Big Bear Valley were tripled and extensive creek work done.

General extension and overhauling work held up by excessive building costs during the war was carried forward. Surveys and plans were completed for new hatcheries this year in the western Sierras, Yosemite and Kaweah River. Among other things, the Fish and Game Commission operated what was called the "best public camping ground in the State" on its abandoned hatchery site at Lake Tahoe, equipment and operation costing $3152.98.

WATCHING FISH.

On general fish and game patrol was spent $343,224.09. On commercial fisheries research, regulation, catch statistics and patrol, $151,047.07, including a charge of $22,703.34 for salmon culture based upon the commercial, rather than sporting nature of the species in this State. The new patrol boats Rainbow and Steelhead were put into operation and the other five completely overhauled.

An ideal site was secured from the city of Los Angeles and plans made for investment of $25,000 of the commercial fisheries' accumulated fund in the finest marine biological station in the world, to be built at Fish Harbor, San Pedro, this summer.

NO SALARIES.

The three Fish and Game Commissioners get no salary; their traveling expenses were $2593.55 for attending board meetings, etc. The commission paid bounties upon 467 lions, totaling $11,525. Altogether, this grand total of some $550,000 was expended virtually as a contribution of sportsmen and fisheries interests to the welfare of the general public as expressed in maintenance of its assets in outdoor attractions and food fish, leaving said public to enjoy its role of beneficiary without cost.

BALL GROUNDS FOR CATALINA.

William Wrigley, Jr., to Build a Beautiful Park.

Thirty Bungalettes Are to be Erected for Players.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

AVALON (Catalina Island) March 28.—It was with a big bang that Catalina broke into the world of baseball, and indications are that it intends to stay there. William Wrigley, Jr., today gave out definite plans for what will be one of the finest baseball parks in the country. The grounds are to be laid out by J. J. Dorr, who has charge of this work at the Cubs' Park in Chicago, and is a past master in the art.

The Catalina ball park is to be rolled and leveled, and a grandstand erected which will accommodate 3000 spectators. To make the thing complete, aside from elaborate training quarters for the men, Mr. Wrigley has ordered the construction of thirty bungalettes to house the players and accompanying newspaper men. When completed this promises to be one of the most unique bungalow courts in the Southland.

The entrance to the court will be a huge arch with pergola top, and on each side a row of seats where the boys may gather to swap their yarns. Every Cub player and Chicago sport writer has already been issued an invitation by Mr. Wrigley to occupy one of the bungalettes next season, and these have been accepted with alacrity by the Chicagoans.

AVALON, March 28.—William Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs, and A. D. Lasker, arrived at Catalina today to look over the island as the guests of William Wrigley, Jr. The Cub owner "triumphate" are going over the plans of the magnificent baseball grounds which Mr. Wrigley is having laid out at Catalina for next year's training of the team. Mr. Veeck is especially interested in the novel "ball players' bungalow court" which Mr. Wrigley is erecting for the domestic happiness of the Cubs and accompanying scribes.

KEEN FOR GRID CONTESTS.

Fans Line Up in Scotland to Buy Tickets; Floating Golf Ball Favored.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

EDINBURGH, March 7.—Football enthusiasm is keen in Scotland at the present time. In order to obtain tickets for the international game between England and Scotland a crowd numbering close upon 2000 waited outside the advance ticket booking offices from 4 a.m. on the day of issue to purchase tickets for the grand stand and inclosure. The thermometer registered five degrees of frost at the time.

When the office opened at 9 a.m. tickets for all the available accommodation were sold within thirty minutes and hundreds of intended purchasers had to go away disappointed.

PARIS, March 8.—Theodore Vienne, the best-known boxing promoter in France, and one of the pioneers in the introduction of gloved fisticuffs in Paris, died recently at the age of 57.

Vienne was the owner of the ferris wheel and as early as 1906 organized boxing matches in the large hall used by holiday makers on Sundays as a dance floor. He was the first promoter to give Carpentier an opportunity to fight. When the latter was 12 years of age he paid the future champion of Europe 25 francs for six rounds of boxing.

He promoted the Joe Jeannette-Sam McVey, Carpentier-Joe Jeannette, Johnson-Moran and Carpentier-Billy Papke fights.

Horace G. Hutchinson, writing to a London paper favoring the floating golf ball, says its great merit is that it floats.

"This quality," he continues, gives opportunity for that brave stroke out of water which is not possible when the ball lies in the depths. The merit on which all the recent correspondence has, quite rightly, insisted that a floating ball will not allow itself to be driven, even by a Mr. Tolley, to the huge lengths that those balls will go which recent legislation permits. That is the merit that matters. There are others—as that the lighter ball can be stopped more deadly; the "poached-egg" shot may be restored to the game. Also, it needs more skill for holding up into a side wind and for low driving into a head wind. But above all, it does not so effectively make fools of courses originally laid out for gutta percha balls, and the fun of the game lies in hitting the ball, not in walking a quarter of a mile in order to hit it again."

HAMBURG, March 8.—Oversea week will be celebrated in Hamburg from August 20 to 28 with an international sporting tournament including football matches in which Dutch and Scandinavian teams have indicated their willingness to participate. The committee also hopes to induce American football and hockey teams to compete, although no definite arrangements have been made as yet. There will be international swimming races and the German tennis championship series will be played.

All the sporting organizations of Hamburg are assisting in the organization of the events, which will include exhibitions by all sorts of gymnastic teams, parades and water fetes. In 1922 the committees which are arranging the Oversea week celebrations plan to have even a more comprehensive athletic program than is possible at this time when German exchange is so unfavorable and strained international relations make negotiations with foreign athletes difficult.

Do you know what Pierce-Arrows cost?

Do you think that Pierce-Arrows are high-priced? Do you think that they cost more than other trucks? Then you'll be amazed to know they cost no more than any good truck. With standard equipment added to the chassis price, they often cost less.

A truck makes good only as it saves money. But we spend enough in making Pierce-Arrows to keep the cost of running them down to the lowest notch.

With the finest tool equipment and a model factory for rapid production, no well-made truck could be laid down for less. We will not cut quality in materials or in skilled handling and make trucks that cost twice as much for upkeep and operation. Compare our prices with any well-made truck.

RIVAL CREWS ABOUT READY.

Oxford and Cambridge Tangle on the Thames.

American Wins Place in Boat of Oxonians.

Both Eights Heavier Than in Previous Years.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—Over the four-mile course from Putney to Mortlake on the Thames River, Eng., the rival crews from Oxford and Cambridge universities will renew their annual struggle for rowing honors Wednesday. Eighty-two years ago the initial boat race between these two universities was a two-mile contest on the Thames at Henley and Oxford was the winner. All subsequent races, however, were decided over a four-mile course. The following six races were contested during a period of 17 years up to 1845, and in five of these Cambridge was the victor. In 1846 the crews rowed in outriggers for the first time. The 1857 race was the first in which either crew rowed in the present style of eights without keel and both used round oars and sliding seats were introduced in 1873.

Owing to a cessation of all sporting events during the war no race was staged from 1913 until last year, when Cambridge won by four lengths in 21m. 11s., excellent time considering the unfavorable conditions of wind and rain which prevailed throughout the afternoon.

BOATS SWAMPED.

In all seventy-two races have been rowed by representative crews from these rival universities. Cambridge has won thirty-nine of them, Oxford finished in front thirty-two times and in 1877 a dead heat was the result. On March 30, 1912, both boats were swamped during a storm and the race was rowed over two days later, Oxford scoring a win.

This year international interest is added to the event because an Australian, J. A. Campbell of Melbourne, is a member of the Cambridge crew while the United States will be represented in the Oxford boat by F. B. Lothrop, who rowed No. 2 on last year's Harvard varsity eight. Lothrop will be in the same position tomorrow in the Oxford boat. This is not the first time, however, that American collegians took part in the university race on the Thames The Milburn brothers, John G. and Devereaux, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Harvard were members of the Oxford crew in 1902. John G. was No. 5 and Devereaux No. 2 in the Oxford boat that year and in 1903 Devereaux rowed No. 6 for Oxford. Since that time Devereaux Milburn has become more prominent as a polo player and he will leave for England next month to captain the American polo team in the international match at Hurlingham in June.

ARE SIMILAR.

Speaking of Lothrop's winning a place on the Oxford crew Coach Haines of Harvard recently said: "It proves that our systems have much in common. In fact they are very similar. The principal difference lies in a mechanical factor, the length of slide. We use a long slide; they use a short one. The result is that the English have to use the body for the drive while we use the legs. It is comparatively simple for a man to make the change from long slide to short, but it would be another story to change from the short slide to long."

Another factor which increases interest in the race on the part of Americans is the possibility that one of the crews which row tomorrow may accept the invitation extended to both Oxford and Cambridge to take part in the Poughkeepsie regatta, June 22.

The crews are exceptionally heavy this year and if they maintain the order in which they are named they will constitute a new record in this respect. In 1914 Cambridge averaged 177 1-4 pounds per man, the heaviest up to date. Cambridge shows an average of 181 pounds, and Oxford 178 1-4 pounds, according to the latest available statistics.

FADING LIGHT STOPS MATCH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—S. Howard Voshell, twice holder of the national indoor tennis singles championship, narrowly missed becoming the victim of a reversal in the second round of the titular tournament today. He was being outplayed by J. L. Werner, the Princeton star, when the fading light caused a postponement after each had won a set.

GYMNASTS TO SHOW METTLE.

City Championships to be Decided at L.A.A.C.

A.A.U. Meet is Scheduled for Thursday Night.

Many Local Colleges to be Represented in Events.

City championships in the various branches of gymnastics will be determined Thursday night at the Los Angeles Athletic Club at an A.A.U. meet that ranks high among the season's athletic affairs. Entries, which close today, have been coming in lively, and because of the sharp competition and variety of events there is much interest.

Many of the local colleges, schools and clubs will be strongly represented, and in addition there will be able unattached talent. Valuable medals will be awarded the winners of contests, including long and side horse, parallel and horizontal bars, tumbling, weight lifting, rope climbing, Roman rings and club swinging.

NEW CHAMPS.

It is believed a number of new champions will be developed in view of the fact that the best men available from many local sources will be on hand to compete, and some thrilling feats may be expected. This will be the first meet of the year with all branches of gymnastics in action for honors, and it will be open to the public, both sexes, small admission being charged.

George Wackerbarth, Southern California champion tumbler, who would rather stand on his hands than his feet, was among the first to enter. Herman T. Glass, the old-timer of the Roman rings, will be on the job and at his best. He is the present southern champion and has been winning honors regularly since 1904, when he took his first national championship.

STRONG MEN.

Another sensational performer who will be seen is E. M. Goodman, Southern California strong man, who is believed to have no equal of his weight in the world. Albert Bevan, well-known amateur strong man and wrestler, also will be busy lifting and is out for first place. He is physical director of the Union League Club. Robert Dematteis and "Earthquake" Brooks, too, are on the list. Both are rattling tumblers.

Yesterday brought two important, if unexpected entries—Pat Higgins and Charley Keppen, club swingers.

BANKER OF REDLANDS IS FOUND DEAD.

Cashier Discovered with Discharged Gun in Hands; Death Believed Accidental.

Benjamin Cave, cashier of the Redlands National Bank, was found in a woodshed at his home on East Colton avenue yesterday, his hands clutching a 30-30 rifle and the upper portion of his head blown away by a bullet from the gun.

Mr. Cave had been on a vacation from the bank for about three weeks because of Mrs. Cave's poor health. She has been an invalid for years but during the past two months her condition has been serious. He had sold the house and the family planned to move this week to Norwood street, a more quiet neighborhood.

This morning he arose from the breakfast table and remarked to Mrs. S. Y. Young, a domestic in the house, that he intended to get a mean job off his hands.

Later he came out with his deer rifle and spoke of it as being his gun. In the woodshed several old guns, of which he was a collector, were found packed in a box. The case of the gun was in the box also. Indications are that he decided to clean the gun, thought it was unloaded and jammed a ramrod, lying near, down the muzzle, causing the explosion.

When found his body was in a sitting position on the box, but had slumped down against the post of the wall. No one had heard the shot and the body had probably been there four hours. It was found at 1 o'clock, for when Mr. Cave did not come to the house for lunch, search was made for him. His daughter Mabel had been to the garage twice to look for him.

Mr. Cave had been in good health and his financial affairs were in excellent condition, so the officers are not inclined to think that it was suicide.

Mr. Cave was a native of California and came here with his parents about fifty years ago. He was a fruit grower for years, but for about twelve years had been cashier of the Redlands National Bank.

WOULD NULLIFY DEAD.

Pioneer Charges Undue Influence by Wife in Securing Property.

The suit of Col. Edward L. Dunham, a pioneer of Los Angeles, to set aside a deed to property valued at $30,000, went to trial before Judge Valentine yesterday. The property was deeded to his wife, Mrs. Effie H. Dunham, who is considerably her husband's junior. One of the charges of Col. Dunham is that while he was sick in a hospital, his wife prevailed on him to deed her the property. Undue influence is charged.

DOUBLE FUNERAL FOR FALLING-TREE VICTIMS.

Double funeral services will be held today at 10 a.m. in the Fitch chapel for Frank J. Pearing and his uncle, David F. Leffler of Lennox and Cedar avenues, this city, who were killed by a falling tree during the storm last Friday morning.

The service will be conducted by Rev. James H. Francis of the First Baptist Church. Burial will be in Inglewood Cemetery. Friends are invited to attend the services.

STROUD SAYS HE WILL NOT JOIN SALT LAKE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HANFORD, March 28.—Ralph Stroud, star pitcher last year with the Salt Lake club of the Pacific Coast League, will fulfill his contract with the Hanford club of the San Joaquin Valley League this year, he said today. Stroud said there was no substantial foundation for the report that he would return to the Salt Lake club and that he had written President Lane of the Bees today that he would play with Hanford.

ART-DANCE SPECIAL.

ALBERTINA RASCH PROVIDES EYE-CHARMING EFFECTS.

By Edwin Schallert.

The fact that for the nonce a holdover is headliner at the Orpheum will hardly kill the enthusiasm for the present program. First, because the holdover is Annette Kellerman, and second, because one of the new acts can safely pass for a headliner on its own. I mean Albertina Rasch's highly realistic art and dancing spectacle.

I call Miss Rasch's act an art and dancing spectacle, and put the art first because it is really her stage effects that take the eye. One of the most alluring numbers has no terpsichoreanisms at all. It is the violin solo — a Chopin nocturne, played with darkened stage and star-studded sky as background. It's one of the few starry skies that has ever looked like the real thing.

The entire Rasch presentation has rare atmosphere. It's very European. The gallop from "The Four Seasons," with two girls impersonating prancing horses, is as picturesque as a fairy fantasy. The storm number is another brilliant flare, culminating in a pyrotechnical oriental dance by Miss Rasch.

What you chiefly appreciate about the work of Miss Rasch and her people is that they are full of consciousness for their art, and they make a manifest effort to convey their enthusiasm to their audience. There are deficiencies of anatomical beauty in the production, but its intellectual variety is ample.

The Orpheum bill is not a laugh bill. It consequently doesn't get the three-cheer hand from the audience. The only funny spots are Johnny Burke, with his high contralto voice and gentle crabbing in "Drafted," and True Rice and Flo Newton in a song and patter affair. Also Flo Lewis, with her negro maid, who have a lightweight offering that affords chief joy through Miss Lewis's kidding of Frankenstein, the orchestra director, and the negro maid's proficiency at appearing dumb. Miss Lewis's song material is rather too slight.

Demonstrations hardly need a criticism. Either they are or they aren't. And that of Harry Kahne decidedly is. It consists of some very clever features of mind concentration — chief among which is Mr. Kahne's doing of five things at the same time. Berty and Florence Mayo open the bill in "a novel idea" which is — more or less, and Grey and Old Rose close it with song and dance oddities.

SPEEDSTER WALLIE AS ENGINE DRIVER.

Every time I've seen Wallie Reid lately on the screen he's been traveling some place in a hurry. You've probably noticed the same thing.

If you like speed, therefore, you like Wallie. However, he doesn't show so much as usual in "The Love Special" this week at Grauman's. That's probably because this time he's on railroad wheels instead of automobile tires. And Wallie is undoubtedly a better racing devil than he is a "hog driver."

"The Love Special" hits a considerable number of bumps before it arrives at its destination. That's to say, the picture is lumpy. It's a little of this and a little of that. Individual episodes are quite entertaining, but the general form is bad, and unless the form is good the racing is as a rule bad. Which is just the trouble with the work up to the finish in "The Love Special."

Wallace Reid is a sort of general life saver for a western railroad in the picture. He does rescue work of all kinds, from keeping a skittish river in its proper place to saving men out of a tunnel. He finally flouts the villain by driving a locomotive through a roaring blizzard and handing an option to the president of the company at the psychological moment. Of course, the president's daughter takes the hazardous trip with him.

There are some good pictorial wallops in the blizzard sequence, but they're hardly on a par with "What's Your Hurry."

The supporting cast is especially noteworthy in the presence of Theodore Roberts in one of his blustering characterizations. Agnes Ayres is entirely charming in a role that, because of its dramatic lightness, is her proper metier.

Sid Grauman is again taking 'em around the city. This time he is giving his public a Graumanesque view of the Wilshire district. He has a very pleasant and diverting musical act, with an ornate setting.

Action Photoplay.

To those who know the favored locations of the cinematographers by sight, a picture that takes us to new and unfrequented scenes is always welcome. This is the first appeal of "The Inner Voice," and the interest thus awakened is sustained by stirring action that animates every scene. As a husky young prospector, a derelict of the slums, and as the money king of Wall street, E. K. Lincoln is the man of action—not merely in the titles, but in the picture as well.

"The Inner Voice" starts with a wallop and ends with a punch.

The woman in the case, Agnes Ayres, as Barbara Morrison, is a real girl, and every other character in the story is plausibly portrayed.

Along with the picture the Broadway Pantages is presenting an antidote for the blues entitled "Oo-La-La!" written by Frank Samuels and demonstrated by Henry Sherr and the Broadway Follies Company. "Oo-La-La!" is just Oo, la la, with different punctuation, and if you ever had "Oo-la-la," said to you with the proper accent and expression, no further explanation is necessary. It means nothing, and it means everything, and so does "Oo-La-La!" Its characters are Abie Cohen, from Paris; Nifty Luke, from N'York, and others, including Roaring Bill, a mean cuss from Oklahoma, and the Follies chorus. The last named does the work and deserves the honors.

Activity at Selig.

William N. Selig and Sam E. Rork are hard at work completing plans for the most extensive and elaborate production activities in the history of the Selig studio. Mr. Selig has the motion picture rights to scores of books and plays, which he had the foresight to secure several years ago. Among the authors and dramatists whose best work is represented are James Oliver Curwood, Sir Gilbert Parker, Hallie Erminie Rives, E. Phillips Oppenheim, Winston Churchill, Randall Parrish, Gen. Charles King, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Salisbury Field, Robert Hichens and Harold MacGrath.

Work will begin immediately on the story classic "The Rosary." It will be a five-reel production, with a cast headed by Lewis S. Stone.

Production of two-reel dramas and comedy dramas from short stories whose authors' names are well known, have been commenced. The producers are enhancing these stories with such people as Lewis S. Stone, William Desmond, Wallace Beery and others of equal note. The first is a Curwood story, directed by Bert Bracken.

One-reel animal dramas will also be produced, the remarkable collection of the Selig Zoo being utilized for this purpose. Together with the two-reel productions, these will be released by Educational Films. They will be known by the Diamond S Production trademark.

Five special pictures a year are planned, starring the Australian sportsman, "Snowy" Baker. The first of these stories has been selected, and, it is said, will present the athlete in a drama of heart interest and gripping situations. Mr. Baker has brought his favorite horse, Boomerang, all the way from the Antipodes, accompanied by a trainer, for use in his productions.

Hebrew Comedy a Hit.

A bill of combined comedy and musical offering is being presented this week at the Burbank Theater, entitled "That's it."

Especially amusing are the impersonations of Manny King, the clever Hebrew comedian, featured in the revue. King possesses the faculty of seeming to entertain without visible effort.

The revue is presented in five scenes, each in turn assuming a more spectacular aspect than its predecessor. Snappy songs, clever lines and the dancing of the chorus of thirty-six Armstrong baby vamps form an enjoyable entertainment.

Assisting in the musical funfest are Rookie Lewis, Billy Riddle, Dick O'Donnell, George Nesmith, Harry Furney, Violet Mansfield, Nan Keys and Irene Brooks.

Easter Popular Concert.

Special stage effects were introduced as a background for musical numbers at the popular concert last Sunday at Grauman's.

Two trumpeters, dressed in the flowing garments, played the opening notes of the march from "Tannhauser." This was followed by the full orchestra rendition under Mischa Guterson's direction.

Director Warren D. Allen and the members of the Stanford Glee Club repeated their success of a week ago yesterday. They sang of Beethoven's "Nature's Praise of God," in a delightful fashion. Their second number, "March of the Men or Harlech," was spiritedly given.

Dressed as an Episcopal male choir, nineteen violinists, two double-bass players and two harpists rendered Schubert's "Serenade" with excellent tonal blending. While not dramatic, this was, nevertheless, impressive.

Other appropriate numbers were the "Procession of the Knights of Holy Grail," a selection from Wolf Ferrari's "Jewels of the Madonna" and Weber's "Jubel" overture.

"Kismet" Reshowing.

That Otis Skinner's spectacle, "Kismet," is still a highly favored production is evidenced by the audiences at the Garrick, where the feature is being given a week's showing.

Skinner is given large opportunities in the screen version. He portrays the beggar who ascends to wealth and power in a day, only to be swept dramatically back into his rags before sundown.

The production may properly be called a "spectacle" because of the lavishness of its scenes and costuming. It is an adventure tale of the days when Bagdad flourished, replete with color and romance.

Among the proninent members of the cast is Elinor Fair.

"Scatterwood Baines" at Kinema.

"Scatterwood Baines" is receiving its national premier in Los Angeles this week at the Kinema Theater, where, with Charles Chaplin's "The Kid," packed houses have been the rule since opening. It is the first of a series of twenty-four comedies that are being produced by the Edna Schley Productions, adapted for the screen from the famous stories of Clarence Budington Kelland.

IN :: LILTING :: MELODY :: SHOW.

"The Love Nest" Setting in "Mary."

Richard Pyle and Marguerite Zender,
In musically attractive Cohan production at the Mason.

FLASHES.

"MARY" FETCHING SHOW

MARGUERITE ZENDER CHARMS IN TITLE ROLE.

By Grace Kingsley

"Mary"—whistly, dancy, girly, fresh-as-a-breath-from-the-meadow, yet pep-in-the-original-package "Mary"—opened at the Mason last night to a fair audience, and will be a household word in every drawing-room and lady bar before the week is out.

So will the name of Marguerite Zender—huggable, squeezable, hold-on-your-knees-able Marguerite Zender—or I miss my guess.

Lou Hirsch's music set all New York whistling, singing and dancing a year ago, and has left a trail of melody all the way across the country. Indeed the echo of its music came before it, for we've had "The Love Nest" with us in the cafes for some time.

Recalls the days of "The Springs Maid" and "The Pink Lady," does this delicious musical comedy, "Mary," with its dreamy song theme. It also brings the dash and jazzy go, borrowed from the jazz days since those delectable offerings. There isn't a bar of it that isn't alive with sparkling melody and spontaneous joy. To be sure the show hasn't the high spot comedy elements of those others, yet it is amusing enough. Its atmosphere is as fresh and unsophisticated as a May morning, yet it's as stimulating as a glass of champagne.

"Mary" has a story, too, by Frank Mandel, which concerns a young man who has invented a portable house, with the help of Mary. He goes away to Kansas to sell the house, but strikes oil instead, and comes back just in time to save the girl from a loveless marriage.

A quite secondary matter, that story. It's the luring, laughing music, together with Miss Zender and some marvelous dances that really make the attraction.

Miss Zender is one of those radiant, vital girls, who, without seeming to try in the least, just have a way of reaching out and making everybody in the audience feel as if she were dancing, and acting, and singing for him or her alone.

She's an actress, too, and if I may make a guess, it won't be long until we see her on the screen.

The remainder of the cast is adequate, but not at all remarkable. Richard Pyle sings Jack Keene in good voice; Carolyn Lida's Mrs. Keene is mildly humorous, as are also Joe Smith Marbo's Marceau and Joseph McCallion's Tom Boyd. Eva Olivotti is a sprightly widow. The production is beautifully staged and costumed.

Despite its negligible story, its merely adequate cast, always excepting Miss Zender, despite the fact its smart lines are few, "Mary" yet remains the most charming musical show we've had in many a long day.

To quote its song hits would be to mention the whole score, so I'll just call your attention to the familiar "Love Nest," and to "Anything You Want to do, Dear," "Tom, Tom, Toddle," "Don't Fall Until You See Them All" and "We'll Give a Wonderful Party."

GLADYS WALTON HIT IN CHARMING FILM.

Romance is not dead after all in filmland. It lives and breathes at the Superba this week in the story of "All Dolled Up," and in the delightful work of Gladys Walton and Edward Hearn as the youthful hero and heroine, not to mention the fine characterization of Florence Turner as the little rich old maid, Rolin Sturgeon directed, and is to be congratulated on the job. The picture is a hundred times more truly entertaining than nine-tenths of the pretentious buncombe that reaches the screen.

Two or three episodes of the story indeed are gilded with the rare gold of fancy and whimsicality. One of these shows the little shop girl heroine, Maggie Quick, pinning up in her bedroom as her ideals of real manhood pictures of those youths with impossibly straight noses and perfectly chiseled chins whom we are all familiar with on the men's "nifty dressers" ads.

Another scene of wistful and real appeal is that in which the disillusioned old maid sends the pretty clothing she had stored in her hope chest for her own wedding, to the happy young girl. And entirely delightful, with exactly the right touch of comedy are the young chauffeur's lapses from correct deportment even after reading the etiquette book.

It's not that the theme of the story is new. It has to do with two young people, who are poor, posing innocently as rich folk, and both finding out the truth at the end. But it is all handled with such delightful freshness that you're sure thoroughly to enjoy it.

Gladys Walton is revealed as a very spirited and skillful little actress, despite her inexperience; Florence Turner gives a real and very fine characterization of the unhappy, sweet, little old maid, hoodwinked for her money by the Italian grand opera singer with the fat wife and five children; Fred Malatesta is as fascinatingly wicked as his part calls for, and all the other bits are nicely done.

"UNSEEN FORCES" IS UNCONVINCING TALE.

It may be that ghosts of the departed do come back on the wings of the night, and that there be those to whom come visions and prophecies of events to come, but it takes more than the shimmying figure of a child in the double-exposure hocus-pocus of the films, evoked by a shuddering feminine figure in the midst of an investigating committee to make us believe it.

Ghosts do not haunt with the meter on, nor roll over and play dead at anybody's behest.

This sort of thing, however, is the evidence to which we are supposed to pin our faith, as did also the people in the play, in "Unseen Forces," on view at the Alhambra. A young girl played by Sylvia Breamer, is supposed to have supernatural powers, which she uses to fine purpose in aiding the poor. A number of people do not believe in her, but Conrad Nagle, as the hero, does.

The cruel vamp is one of the scoffers, and has an investigation called, at which the spirit of a little dead girl belonging to the aforesaid vamp, obligingly performs, and the heroine does other astonishing things also. Whereat the hero's father opens his arms to the girl, the hero is separated from the vamp, and all is sweetness and light.

Such pish-tush psychology plays do not further the earnest efforts of the new thought folk nor the psychical research workers. They don't even give the players a fair chance, and therefore, those pleasing mummers, Sylvia Breamer and Conrad Nagle, are lost in the whole pitiful hokum hotch-potch.

Mabel Scott Returns.

Mabel Julienne Scott, who spent the week-end at Mt. Baldy, accompanied by her brother, Billy Scott, is in town once more, and will shortly begin work on the picturization of Edna Ferber's story, "Fannie Herself," which Jack Conway is to direct for Universal.

Fairbanks Film Closing.

The third and last week of the Douglas Fairbanks comedy success, "The Nut," is attracting the usual "Doux" audiences at Miller's Theater. The picture has enjoyed a reception proving the wide popularity of the star.

Interest now centers in the new Stewart Edward White drama, "The Killer," which opens at Miller's Sunday. This is a new Benjamin B. Hampton production.

White is known to the photoplay world for his outdoor stories, with their third-speed gearing, and this drama is said to surpass in these respects even the author's "The Westerners" and "The Leopard Woman."

A Harold Lloyd comedy, "Now or Never," will also show.

Appeared in Amatie's Show.

It was on the stage of the Orpheum Theater here, just four years ago, that Charles Chaplin first saw Jackie Coogan, the starlet of "The Kid," now showing at the Kinema, a tiny tot in Annette Kellermann's act, giving an imitation of David Warfield. He then did a rube dance with such cleverness that he literally stopped the show.

Seated just in back of the leader was Charles Chaplin. According to eye-witnesses, the comedian leaned out of his seat far into the aisle, his mouth open with delighted amazement, entirely obvious to the fact that people were watching him as well as the small performer on the stage.

"That kid's immense," Chaplin was heard to say to his companion. "He's wonderful. I'd like to use him in a picture."

The Pneumonia Month.

March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter the system loses much of its resistance and people grow careless. When every cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germ-laden mucus and not only cures a cold, but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly.—[Advertisement.

QUICK ACTION IS PROMISED.

Penrose in Statement on Taxes and Tariff.

Believes One Day Sufficient for Emergency Bill.

Measure to be Passed as It Was Last Session.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Abolition of excess profits taxes. General reduction of income taxes. Definite information as to next year's internal revenue taxes by midsummer. An emergency tariff within ten days from April 11, the beginning of the extra session. A permanent tariff within three or four months. Two months' of hearings on the revision of internal revenue taxes. All this was promised today by Senator Penrose, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate in a discussion of tax and tariff matters with the correspondents.

ONE DAY FOR TARIFF.

Senator Penrose said he believed one day would be sufficient to pass the emergency tariff in the House and not longer in the Senate. He said that following a conference of himself, Senator Watson and Senator Calder with Chairman Fordney of the House Ways and Means Committee it was decided to pass the emergency tariff just as it went through both houses at the last session of Congress.

Only one change is possible and that may be the addition of two provisions—one providing for American market valuation and the other an antidumping provision. It is more than probable that these provisions will be made as separate bills and reported with the emergency tariff in both houses. This action will be taken if their addition to the emergency tariff would delay its passage.

No additions of any kind covering other products will be permitted and the emergency tariff will be in effect six months at the maximum and in any event only till the permanent tariff is in effect.

EXCESS PROFITS TAXES.

Chairman Penrose believes, so he said today, that all excess profits taxes will be eliminated and that the income tax on ordinary incomes will be very much less than under the present law. He said that hearings would begin as soon as a quorum of the Finance Committee could be secured to sit in the inquiry and that as soon as completed the Ways and Means Committee had agreed to take these hearings and findings and on the schedules submitted draw a tax bill for submission to the House in accordance with the constitutional requirement that all tax bills originate in the House. He said that this would save several weeks of time and would expedite both the tariff and the revenue tax revision. Chairman Penrose said that for the first time on record, each committee had engaged technical experts to so guard the language of the bill that there could be no flaw, either in the clarity or the legal construction of the tax bills. These technical experts are known as the House and Senate drafting bureaus, and are manned by tax experts of the highest order.

He was most emphatic when he said that hops and other Western products not now included in the emergency tariff would not be added and declared that nothing would be done in either house to delay its passage, just as it passed the last Congress and referred to the plans as a demonstration of legislative and executive harmony.

EUROPE CAN'T RUN AMERICAN DANCES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 28.—Dancing masters of Europe cannot dictate to America what dances it will indulge in. This was the reply made today by Chicago dancing instructors, who had read of the proposed movement in Europe to abolish the fox trot, the shimmy, the one-step, the cuddle, the toddle and other variations.

The Europeans propose to substitute the old waltz with some variations and cut out all the new dances, practically all of which are of American origin. Some of these dances were originated in South America, picked up by Chicago and New York teachers, improved upon and then sent to Europe, where they have had an immense vogue.

"The jazz, shimmy and toddle are in keeping with the fast and snappy age we are living in," said one leading instructor. "They are novelties and will wear themselves out in time. However, we cannot expect to do things as our great grandmothers did them; youth will be served. The outlandish dancing will have its fling and something newer will take its place, but legislation will not turn the trick."

CZAR'S FRIENDS IN DIRE STRAITS.

Crimean Refugees Living in Terrible Squalor.

Driven to Jugo-Slavia When Wrangell Failed.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

RAGUSA (Jugo-Slavia) March 17. Friends of the late Czar Nicholas, members of the upper crust of society of imperial Russia, princes, dukes, generals and barons, are living in squalor in camps infested with typhus and typhoid here at Cattaro Bay, on the Dalmatian Coast.

Altogether they constitute a group of about 1500 of the refugees brought out from the Crimea when Gen. Wrangell's anti-Bolshevik army collapsed and who have since been scattered about the Balkans.

Vestiges of their former imperial grandeur peep out from their rags when costly jewels saved in their flight from the Bolshevists are brought out from the recesses of the old bundles composing their dirty, unkempt baggage. Princes, princesses and generals sleep on hard cement floors and barely manage to exist on the meager allowance of food doled out to them. Their costly furs, once exhuberant but now scant and worn almost hairless, show the former riches of their owners.

GENERALS IN TATTERS.

The Associated Press correspondent visited several barracks of old forts and airplane hangars where the Russians are quartered. Generals could be seen in tatters waiting their turns for rations and eating their soup and stew out of mess tins and then filling up on black bread. Their uniforms carried the insignia of Imperial Russia, with strings of medals across their breasts. Cossacks stood around in threadbare regalia of the old regime, wearing dilapitated Astrachan hats and tunics intended for British soldiers, while their riding boots were torn and ragged from long use.

The clothing of the women consisted of relics of better days. Some wore riding boots, the last footwear left from what once had been an extensive wardrobe. Some carried in their baggage Persian rugs which they had been able to save on their long pilgrimage. Once they become well enough acquainted with a visitor, they offer for sale such jewelry as they still possess, so as to tide themselves over this period of distress. Some of the women had linen bearing the imperial arms.

PRINCE TENDS BEES.

Prince Tchachkofskv, former owner of several immense estates in Russia, considers himself the most lucky of the refugees, for he has managed to obtain a job tending bees, for which he receives the equivalent of 40 cents a day. The only clothing he owns is a convalescent's suit, shoes and underwear issued by the American Red Cross.

Baron von Goerstep, who says he was Gen. Wrangell's adjutant in the Crimean campaign, has at Cattaro $2,000,000 worth of regimental silver weighing several tons, but can do nothing with it, as the Jugoslav government refuses to admit silver without paying a large duty, which the Baron is not able to do. So the silver remains at the Customhouse.

Baroness Nina von Stachelberg insists upon keeping up appearances and sews and knits for the American Red Cross, for which she receives 50 cents a day, enabling her to rent a small room in a hotel.

MAKES DOLL FURNITURE.

Maria Homiakoff, daughter of the former president of the Russian Duma, has an executive position with the American Red Cross at 60 cents a day, as she speaks English. Col. Beylavenetsl, formerly commandant of the Czar's Artillery School and wearer of twenty decorations, is an office man for the American Red Cross at 60 cents a day. He shows real enterprise, for he is saving money and buying tools to make dolls' furniture and says that within two months he will have a factory employing twenty persons.

In the majority of cases, however, the former noblemen are unfitted for much except unskilled work. The women are well fitted to become teachers and nurses, but the present status of Jugoslavia is not such as to allow so large a number to be absorbed. Many of the Russian officers have succeeded in joining the Jugoslav Army.

FIGHTING FOR CHILDREN.

Widows among the refugees are fighting to save the lives of their children. Mme. Ruchloff, daughter of one of the Czar's ministers and wife of a colonel of the Imperial Guards who was murdered by the Bolshevists, is making buttonholes in an effort to keep up appearances and save herself and children from starvation. The American Red Cross is aiding her by giving an allowance of milk, shoes, etc., to her children.

Many of the Russians who are artists or dancers, have organized an opera ballet to travel in Jugoslavia. The correspondent saw one performance and it was well done, the work of real artists. Some of the opera singers among the refugees are making a living by touring the small towns hereabouts.

To the correspondent, who was riding in a small automobile, one of the Russians said: "Your machine is not worth riding in. I once owned four cars, and yours was not in their class, but now the Bolshevists have got them all."

None of the 1500 refugees seems to mind the typhus, although there were 100 cases among them and another 200 ill in hospitals. American destroyers have brought to the Russians such instruments and medicines as United States Naval vessels in these waters could spare and the American Red Cross has generously supplied them with drugs.

MONEY IN HUNGARY IS GIVEN ODD TWIST.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUDAPEST, March 28.—As a result of the overhauling of its finances, the Hungarian government has made a crown worth 2½ Austrian crowns. This increase in the value of the Hungarian crown has had a peculiar sequel, according to a statement made by Kolman Hegedus, Minister of Finance.

"It is now profitable," he said, "for some scoundrels in Switzerland to counterfeit our stamp and imprint in on the bills of Austro-Hungarian bank."

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.—[Advertisement.

TAX SUITS WON BY GOVERNMENT

Stock Sales Profits Are Liable to Impost.

Court Decision May Avert Refund of Millions.

Federal Interpretation of the Constitution Upheld.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Important victories were won by the government today in decisions by the United States Supreme Court in four tax cases.

The cases involved similar features relative to the taxation as income of profits derived from the sale of corporate stock and bonds and capital assets. The court held that profits of this kind are properly taxable as income under the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution.

The principal case was that of the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company of Chicago as trustee of the estate of Arthur Ryerson against Julius Smietanka, formerly collector of internal revenue for the first district of Illinois. This case involved profits from the sale of corporate stock held in a trust fund.

SECOND CASE.

The second case, that of the Eldorado Coal and Mining Company, an Indiana corporation, against Harry W. Mager, collector of internal revenue of the first district of Illinois, involved profits made in the sale of the capital assets of the company.

The third case was that of David M. Goodrich against William H. Edwards, collector of internal revenue of the second district of New York. This involved profits from the sale of corporation stock. Two separate transactions were involved, in one of which a decision was given based on the decision in the Ryerson case favorable to the government, in the other of which it was held that no tax could be levied where there had been no actual profit on the investment even though there had been an appreciation in value from March 1, 1913, the effective date of the first income tax law. In respect to this second transaction the court merely held in accordance with the admission made recently by Solicitor-General Frierson that an error had been made in attempting to impose a tax where an actual loss on the investment had taken place.

In the Ryerson, Eldorado and Goodrich cases the decisions of the lower courts were favorable to the contention of the government.

THE FOURTH SUIT.

The fourth case was that of James J. Walsh, collector of internal revenue in Connecticut, against Frederick F. Brewster. It involved three different transactions. The decision followed the principles laid down by the court in the Ryerson and Goodrich cases and in the Eisner stock dividend decision of March, 1920.

Solicitor-General Frierson in commenting on the decisions said that the government's position had been completely upheld. He regarded the cases of an important nature, inasmuch as adverse rulings would have meant refunds of millions of dollars of taxes.

RYERSON CASE.

The Ryerson case involved 1000 shares of capital stock of an Illinois corporation, which was held by the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company of Chicago, as trustee of the estate of Arthur Ryerson. The stock was valued on March 1, 1913, at $561,000. It was sold on February 2, 1917, for $1,250,000 and the collector of internal revenue imposed a tax upon the profit amounting to about $700,000.

In seeking to recover the tax paid upon this amount the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company contended that the gain in four years of over $700,000 in an investment of about $500,000 was not "income" within the intent of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution.

A second contention made by the plaintiff in the Ryerson case was that the word income as used in the Sixteenth Amendment and in the Income Tax Acts does not include gain from capital realized by a single isolated sale of property but that only the profits realized from sales by one engaged in buying and selling as a business—a merchant, a real estate agent or a broker—constitute income which may be taxed.

In the case of the Eldorado Coal and Mining Company, the company in 1917 sold its interests and practically wound up its affairs. On the basis of the fair market value as of March 1, 1913, the sale of the capital assets resulted in a profit of about $6000. The income tax assessment on this profit amounted to more than $3000. The court held that the profits were properly taxed.

which the reparations commission is preparing for that date.

TACTICS DILATORY.

England is accused also of dilatory tactics in settling Germany's new customs barrier. The report on this subject drawn up by President Tierard of the French Rhine Commission was to be approved by the ambassadors' council, March 22.

Lord Hardinge, however, said he had not yet received instructions from England. Decision therefore, was put off until March 25, and subsequently until March 29, on the pretext that the British Cabinet had not had time yet to discuss the matter.

Today it is announced that nothing can be done until the British ministers return from their Easter vacations. In view of the well known opposition of the British members of the Rhine commission to the proposed customs barrier, it is assumed that the delay on Great Britain's part is deliberate. On this account the French press is indulging in criticism of the British course.

secretary, pointed out yesterday that M. Viviani came to America with "enormous authority."

"He was, you see," said Mr. Knecht, "Premier under President Poincare, and he enjoys the utmost confidence of both President Millerand and Premier Briand."

Mr. Knecht was asked if, since leaving France, M. Viviani had been advised of recent developments in Russia, and the reply was that the former French Premier was watching developments there very closely.

"You may say," said Mr. Knecht, "that M. Viviani approves most heartily of the American government's attitude toward Russia as expressed in Secretary Hughes's note. M. Viviani had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Hughes when he was here in 1917, and he has a very high regard for the Secretary of State. Both men are great lawyers, you know."

Both Mr. Knecht and Stephane Lausanne, editor of Le Matin, accompanied M. Viviani to America, although in private capacity.

McCabe Offered a Position With Postal Service.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Al McCabe, former secretary to Hiram Johnson and now Commissioner of Insurance of the State of California, is said to have been tendered a place as Assistant Postmaster-General. California friends of McCabe say that he has declined the offer and that he will not leave California, but no official confirmation of this can be secured from the Postoffice Department. The officials of the department content themselves by saying that McCabe would be a good man and they would be glad to see him in the service.

The position of Assistant Postmaster-General only pays $5000 a year, and it is understood this is $1000 less than McCabe is now drawing from California. He has a home at Burlingame, and, according to some of the California men, he would not consider the place at the salary.

Reserve Bank Reviews Business and Crop Outlook; Story in Percentages.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Prospects for 1921 crops of all kinds in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District are exceptionally favorable, according to the agricultural and business review issued yesterday from the office of John Perrin, chairman of the board, and Federal reserve agent for the district.

It is found that stocks of 1920 agricultural products have continued to move slowly but steadily to market. Holdings of wheat on farms in this district are one and one-half times greater than the five-year average for this season but stocks of millers and dealers are abnormally low, and it is generally reported that the entire holdover of 1920 wheat will be marketed before July 1.

Canners' stocks of canned fruits which are now approximately 26 per cent of last year's pack, were moving sluggishly until, during February, substantial reductions—in some cases 50 per cent—were made in canners' list prices, since which time accelerated marketing is reported. Canners estimate that their 1921 pack will be approximately 75 per cent of last year's and that costs will average 30 per cent less.

Increased export demand has reduced stocks held by milk condensaries and they are now increasing output. Approximately 60 per cent of the heavy navel orange crop has gone to market and less than 11 per cent of the Northwest apple crop remains to be moved. Market demand for cotton, wool and rice is still limited.

UNEMPLOYMENT PEAK PASSED.

The peak of unemployment has been passed; 330,000 barrels of oil were added to storage; retail trade was more active than in February last year. Slight increases in the output of gold, silver and lead, and a further decrease in the production of copper are indicated.

Los Angeles leads the district in the average net increase in the value of net retail sales for February over a year ago with 14.6 per cent. San Francisco increased but .4 per cent and Seattle had an actual loss of 2.4 per cent.

Prices are showing a downward tendency except in stationery and furniture. Shoe and dry goods are reported as steady, with yearly changes ranging from 25 to 40 per cent below the 1920 peak. Present wages are reported to be from 20 to 33 1-3 per cent below those of last year. There was a decrease of employment in Los Angeles in February of 1257 or 5.1 per cent against San Francisco's 22.1 per cent.

WHOLESALE TRADE.

Detailed reports received from 142 representative wholesale firms in eight lines of business in this district indicate that the wholesale trade is still depressed, largely due to the hesitancy of retailers to liquidate high-priced inventories, taking their losses, where necessary, and to restock with goods at present wholesale prices which could be offered to the public at lower, but still profitable prices. Compared with February, 1920, all lines of business show recessions in the value of net sales but a comparison with January, 1921, shows an increase in the value of net sales in dry goods, groceries, shoes, furniture and automobile tires.

According to Bradstreet's Index Number of wholesale prices, based on the per pound of 96 articles of common consumption, prices in the United States on March 1 showed a decrease of 4 per cent from February 1 and of 43.1 per cent from February, 1920.

Collections during the month were characterized as "excellent" by 2 per cent, "good" by 32 per cent, "fair" by 59 per cent and "poor" by 7 per cent of the reporting firms, compared with 4, 32, 52 and 12 per cent, respectively, in January.

BAROMETER OF SALES.

The average net increase or decrease in the value of net sales for the eight reporting lines of business was as follows:

| | February, 1921, Compared to Feb. 1920 | Compared to Jan., 1921 |
|---|---|---|
| Hardware | —35.6 | —10.9 |
| Dry Goods | —53.8 | 9.1 |
| Groceries | — 4.7 | 4.9 |
| Drugs | —13.6 | — 4.4 |
| Shoes | —39.8 | 25.0 |
| Stationery | — 8.2 | —12.2 |
| Furniture | —25.7 | 46.4 |
| Automobile Tires | —50.6 | 30.4 |

BUSINESS FAILURES.

Commercial defaults, exclusive of bank failures, in this district were greater in number but less in amount of liabilities in February than in January, 1921, and greater both in number and in amount of liabilities than in February, 1920.

The comparison with January, 1921, is a better index of present business trends than the comparison with February, 1920, however, as at this time last year business mortality was abnormally moderate. The total liabilities of 144 failures in February amounted to $1,456,366 compared with liabilities of $2,628,296 or 138 failures in January, a decrease in the amount of liabilities of $1,171,930 or 44.5 per cent.

The average failure in the district had liabilities of $10,133, compared with average liabilities of $19,045 in January.

OUR MUNICIPAL DEBT.

The statement of the bonded indebtedness of the city of Los Angeles, issued by City Auditor Myers, is an interesting study in the fluctuating cost of money since 1895 and is an accurate reflection of the ups and downs of the money market within that period.

In that year the city found no difficulty in floating its bonds on a 4½ per cent basis. In 1897 this had dropped to 4 per cent, and in 1901 to the lowest level, 3¾ per cent, where it remained until 1905, when it mounted again to 4 per cent. In 1907 most of the water bonds brought 4½ per cent, and there was no further change in rate, except for small district offerings, although $100,000 Wilmington improvement bonds did bring 5 per cent in 1907. In 1913 a small issue of school bonds sold for 5½ per cent. The next big harbor improvement issue came in 1919, and by this time 6 per cent was the lowest the bidders would consider.

In the quarter of a century covered by the report, the city has authorized bonds to the amount of $65,815,000, of which $47,748,600 were actually sold. The yearly payment on the principal amounts to $1,872,812.50, and $10,161,762.50 have been paid off. Of the bonds at present outstanding $989,575 are charged against the general fund; $7,586,000 to electrical development; $5,573,000 to harbor; $1,034,562.50 to sewer, and $22,403,700 to water. The net outstanding bonded indebtedness is $33,875,887.16.

CHANGE IN METHOD.

The Federal reserve has altered the method of computing the reserve ratio. That ratio is computed by adding net deposits to outstanding circulation and dividing the sum of them into total cash reserves. Hitherto, net deposits were calculated by adding to the regular deposit fund the deferred availability items. These two factors are now omitted so that the reserve ratio is made slightly lower by the new system of compensation than by the old one.

SHIPPING NEWS.

Norton, Lilly & Co., Los Angeles agents for the Isthmian Line, were notified by wire yesterday that their steamer Steel Inventor, which on February 28 was rammed by the United States destroyer Woolsey, and was obliged to discharge her cargo at Panama while undergoing repairs, had been again made seaworthy, and, after reloading, started from the canal yesterday for Philadelphia and New York. She carries a miscellaneous cargo from Los Angeles.

The same line reports the Steel Worker, which sailed from this port Saturday night, included in her cargo 4804 boxes of lemons and 462 boxes of oranges for Boston.

A new 10,000-ton ship, the Birmingham, which has been added to the Isthmian fleet, making her maiden trip under her new owners from the Orient, is due to arrive at Seattle, April 28, arriving here a few days later, to be loaded for Baltimore and New York.

PUBLIC DEBTS, 1920 AND 1913.

The percentage increase in total public indebtedness, home and foreign, of the belligerents in the recent war, computed as of 1920 and compared with the end of 1913, is reckoned by the London Statist as follows: For Great Britain, 1016.4 per cent; for the United States, 2072.2; for France, 552.2; for Belgium, 323.5; for Italy, 458.3; for Portugal, 162.7, and for Rumania, 665.3. These are for the Entente Allies. For the Central European allies the percentage increase is fig-

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—The hesitant and occasionally heavy movement of stock prices today again was chiefly influenced by incidents and developments which accentuated the further enforced readjustment of commercial and industrial estimates.

This was indicated, for example, by the passing of the Sears, Roebuck and United States Smelting quarterly dividends, coupled with rumors that omissions or reductions of dividend disbursements by other prominent companies are under consideration.

News was of a mixed or conflicting character. The stronger position of the local banks encouraged more liberal offerings of call and time funds and western centers reported moderate improvement in general lines of business. These hopeful auguries were offset partly by another decline in railway tonnage at leading transportation terminals, crop deterioration in several Southwestern States and additional wage reductions.

Trading was largely professional, oils, motors, steels, equipments and food and leather specialties comprising fully 60 per cent of the turnover at extreme declines of one to nearly six points.

Rails were only slightly affected by the reaction and Sears, Roebuck rallied sharply at the finish, the motion-picture specialties also showing marked strength, especially Famous Players. Sales, 675,000 shares.

The foreign exchange market was halted on a continuance of the Easter holidays abroad, but additional gold imports were received from Europe and South America.

Liberty Bonds and most of the international group were steady, but rails continued to ease. Pennsylvania 6½'s fell to the new low of 97. Total sales (par value) $6,475,000.

YELLOW TAXICAB

Persistent street rumors that the Yellow Taxicab Company will not pay their next dividend, should not in our opinion cause any apprehension on the part of stockholders.

While it is our opinion that this dividend probably will not be paid, we consider this good business policy on the part of the management, in view of the expansion of the Company into Long Beach and Pasadena which would necessitate the purchase of additional equipment assuming the present fleet of cars in Los Angeles are being used to capacity.

In view of the present low market in the issue it looks like an excellent opportunity for present owners to "average down" by purchasing additional shares.

Yellow Taxi bought and sold, or liberal loans will be made on application.

Prompt attention to mail orders.

Where Are The Railroads Headed?

With the troubles of the country's roads apparently multiplying from day to day, and the outlook for railroad securities appearing more gloomy, the answer to the above question is of extreme importance.

Therefore, we have compiled a circular covering the entire situation, having endeavored to outline what the future holds forth for railroad security holders, and this circular will be sent free to anyone upon request.

Action Counts!

THIS is the week that the Bolsa Chica Oil Company begins drilling for oil at Huntington Beach. Irving V. Augur, Vice President and Superintendent of Operations of the company, who for five years was Geologist and Deputy Oil and Gas Supervisor for the State of California, says the bit will be in the oil sands inside of 14 days from the day the company starts drilling.

That means that you must move fast if you want to get in at the start of an oil company that is going to establish a smashing record of achievement.

Shares today are $1. There are only 175,000 to be sold. We will make immediate application to the State Corporation Commissioner to raise the price to $1.50 when the bit hits the oil sand. The stock will be temporarily withdrawn from the market.

Small capitalization, plus experienced oil men, plus large acreage in the best proven oil district in the world, plus an absolute square deal from the biggest business men in Los Angeles, means that the Bolsa Chica Oil Company offers you the biggest and best chance to make money that you have ever had offered you.

Irving V. Augur is the man who will get the oil for the company.

John B. Elliott is the man who will handle your money. Mr. Elliott, as United States Collector of Customs for Southern California for the last seven years, has handled millions and millions of dollars. John B. Elliott will see to it that every cent you invest will go for the company's business.

Act today. Hundreds upon hundreds of persons from every section of the United States have sent thousands of dollars to the Bolsa Chica Oil Company through the mails. They know the reputation of the men behind the company. They know that money sent to a man like John B. Elliott will not be used for any purpose other than that which it was originally intended—the seeking of oil.

If you want shares at the rock bottom price of $1 a share, buy now. Get in before the big announcement is suddenly made that the play is over and the $1 shares are a matter of history.

You are taking no chance. There is oil under Huntington Beach. That we know. We are absolutely confident of getting oil. Of that we are convinced. When we do get oil, we can absolutely assure you of the squarest kind of a square deal. That is all you want in an oil company—oil and a square deal.

Look over the list of oil companies that have started with an experienced petroleum engineer as a guide, and with reputable business men to look after the financial affairs of the company. See what these companies have done. One such company has paid 250% in cash dividends yearly for the last three years. It is almost four years old. When its next dividend is paid, it will have paid its original stockholders a total of 1,000 per cent in dividends!

You have an opportunity TODAY of becoming one of the original stockholders of the Bolsa Chica Oil Company.

PRODUCE MARKET FIRM UNDER BRISK DEMAND.

CELERY MAKES STRONG ADVANCE; POTATOES HIGHER; SUPPLY LIGHT.

Although supplies both from the country and by rail were liberal yesterday, the market held firm for the majority of the leading lines under an active buying demand on the part of retailers and peddlers, and there were few price changes recorded during the day. Summer squash, although in heavier supply, sold readily at $1.50 to $1.75 per crate, the price level of Saturday's session. Celery was scarce, and the market for this commodity advanced sharply, the best offering from Chula Vista districts selling as high as $4.50 to $5 per crate. Northern potatoes were slightly firmer yesterday on account of limited arrivals, the fancy grades selling at a premium of 5 to 10 cents per hundred. Idaho Russets were bringing from $2.25 to $2.35 per sack. Peat moved up 1 cent per pound, Imperial Valley stock bringing from 8 to 10 cents per pound, while the San Pedro offerings ranged from 12 to 14 cents per pound.

The undertone of the carlot potato market was firm, despite continued slow movement. A car of Idaho Russets brought $2.20 Saturday, while most of the arrivals were held for $2.25. Idaho Rurals sold at $1.85, a gain of about 20 cents per hundred over previous sales. New stock from the San Diego district was firm and in good demand at 10 to 12 cents per pound.

A weaker feeling prevailed in the shipping market for Los Angeles lettuce, the decline being due principally to the poor quality of the offerings. Carlot sales ranged from $1.05 to $1.85, with demand very slow. The movement of the Imperial Valley crop is practically over, the quality of the stock now offered being inferior.

TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY.

S-A CONVEYORS and ELEVATORS

GREATER SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA STRAIGHT AHEAD

Furnished from Los Angeles

S-A BELT CONVEYORS
are among the foremost labor savers of the present age. You see them throughout the country, carrying SUGAR in the great Spreckels refineries in California; SAND and GRAVEL for building purposes; CEMENT in the immense plants around Los Angeles; ORES in the great smelting plants of Arizona; WHEAT and FLOUR in the great mills and elevators. There is scarcely a product that humanity uses but somewhere in the process from raw material to user is handled by S-A labor-saving devices.

S-A MARKET CONVEYORS
for handling meats and packages in retail and wholesale markets are giving wonderful service. Here as elsewhere, S-A details are embodied in a quiet, smooth-running, ball bearing belt conveyor.

S-A BUCKET ELEVATORS are designed and built by S-A specialists to meet special conditions. Technical engineers make careful specifications of the machinery required for your individual needs. Each S-A bucket elevator is an efficient, simple, labor-saving device for your particular work.

S-A PACKAGE CONVEYORS are being used in many of the large wholesale and retail establishments. In no place can S-A equipment more readily demonstrate its labor-saving qualities than when it replaces men and trucks and gives in place a steady, evenly distributed flow of boxes, crates and packages, taking them to their proper floors or stations for storage and distribution.

S-A LABOR-SAVING DEVICES are recognized as standard equipment the world over. THE STEPHENS-ADAMSON MFG. CO., engineering and manufacturing facilities are at your service. It will pay you to investigate the possibility of a saving by means of modern labor-saving machines. Try out on to yourself, your stockholders and the public to make this investigation.

SOUTH GOOD SELLER AT COTTON OPENING.

SHOWING EXPLAINS DROP OF TWELVE POINTS IN DAY'S FIRST PRICES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—The South was a good seller at the opening of the New York cotton market, which chiefly explained a drop of 12 points in first prices. The market at New Orleans developed firmness, however, which was attributed to low temperatures in the Southwest. This caused a covering movement that advanced prices toward those at the close last Thursday. The weekly statistics were considered to be a standoff.

May sold up from 12.30 to 12.45 cents, and July from 12.70 to 12.80 cents before the end of the first hour, with active months generally showing net advances of 3 to 7 points.

The average price of cotton received by southern producers as of March 1 this year was 10.3 compared with 11.8 on February 1, the peak of 27.5 on May 1, 1920, and with 36.2 on March 1, 1920.

Reports of low temperatures in the South where crop preparations for planting are further advanced than usual at this season of the year, helped the early advance, the general list selling up 13 to 20 points. Prices were within a few points of Thursday's closing around midday.

"That Something"
Is the reason behind every success. Whether it be utility or Profit, the Commodity which excites a favorable comment among buyers is SURE to find a ready sale.
There is "that something" about
RICHFIELD EASTERN OIL COMPANY which is causing it to be the most talked-of issue on the market today—and one of the most active.
The "that something" about Richfield Eastern may be because of the company's 90 acres in Richfield, California's "Most Consistent Gusher Field"—or it may be because of my having been connected with several of Richfield's recent successes. At ANY rate, "that something" is bringing scores of people to my offices, and is making new Richfield Eastern stockholders every hour of the day.
There are a LOT of "Somethings" about Richfield Eastern that will interest you. The best way TO find out is to get in touch with me while shares at par—$1.00—are still available. I advise your coming to my office AT ONCE, or writing or phoning.

TRANSPORTATION DEPARTMENT

Washington advices say that the administration is planning the establishment of a Department of Transportation, with a Cabinet officer at its head. Such a department would knit the government's relations with rail and water transport more closely, and, it is argued, would facilitate transportation and stimulate production. The matter may be brought to the attention of the new Congress.

FARM LOAN BONDS.

April 15 is the earliest date on which the new Federal farm loan bonds can be ready. Just before it adjourned Congress extended the call period of the bonds, necessitating the preparation of new plates. The new offering will be made through Federal land banks, farm loan associations and distributing houses, the amount to be determined by the demand for loans and by bond market conditions.

GOLD RESERVE FALLS.

Gold reserves held by the Twelfth Federal Reserve Bank at the close of business March 25 were $190,930,000. For the preceding week they were $197,646,000 and for the corresponding week in 1920, $166,578,000. Other totals contained in the comparative statement are:

Total bills on hand, $182,050,000; earning assets, $194,912,000; total resources, $426,774,000, which compares with $427,016,000 for the preceding week and $405,781,000 for the corresponding week last year.

Due to members, reserve account, $114,351,000; total deposits, $131,010,000; Federal Reserve notes in actual circulation, $232,532,000, which show a slight increase for the week, but about $10,000,000 for the year. Discount rates on all classes of paper remain at 6 per cent.

EXTRA DIVIDEND.

New Pennsylvania Petroleum has declared an extra dividend of ½ cent per share, which makes the dividend for March 1 cent per share.

NORWAY BONDS READY.

Bond & Goodwin & Tucker, Inc., advise that the permanent bonds of the Kingdom of Norway 8 per cent sinking fund external gold bonds, due October, 1940, are now ready in New York, in exchange for temporary certificates. This concern will effect the exchange for local holders.

ANOTHER MOVE.

The new Stock Exchange Building is filling up with investment and financial houses. Yesterday Banks, Huntley & Co. occupied attractive quarters on the twelfth floor of the new building, removing from the Hibernian Building. The stock exchange proper will probably not be ready for occupancy before May.

LOS ANGELES STOCKS.

United Eastern mining was the sensation of the day on the Los Angeles exchange. News that a decision in favor of this company had been handed down in the apex suit pending for many months was followed by great activity on the floor. First sales were consummated at $2.70, followed by two 5-cent jumps, the morning session closing at $2.80, in the crowd there was fairly heavy trading and the price continued upward to $2.82½, which was the closing bid, with no stock offered for less than $2.85, and establishing a high point for the year. Tom Reed Mining, at the short end of the decision, lost 5 points and sold down to $1.19.

Other mines were sympathetically affected and there was strength all through the list with United American selling from 32½ up to 35½ cents, and Virginia Laguna to 29 cents. Oils were not especially demonstrative, although Union of California was active in odd lots around $155, California Edison was strong at $93.50 and Los Angeles Investment picked up 10 cents bid in the late-day transactions on the strength of a rumored sale of the Trinity Auditorium property.

BARLEY MOVES UP TO STRONGER CLOSE.

Grain prices made a sharp advance on the local grain exchange yesterday. The upward trend of prices was due principally to the gain made by the cereals markets, local support aiding.

Trading was slow and indifferent, with few transactions recorded during the session. At the close of the call track and transit barley ruled 25 cents per ton above the quotations of the preceding day, the fifteen-day shipment was 75 cents higher, and the near-by delivered showed a gain of 50 cents. A car of spot barley brought $1.27½, and a car for eight days' shipment sold at $1.30. The following were the sales: Barley moving up 75 cents per ton, while the May article was 50 cents higher.

SUN OIL

The more I see of the activity that this Company is putting forth—the more I become acquainted with the clean-cut management and policy of Sun Oil — the more I talk with disinterested oil men in the field, the more thoroughly convinced I become that Sun Oil is going to grow into a power among California's oil corporations.

Unless I am all wrong, investors who take advantage of the present chance to buy Sun Oil at 50 cents, are going to make a barrel of money. I sincerely and earnestly urge the purchase of Sun Oil—will be glad to handle your orders at the Company price (no commission charged)—and give you any information you may request, from the brokers' standpoint, which is impartial and unbiased. Get in touch with me by phone or letter if you cannot see me at my office.

ALL GRAIN MARKETS HAVE BETTER TONE.

SEVERAL DROPS IN PRICES EARLIER IN DAY; CLOSE AROUND BEST.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 28.—All the grain markets had a better tone, especially toward the last. There were several drops in prices earlier in the day which were more than recovered, the close being at around the best of the day, with wheat up 2 to 2¼ cents, corn ⅜ to ¾ cent, oats ¼ to ⅝ cent and barley 1¼ cents, while rye was ¼ to ½ cent lower.

Cash wheat at Chicago was down to March price for red and light winters, at Minneapolis the choice spring wheat was 1 cent higher and others unchanged with four sales light. Exporters are finding difficulty in buying cash wheat and there is a healthy situation. Seaboard houses bought May and March wheat here and reported 1,500,000 bushels sold for export, despite the fact that this is a religious holiday abroad. Although cash wheat is at March prices and March is 13 to 14 cents over May and the July in which trade started today for the first time is 17 cents under May, traders assume that the discounts are too great to make it safe to sell short on breaks.

Trading in July wheat started at $1.22 to $1.23, or higher than expected. The top price was $1.23½ and the close $1.23¼ to $1.23½. March sold up 4½ cents from the low point and May rose to light offerings, and closed at $1.57 to $1.57½, while May advanced 5¼ cents and closed at $1.42¼ to $1.43¼.

May corn sold at new low levels at 63¾ cents, with a top of 64½ cents, and closed around the top at 64½ to 64¾ cents. Local traders were the best sellers on the bottom and buyers around the top. There was no substantial commission-house buying at 63½ to 64 cents. Country offerings were light and cash discounts on the low grades ¾ cent under with No. 2 white 10 to 11 cents under May. Cash prices were unchanged to ¼ cent lower with shipping sales 50,000 bushels. Receipts were 57 cars, including 2 of contract, 2000 bushels, and are 12,988,000 bushels, while the visible with its increase of 2,227,000 bushels brings the total to 52,024,000 bushels against 5,086 bushels last year.

Shorts were good buyers of oats and found selling pressure lighter, which with the strength in other grains created a more confident feeling. Light country offerings also helped in that direction. Cash prices were unchanged to ¼ cent lower with shipping sales 75,000 bushels. Visible stocks decreased 800,000 bushels and are 84,813,000 bushels, against 9,576,000 bushels last year.

Rye futures were easy with fair offerings to sellers, but buyers which was partly offset by the strength in other markets, local support aiding.

Due to members, reserve account, $114,351,000; total deposits, $131,010,000; Federal Reserve notes in actual circulation, $232,532,000, which show a slight increase for the week, but about $10,000,000 for the year. Discount rates on all classes of paper remain at 6 per cent.

AND ENVIRONS.

On International Wars.

"A Remedy for International Wars" will be discussed at a meeting of the open forum class at the McKinley Evening High School, Vernon and McKinley avenues, this evening. J. H. McEldowney will be the speaker.

For the Odd Fellows.

District No. 35, I.O.O.F. will hold the last quarterly district convention in the grand lodge year, this evening, in Odd Fellow's Hall, 220½ South Main street. The seven lodges in the district will participate in the program and District Deputy Blakely will preside.

On World Topics.

A series of three talks on world topics has been arranged by the Gamut Club for members and the public, the first of which will be given at 8:15 p.m. today in the club's auditorium, 1044 South Hope street. Edmund Russell will be the speaker. He has returned to this country after a period of eight years in which he spent part of the time in London working for the Allied troops, in hospitals, rest camps and other places. The topic of his first talk will be "Our Soldier Poets of the New Awakening." He will speak again on April 1 on "Great Women of India," and April 7 on "Shakespeare in India and Indian Shakespeares."

LAY KILLING BY TONGMEN TO LOTTERY.

Drawing Watched Through Knothole, Ticket Marked Accordingly, Court is Told.

Whether a fight for a Chinese slave girl or a secret controversy over a large lottery winning led to the tong war that recently broke out in Chinatown here and spread to other Coast cities, was a question still in doubt yesterday, when Chin Bing and Chew Key, Hop Sing Tong members, were held to answer for murder. They are accused of having slain Yee Fat and Yong Leun, Bing Kong Tong men, on December 31.

In a statement made by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hill before Justice Brown, it was charged that a Hop Sing man made a large winning in a Chinese lottery, but members of the Bing Kong Tong charged that he had watched the lottery drawing through a hole in the wall, and then went out and marked a ticket accordingly.

Although the defendants were held, the court fixed bail at $15,000 each, while defendants are not ordinarily admitted to bail on murder charges.

Mulholland's Daughter Wins an Annulment.

Mrs. Lucille Mulholland Strang, daughter of William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles water department, was granted an annulment of her marriage to Justice Benjamin C. Strang of Pasadena in Judge Summerfield's court yesterday. Evidence in the case was heard some time ago and the decision only just handed down. Justice Strang did not contest the suit.

In her testimony Mrs. Mulholland told the court that her marriage to Justice Strang was never a reality. The separation occurred shortly after a secret wedding. Previously Mrs. Strang had been granted a divorce from Edmund G. Sloan.

HARDING INDORSES IRISH FAMINE FUND.

AMERICA NEVER WILL TURN DEAF EAR TO SUFFERING, SAYS PRESIDENT.

Inspired by the hearty indorsement of President Harding, added to that received a few days ago from Herbert Hoover, America's ambassador to suffering humanity, as Chairman Haldeman described him, local campaigners directing the movement in Southern California of the American Committee for Relief in Ireland yesterday were heartened in their work when a telegram from President Harding was read at the noon meeting at Jahnke's Tavern by State Chairman Doheny.

President Harding's message to the campaigners follows:

"I wish you the fullest measure of success in every worthy effort to make a becoming contribution on the part of our people to relieve distress among the women and children in Ireland. The people of American never will be deaf to the call for relief in behalf of suffering humanity and the knowledge of distress in Ireland makes quick and deep appeal to the more fortunate of our own land, where so many of our citizens trace kinship to the Emerald Isle.

[Signed]

"WARREN G. HARDING."

The local committee now has in hand upwards of $60,000 of the $100,000 quota assigned for Los Angeles city and county.

The team led by M. H. Whittier and Tom O'Donnell heads the list with $16,775 turned in. Close behind and almost a tie for second place are the teams of Joseph Scott, Victor H. Rossetti, B. H. Dyas and Joseph Ford. Teams led by Charles Bergin and Reese Llewellyn promise a spurt to avoid last place on the list.

Counties in the southern part of the state are reporting material success in obtaining their quotas. Kern, Ventura and Santa Barbara counties joined in the report yesterday that they had secured the sums asked of them, and were not going to stop.

The campaign in San Diego county began yesterday. Orange county is already on the way toward its quota, and Imperial and San Bernardino are making a thorough canvass with the warm approval of all classes in their community, because of the nonpartisan and nonsectarian nature of the campaign.

JAIL FORMER CASHIER AS BAD-CHECK PASSER.

MAN SAID TO BE WANTED IN AT LEAST TEN CITIES IS ARRESTED HERE.

Fred D. Krull, aged 34, man of many aliases, former bank cashier and traveling salesman, said to be wanted in at least ten cities for passing spurious checks that have netted him $20,000 in the last two years, was arrested yesterday by J. W. Baldwin, night manager of the Nick Harris Detective Agency.

After a severe questioning, Krull is said to have admitted several of the asserted misdeeds for which his arrest has long been sought.

His operations are declared to have been in Los Angeles, Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Denver, Salt Lake City, Sioux City, Cedar Rapids and Des Moines, Iowa, and El Centro. His reported admissions deal largely with fictitious checks passed in Los Angeles during the last six months. During most of this time he has lived at expensive hotels, but when arrested he had a room at 1207 West Ninth street, a private home.

The method that Krull is declared by detectives to have used was to get acquainted with women of good family and then by using their names as introduction he was able to cash bad checks in stores and banks.

He was lodged in the City Jail on a charge of suspicion of having passed fictitious checks.

SOLDIER IS MISSING.

Police Asked to Aid in Search for Air Service Private.

Local police officers have been asked to aid in the search for Elwood E. Barbee, a private of the Army Air Service, who has been absent without leave from the Letterman General Hospital at San Francisco, since the 8th inst. Col. J. M. Kennedy, commanding officer at the hospital, in a letter to Chief of Police Pendegast, declares the man has not been dropped as a deserter, because he is believed to be mentally unbalanced.

The missing soldier is described as of light complexion, blue eyes, light brown hair, height five feet eight inches. As far as is known, the young man is believed to be dressed in the regulation olive drab uniform. He is a frequenter of hotel lobbies, cinema studios and airdromes.

DOG ROUTS BURGLAR.

Pet in Bedroom Prevents Robbery at South Grand-avenue Home.

Because he kept his pet dog in his sleeping room, and because the dog was a light sleeper and barked when suddenly awakened, are the reasons why S. Christie, 617 South Grand avenue, was not robbed early yesterday morning, according to a report made by Detectives Gross and Vail.

Mr. Christie reported to the police that when he was awakened Monday morning by the barking of his dog, he saw two armed and masked men in his room.

He at once sprang toward the marauders, who fled pursued by the dog. The case is being investigated by the police.

WOMAN TO GET LAND.

Final Proof on Tract Near Lancaster Will be Allowed.

By a decision of the Secretary of the Interior, received yesterday at the local Land Office, Margaret A. Hodgkinson, who entered 320 acres of land near Lancaster, under the desert land laws will be allowed to make her final proof.

When the entry-woman offered to make final proof, there were protests. Deputies of the general Land Office at Washington visited the land and found in favor of the woman. This was reversed by the commissioner of the General Land Office, but the Secretary of the Interior, to whom an appeal was made, sustained the views of the field division, and reversing the judgment of the commissioner. The case was never acted on by the local Land Office.

PORT NOTES.

The Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Hague Maru arrived from New York yesterday afternoon and tied up at the outer harbor dock. The Hague Maru will load a heavy shipment of cotton for Shanghai and Hongkong, and will also take bunker coal here.

The freighters Wallingford and Centralia entered the harbor yesterday, the Wallingford from Iquique and the Centralia from Salina Cruz.

The Pacific Steamship Company's giant new liner Wenachatee reported by wireless yesterday that she was delayed by the heavy gale that raged off the coast several days ago, and will probably not arrive at the harbor until tomorrow morning. The Wenatchee will probably remain in port at pier A for twenty-four hours.

Another vessel which was delayed considerably on account of the heavy gale was the Luckenbach's Line fast freighter Katrina Luckenbach. This vessel was expected at the harbor Sunday but will not arrive until today.

How to Enjoy the Springtime

Once a year Nature refreshes the earth. She adorns our land with pretty new frocks—apple blossoms, daisies, a wonderful new green on the hillside, a softer blue in the sky. Then, along the warm South winds, Nature sends her caresses—to all of us!

It's a time for laughter. Throw off the drab spell of winter, laugh and love, laugh and be well and happy! You'll make the people around you happy, and that will be the most God-like thing you've ever done.

You can't do it so naturally, or with perfect sincerity, if your toes are pinched in tight shoes, if your feet are bound stiffly to rigid soles, if your body is tilted out of normal balance by heels too high.

But you will enjoy the springtime, you will walk with joy, you will go out-of-doors and take from Nature the tonic that she freely offers, if those wonderful feet of yours are comfortably and sensibly fitted in the Cantilever Shoe!

MRS. PULLMAN OF CHICAGO PASSES.

Wife of Sleeping Car Man Dies at Pasadena.

Wintered in Crown City Regularly for Years.

Lowden's Mother-in-Law; One of Richest Women.

Mrs. George M. Pullman of Chicago, widow of the man whose genius created the Pullman car, and whose enterprise developed it, died yesterday afternoon at her apartments at the Raymond Hotel, Pasadena, where she was spending the winter.

Her daughter, Mrs. Frank O. Lowden; her son-in-law, former governor Lowden of Illinois, and her grand-daughter, Miss Harriet Lowden, were at her bedside. She has another daughter, Mrs. Hattie Sherman.

Mrs. Pullman died from bronchial pneumonia after three days' illness. She was 79 years old and her advanced age made it impossible for her to withstand the disease. She was unconscious toward the last. She died came shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday.

For many years Mrs. Pullman had been coming to Pasadena every winter season, arriving the latter part of December and remaining until April. This winter former Gov. Lowden, relieved of the responsibilities of office, came West with his family, and joined her here. The children have been at the Raymond all winter. The party was making plans to return to Chicago when Mrs. Pullman was seized with pneumonia.

Mrs. Pullman probably was one of the wealthiest women in America. Her estate is estimated as being from $8,000,000 to $20,000,000. Her husband had amassed a fortune from the Pullman company at his death in 1897 and since then the development of the railroad and increase in volume of business has greatly increased the family fortune. Mrs. Pullman always brought her own retinue of servants, her own motor cars and chauffeur to Pasadena every winter. Her suite at the Raymond was reserved for her each season and was occupied according to her own wishes. She greatly enjoyed her annual visits to Pasadena and was an enthusiastic motorist.

The body of Mrs. Pullman will be taken back to her native Illinois for burial in Graceland Cemetery, Chicago.

No funeral services will be held here. It is possible that a brief funeral service will be held at the Raymond this afternoon, but this had not been definitely determined at last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowden will leave with the East with Mrs. Pullman's body in one of the Pullman company's private cars tomorrow.

Mrs. Mae B. Gagen.

LEADER OF SOCIAL SET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 28. — Mrs. George M. Pullman, who died today at Pasadena, for years had been a leader of Chicago's social set. She devoted her time in almost equal measure to travel, social affairs and charities.

As Miss Harriet Sanger of Chicago, she married George M. Pullman, inventor of the Pullman coach, in 1867. Mr. Pullman died thirty years later.

The Pullman home on the lower South Side was one of the few to be maintained there when the majority of the city social leaders moved to the North Side.

Mrs. Pullman's charitable efforts centered largely about the destitute children of Chicago. She also was interested keenly in hospital work.

"UNCLE MOSE" BETTER.

Philanthropist Plans Large Party for Children on May Day.

"Uncle Mose" Lowenstein is better and should be hale and hearty on May Day, when he plans to give a huge party for the children of Los Angeles. It was his activities for this event that brought on an attack of pneumonia. Early yesterday Mr. Lowenstein, who is at his home, 1615 Trinity street, was reported critically ill, but last night he was much improved.

HUNT AMERICA FOR AUTO MAN.

Charge Metz Agent Murphy is Man Wanted as Swindler.

Strange Case Revealed When Motor Agent Disappears.

Mistaken Identity or "High Finance," Say Police.

A nation-wide search for Patrick J. Murphy, known in Los Angeles as the western representative of the Metz Sales Corporation and the Metz Motor Company, of Boston and Waltham, Mass., yesterday revealed an amazing story of what the authorities say is either a case of mistaken identity or "high timber finance." The hunt for Murphy was started by the constable's office after a bench warrant for the man's arrest was issued by Justice Hinshaw Friday afternoon.

Murphy, the officials say, had in his possession documents and credentials showing he was the authorized agent for the sale of the Metz cars in all territory west of the Mississippi, and ratings in various commercial agencies for over $150,000. In spite of this the man was identified by at least three persons as A. J. Kelley, charged in two warrants issued in 1919 with embezzlement and obtaining money under false pretenses. H. S. Garfield, an automobile truck salesman of 207 North Mariposa avenue, and H. L. Johnson, an insurance man, the complaining witnesses in the two cases against Murphy, say that he is A. J. Kelley, who, they declare, swindled them out of $5000 in 1919. Murphy was arrested after Johnson and Garfield identified him at the recently established Metz agency at 1534 West Seventh street.

As a result of Murphy's arrest and disappearance, following temporary release on bail, a number of investigations are now under way by private detective agencies representing insurance companies, automobile supply houses, banks and others interested in the recent transactions carried on by Murphy, his bride of a year and a half is hysterical with grief at her home, 3712 West Twenty-first street, and the affairs of the Metz agency here, headed by Murphy, are tangled.

According to Garfield and his friends, the deal in 1919, resulting in the charges against Kelley grew out of an alleged fraudulent transaction in which Kelley undertook to sell to Garfield and associates eleven automobile trucks, collected $5000 in advance, and disappeared in an expensive automobile, for which he never paid. A touch of grim humor is contained in the story of how Murphy was identified as Kelley. Murphy, Constables Hayes and Adams say, contracted to take over the agency for seven States for an automobile truck and asked the representative of that company to send him a live salesman. The truck company head sent Mr. Garfield who says he immediately recognized Murphy as the man he had been seeking all over the country, and notified Mr. Johnson. Johnson, also, the officers say, identified Murphy as Kelley.

The two men, accompanied by Patrolman L. L. Burke rushed over to Murphy's house, where they found him in an automobile, ready to leave. Murphy was then taken to Justice Forbes court and put up $1500 cash bail, his case being set for March 31. As he was leaving the courtroom he was arrested on the second charge. Justice Hinshaw set his bail at $3000 cash. Murphy put up $1500 and promised to return the next day with the rest. He failed to show up and a bench warrant was issued and given to Constable Thomas to serve. A trip to the house disclosed the fact that Murphy was missing.

According to Mrs. Mae B. Gagen, for some time stenographer for Murphy, another man identified him as Kelley about three weeks ago. Murphy denied he was Kelley, but became very restless after that. Mrs. Gagen left Murphy's employment three days before his arrest, but promised last night to assist the authorities in the untangling of the different transactions charged to the missing man. Another man who is expected to prove of great assistance to the authorities is R. F. Howard, until four weeks ago manager for Murphy's establishment in Los Angeles. Mr. Howard withdrew, he says, on the advice of his attorneys, when he disagreed with Murphy over business methods. According to Mr. Howard, Murphy told him he was a secret service man and occupied a high position with the Metz companies.

Correspondence and telegrams signed by Roscoe A. Pickens, treasurer and managing director of the Metz Sales Corporation, found by the officers in Murphy's office, showed that P. J. Murphy was in constant touch with the Boston and Waltham offices of the company, and that he was handling large deals for the concerns.

Charles H. Metz, head of the Metz Motor Company at Waltham, told a Times representative that Murphy was a dealers' agent for the company, but referred him to Mr. Pickens for details of the case. Mr. Pickens, however, refused to discuss the matter. The missing man's connection with the company was established, the officers say, by a telegram found in Murphy's office, signed by Pickens, under the date of March 23, asking what disposition was made by Murphy of the twenty-seven cars withdrawn by Murphy from warehouses. There were also telegrams showing that a deal for the transfer to Murphy of 100 automobiles was in progress.

Overcome with grief, and unable to comprehend all the details of the complicated affair, Mrs. Murphy was not in a condition to discuss the case, but gave, through a woman companion, her version of the affair. She said she married Mr. Murphy in the north and that she had always known him under that name. She had not heard from him since Friday afternoon, Mrs. Murphy said, and was under the impression that he had gone to raise the rest of his bail money. The arrest and the charges came as a great blow to her, her companion said.

JAIL TERM FOR BEBE DANIELS.

Cinema Star Fails to Vamp Orange County Judge.

Hard-Hearted Jury Decides Guilt in Seven Minutes.

Huge Crowd Jams Courthouse at Santa Ana Event.

Justice Cox hated to do it, but—

He sentenced Bebe Daniels yesterday to serve ten days in jail. Even as Mary, Queen of Scots, so courageously received the stroke of death from a swarthy headsman of Elizabethan days, so did Miss Daniels display a brave little smile as the Santa Ana judge lopped ten days of liberty from her fair young life.

The trial of Bebe Daniels shall ring through future years as the greatest day of many in Orange county history. It packed the Courthouse; it drew into the county seat scores of ranchers who, had Bebe Daniels not been in town, would have been tilling their soil; it brought forth some of the most eloquent bits of oratory that ever rang through the Orange county halls of justice; and it brought one of the speediest verdicts of guilty ever returned by an Orange county jury.

And all because Bebe Daniels was captured by a motorcycle cop at the moment she was speeding 56.25 miles per hour on the Irvine Boulevard. She wanted a jury trial, and she got it. And when it was over at the close of day, wearily she turned homeward, fatigued, reclining in her glistening limousine—and eating peanuts.

BLAMED RADIATOR.

Miss Daniels, a cinema star, was arrested on January 8 by Motorcycle Officer "Shorty" Myers. The burst of excessive speed, she said, had been urged by a leaking radiator. The "leaking radiator" during the trial provided the intent for the 56.25 per. It was the theme of hours of silver-tongued oratory—the leaking radiator.

Back-fence gossips and curbstone debaters had argued that if Justice Cox failed to give her ten days in jail, his reputation would be ruined. Never had the "eat 'em up" judge failed before to send speeders to jail, who had been caught going faster than fifty miles per hour. Other guilty ones had appealed to the higher courts, but in every case the decisions of Justice Cox had been upheld.

Then arose the question: "Would Bebe vamp the judge?"

FEARED "VAMPING."

Justice Cox admitted that he feared she would try to vamp him. Again the back-fence gossips remarked that if he released her on probation or only imposed a fine it was proof that she had vamped him.

Miss Daniels, with her mother, Mrs. Phyllis Daniels, and several friends, arrived early at the Santa Ana Courthouse. They found it packed an hour before the opening of the trial. Nearly two hours were consumed in selecting the jury.

During the selection of the jury Miss Daniels was extremely nervous. She kept herself occupied tugging at the skirt hem that enveloped her silken-clad ankles.

NO YOUTHS ON JURY.

The jury, made up of elderly men, most of whom were retired ranchers and real estate dealers—was chosen and Shorty Myers was called as the first witness. He said he caught Miss Daniels in a "speed trap." She had traveled 330 feet in 4 seconds—82 feet in 1 second, or 56.25 miles per hour. With these figures as a basis, the trial developed into a scientific mathematical research of figures, trigonometry, hypotenuses, corollaries and unsolved triangles.

Attorney Gilbert attempted to establish the "leaking radiator" as cause for intent, but not as a criminal intent. Arrayed on the side of the prosecution were Dist.-Atty. Nelson and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Mosely. Mr. Mosely declared that a faulty automobile was no cause for exceeding speed limits.

HIS CAR NEVER FIT.

"I have a car—I mean a Ford—but because my car has a rattle in it it does not permit me to exceed the speed limit every day in the year. If I did I would be a constant violator, for that darned car of mine is never in good condition."

The testimony of Miss Daniels was brief. She said she did not realize how fast she was going until the officer stopped her; that she had only been in a hurry to get to San Juan Capistrano to have the radiator fixed.

When Miss Daniels took the witness stand the level of the crowd swelled with craning necks and a buzz of muffled whispers arose.

"She oughta get ten years," quoth one bewhiskered gent.

"Poor thing, it'll be a pity to send her to jail," quoth a woman

GAY PAGEANT WINS GOLD.

Hail Children's Hospital Festival as Artistic and Financial Triumph.

Hailed as an artistic and financial triumph, the great charity pageant and ball given last night in the Ambassador ballroom for the benefit of the Children's Hospital, probably exceeded from every standpoint all earlier indoor pageantry here, and netted a larger sum than any other charity entertainment ever given in Southern California.

Sold out completely several days in advance, the ticket board was blank yesterday, while hundreds clamored for admission on almost any basis. The committee in charge announced at noon that more than $6000 had been received from the sale of box seats alone, and last evening the total of tallied receipts from all sources was more than $16,000.

Last night ballroom and lobby were packed to capacity. Those forced to content themselves with standing room in the lobby did not fare so poorly after all, because a wide avenue down the center of the lobby and ballroom had to be kept open for the procession to pass through on its way from the palm room to the stage, and everyone in attendance had a fair opportunity to see the gay pageant of nations.

THE BIG MAGNET.

Gay dinner parties, in which the foremost society people of the Southland participated, preceded the entertainment, and at the conclusion of the pageant at 11 p.m., when the grand ball started a continuous buffet dinner was served by the hotel. The big charity entertainment attracted thousands of persons from this city, Pasadena and other places. The nature of the program called out hundreds of persons from the French and Italian colonies. The motion-picture industry was prominently represented, professional theatrical folk were present in large numbers, and society was out in full force. The Ambassador was the big magnet last night. The appeal for funds with which to extend the great work of the Children's Hospital was irresistible, and the patronage was limited wholly to the ability of the hotel to accommodate those who desired to attend.

The pageant was presented in six divisions, being a symbolization of Orient and Occident in song, story and dance. Ernest Warde, son of Frederick Warde, was director-general of the stupendous production, and scores of prominent young society women joined with tsars from the motion-picture and theatrical world in forming the several casts which presented the entertainment. There were more than 500 players in the grand revue.

FAMOUS CHARACTERS.

France, Italy, Russia, England, China and Indo-Persia were the national groups represented. Famous characters of history were also featured. The committee in charge of the ball which followed the pageant consisted of Mrs. Michael J. Connell, Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff, Mrs. Russell McD. Taylor, Mrs. Cecil De Mille, Mrs. Gardner Bullis, Mrs. Albert Crutcher, Mrs. Edwin T. Earl and Mrs. Hancock Banning.

Other committees were as follows: Music, Mrs. Harry D. Lombard and Mrs. Kirk Johnson; Columbia contest, Mrs. James Page, Mrs. Herman Janss, Mrs. A. C. Denman, Mrs. Budd Frankenfeld and Mrs. R. Wernicke; program, Mrs. West Hughes, Mrs. Curtis Williams, Mrs. T. H. Dudley, Mrs. Hill Hastings and Mrs. A. W. Ellington; decorations, Mrs. William M. Garland, Mrs. John Milner, Mrs. Willis Hunt, Mrs. Maurice Hellman and Mrs. Sidney Wailes; invitations, Mrs. Robert I. Rogers, Mrs. William Rhodes Hervey, Mrs. Lee A. Phillips, Mrs. Wellington Morse and Mrs. Seeley Mudd; boxes and tickets, Mrs. C. L. Peck, Mrs. Lyman McFie and Mrs. Herman Henneberger; floor committee, Russell McD. Taylor and aides; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Newlin.

GRACEFUL WOMEN POSE.

The program opened at 9 p.m. with a tableau featuring three figures representing Mercy, Charity and Miss Columbia. Mrs. Earle Anthony appeared in the role of Mercy, Mrs. Gwendolyn Hubbard was cast as Charity, and Miss Annabelle Ralphs played the role of Miss Columbia.

Directed by Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, the first section, an English fantasy, told how Queen Elizabeth had been inveigled into the belief that Shakespeare stole Bacon's thunder. She ordered him beheaded. He submitted the children of his brain for her inspection, and she was so impressed that after ordering his release she crowned him the genius of the world. The cast consisted of: Mrs. Elizabeth Wood Stack, Mrs. Florence Dowling, Mrs. Ferdinand Earle, Mrs. Florence Wood Clark, Mrs. Harry Culver, Miss Gene Ross, Mrs. Harmon Ryus, Wedgewood Nowell, Miss Louise Estes, Miss Morrison, Harry Dean, R. D. MacLean, Kathlyn Williams, Florence Stone, Mary Miles Minter, Frederic KoVert, Carl Stockdale, George L. Smith, Margaret Miles Shelby, Mrs. Charlotte K. Satterlee, William A. Dodd, William P. Carleton, Mrs. Tyler Tubbs Henshaw, Carl Gantvort, Basil Ruysdael, Betty Blyth, Irma Stone, Arthur Jessamine, Katherine Albert, Clarice Vreedenberg and Miss Irene Pavloska.

FIRE BIRD LEGEND.

"The Legend of the Fire Bird" was presented by the Russian group, under the direction of James Mitchell Leisen. The cast of characters included Mme. M. Barnovsky, Michael Neushul, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Herman Henneberger, Garret Winne, Miss Grimes, Miss Marguerite Brunswig, Mrs. Hill, Miss Frances Turner, Mrs. James Friesner, Miss Wells, Mrs. Grace Wood Jess, Miss Rosalie Wilcox, Miss Wallis, Mrs. Grace Wells, Miss Wilma Hynes, Mr. Leisen, Mr. Hammond, Mrs. George M. Wallace, Mr. Cadwallader, Mr. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hawkins, Mrs. Whiting, Mr. Lynch, Mr. Wells, Mr. Millar, Miss Dorothy Wellborn, Mr. Rydell, Miss Armstrong, Cecelia M. Fischer, Beatrice Turner, Elizabeth Turner, Ruth Foster, Miss Johnson, Alice Tweed, Nedra Mai, Beatrice Landon, Fay Adler, Messrs. Whiting and Peck, Miss De La Motte, Allan Morphy, Mr. Huntley, Miss Lois Wilson, Miss Lila Lee, Mrs. Herman Henneberger, Mme. Marie Romanova.

In striking contrast with this was the simple story of "Po-chii-i," presented by the Chinese group. According to it, the moon goddess drifts through the palaces of Chang-O. She is goddess of sorrow and love. Po-chii-i, a poor poet, fishing in the moonlight, saw her reflection in the water and was so moved by her beauty that he would have drowned himself for love of her had not the goddess appeared and carried him away. This delightful skit was offered by the following cast:

Miss Gloria Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wagner, Dr. and Mrs. Bertnard Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Watton, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Marie Roberts Kamm, Miss Olga Orth, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, Milton Sills, Llonel Barrymore, Martyn Johnson,

JAIL DOCTOR IN CRIMINAL CASE

Charge Illegal Operation on Whittier Heiress.

Accuse Physician of Forcing Youth to Sign Note.

Boy in Asserted Love Tangle Sought by Officers.

Charged with having performed an illegal operation on a 18-year-old heiress of Whittier and with having extorted a $1200 promissory note from a 20-year-old youth, Dr. Leland Taylor, one of the most prominent physicians of Whittier, whose residence is at 218 East Philadelphia street in that city, was arrested last night by Special Agents O'Connell and Sturgess of the State Board of Medical Examiners. The arrest was made in the office of the State board in the Pacific Finance Building in this city. The physician is held in the City Jail on both charges.

The doctor learned the name of a young man who had been attentive to the girl, Mr. O'Connell said, and summoned him to his office, where he had the boy sign a compromising statement and also a note for $1200, under threats of arrest, according to Mr. O'Connell's charges.

After the State Medical Board agents learned of the asserted transaction, they went quietly to Whittier and made a preliminary investigation. Then they summoned the doctor to their offices here yesterday afternoon and following a thorough quizzing, they placed him under arrest.

The name of the boy was withheld at the request of the officers, who expect

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

MOTHER SELFISHNESS.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

A woman's husband died, leaving her with a little girl baby and no money. By almost incredible labor and sacrifices the mother cared for her little daughter and educated her and had her taught a good profession.

The girl well repaid her mother's sacrifices. She grew up into a beautiful and intelligent young woman, devoted to her mother and deeply appreciative of all that the mother had done for her.

Now, alas, comes in the tragedy. The girl has gone the way of all feminine flesh. She has fallen in love with a worthy young man, and the mother's heart is broken. She thinks the girl should stay single and take care of her, and complains of her loneliness because her daughter and her beau go off by themselves.

"My daughter and I have been everything to each other for twenty-two years," waits the mother. "Why should she desert me now for a man she hasn't known six months?"

That is the riddle of the ages. It is the question that each successive generation of parents has asked and to which life gives no answer except to say that it is just nature. Just the mating instinct that is stronger than anything else in the world. "Comes a stranger whistling through the corn fields" and some girl gets up and follows him to the ends of the earth, and she really knows no more why she does it than her mother knows.

Perhaps there is no other thing in the world that is so hard for parents to realize, as the fact that while their children are all-sufficient to them, they are not enough for their children. A mother can so completely absorb herself in her daughter that she literally has no life outside of the girl. She hasn't a thought, or wish, an aspiration, an interest that is not centered in Mamie. She desires no companionship save Mamie's. She wants no amusement better than just being with Mamie. Her idea of a perfectly hilarious evening is spending the hours between dinner and bedtime in heart-to-heart talks with Mamie.

But does Mamie entertain the same sentiments towards mother? Far from it. She may be a good, dutiful daughter, who gives mother a good deal of her time, and drags mother round with her to places of amusement, but no matter how much she loves mother, the society she craves consists of the boys and girls of her own age. She has a million interests apart from mother, and when she pictures her future, it doesn't consist of a tete-a-tete with mother. At the most mother is just a side issue with her. Mother is not the whole thing to her, as she is with mother.

And when Mamie falls in love, mother takes a seat very far back, indeed. It is not that Mamie loves mother any the less. It is only that she is fulfilling her destiny as a woman, which makes the vital interest of her life the building of her own nest, instead of remaining in the home nest, where she was mother's cherished little birdie.

Many mothers weep bitter tears over this. Rather should they rejoice. Every mother should be glad when her daughter is absorbed in her husband. Every woman, who has ever been married herself, knows from experience that only a deep and absorbing love enables any woman, or man, to endure the faults and foibles, the peculiarities and ways, of their life partners. Surely no woman can wish her daughter to be unhappy in her marriage, yet there is no surer sign that marriage has been a failure than a woman's clinging more to her mother than she does to her husband, and turning to her for sympathy and comprehension more than to him.

It is granted that it is hard on the mother, who has given the work of her hands, and the love of her heart to her daughter, to see her fall in love and marry, but what would the mother have? If she loves the girl as she thinks she does, surely she wants to see her happy, to know that she has someone to cherish her and protect her, and stand between her and the hardships of the world. Surely she woud like to see her settled in a home of her own. Surely no mother is selfish enough to desire to doom her daughter to a lonely and forlorn existence, where she must struggle on for her daily bread, just because she desires to monopolize the girl's affections and interests.

"But why be in a hurry?" says the mother. "Why can't my daughter wait? Let her give me a few more years."

The mother deceives herself. The time would never come when she would be willing to step down and out. Nor can the girl wait. Cupid is not a lackey to be ordered to report at a given hour. He comes and goes as he pleases, and one must take love at its flood tide, or not at all.

It is the mother's place, then, to relinquish the center of the stage when the real hero of the girl's drama steps into the spotlight. It is a crime for her to try to keep her daughter from marrying. It is a cruel thing for her to mar the girl's happiness by making her feel that she has to offer up her mother as a sacrifice on the altar of her love.

I go even further than this. I think that a mother should love her daughter not only well enough to let her marry, but she should love her well enough not to go and live with her after she is married, if there is any possible way in which this can be avoided. Every woman in the world knows that a mother-in-law is a disturbing element in any home, and that there is no young couple that does not desire to be alone. Every woman knows that any young couple starting out alone has a far better chance of making a success of matrimony than they have if handicapped by a third party.

Therefore, a woman who wants to secure her daughter's happiness can do no greater thing for her than by refusing to saddle herself on the newlyweds, and the fact that she will be lonely without Mamie, or that she has no interest in life except Mamie, does not alter her position in the case.

Of course, all of this calls for an enormous self-sacrifice. But sacrifice is the middle name of motherhood.

Making More Money.

New York Woman Turns Ideas for Making Children Happy Into Dollars for Her Bank Account.

WHEN Mrs. Helen Speer came face to face with the problem which all wives fear—that of being left alone with the care of a family on their hands—she lost little time in self-commiseration of thinking about her troubles, for she felt that she had no time to waste. She must get to work at once in order that the home might not be disrupted through lack of ready money.

The first step toward the solution of the "What in the world shall I do?" problem was a searching analysis of her own capabilities, coupled with an examination of the people whom she knew.

"There must be one type of thing that they've all been looking for," Mrs. Speer figured, "but have been unable to find. I know that there have been lots of things that I have wanted from time to time, but have been unable to lay my hands upon in the general run of stores. If I could concentrate on something of this sort, the rest ought not to be difficult. Let's see, the best line of approach would be through an appeal to the children——"

And, little by little, Mrs. Speer reached the decision which has not only made her financially independent, but has served to brighten the lives of hundreds of little ones. She commenced the designing and installation of furniture in a number of New York hotels which wished to maintain nurseries for the use of their guests, places where children might be left in safety while their parents shopped or went to the matinee. Several of the hotels already possessed rooms of this kind, but, as Mrs. Speer pointed out, they were cold and uninviting in the extreme. She secured permission to redecorate one of them with a frieze of fairy-tale pictures, blue cockatoos on the furniture and attractive toys of all kinds, and the result was so satisfactory that she received a large check for her services and an immediate offer from three other hotels to undertake the same work for them.

It was only a short step from this to the making of the furniture and the opening of a store in which it was sold. Now Mrs. Speer has her own establishment just off "the avenue" and the growl of the wolf has been entirely lost in the rustle of incoming checks.

Question: Why was George Washington called the Father of His Country? D. T. G.

Answer: George Washington was called the Father of His Country in grateful remembrance of his heroic patriotism, and the fact that having no child of his own, the United States represented to him the posterity which should keep his name.

Q.: Is millet seed used for any purposes other than seeding? W. G.

A.: Millets have been grown for centuries in India, China, Japan, where they are used as human food. In the United States millet is used only as a feed for domestic animals. The only use of seed in this country is for feeding domestic animals and for seeding purposes.

Q.: Who first occupied the White House. E. M. H.

A.: The White House was first occupied by President Adams in 1800.

Q.: What is meant by "catch-as-catch-can" wrestling? D. F. F.

A.: The catch-as-catch-can method of wrestling is otherwise known as the Lancashire and is the only method used in professional wrestling in this country. There are a great many methods of wrestling, some of the best known being the following: Graeco-Roman, Cumberland, Westmoreland, Irish and Jiu Jitsu.

Q.: What is the average number of fatal motor accidents each year? L. S.

A.: According to the National Safety Council the deaths from automobile accidents now approximate 15,000 a year in the United States.

Q.: Was there a War of Devolution, or is the "D" a typographical error? R. M.

A.: There was such a war in 1667-68, which arose from Louis XIV's claims to certain Spanish territories in right of his wife, Maria Theresa, upon whom the ownership was alleged to have "devolved." This war was ended by the Treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle in 1668.

Q.: How many players are needed for the Passion Play as given at Oberammergau? T. C. F.

A.: It has been customary for about 600 to take part in these performances; all are villagers and are instructed by the priest.

Q.: What is meant by a "publisher's dozen"? G. H. S.

A.: A publisher's dozen is 13 copies. This phrase doubtless arose from the early custom of a baker to allow thirteen rolls to each dozen sold—a custom that later found its way into the wholesale, book trade.

Q.: In law, do ten persons constitute a multitude? A. A.

A.: According to some ancient legal authorities, "at least ten" were required to make a multitude.

Q.: What are the five largest cities in the United States? I. M.

A.: The commission form of government varies widely in the different States. The characteristic feature is the combining of all legislative and executive powers in a single body, usually consisting of about five to seven members. The members are elected at large. The Mayor, as a rule, is one of the commission, but has no more power than his associates, though the official head of the city. Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt was hostess at a jolly dinner and dancing party at the Annandale Country Club Saturday evening, arranged as a courtesy to Miss Dorothy Cole of Elmira, N. Y., who is visiting Miss Betty Fleming of Pasadena. The table was attractively adorned with a basket of mixed spring flowers. At the tables were: Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sherry, Lieut. and Mrs. Everett Hall Griswold, Miss Louise Upchurch, Miss Audrey Fleming, Miss Betty McKinney, Wallace Neff, Thaddeus DuDeGraff, Lieut. "Yen" Coney, Paul Mattison, Dr. LeRoy Sherry and Capt. Albert Ellis.

The Bevy of Buds.

Miss Beatrice Bixby, the sweet little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bixby, Jr., of Long Beach, was guest of honor at a small tea party at which Admiral Nathan Twining entertained Friday on board the New Mexico. There were seven young girls in the group, as well as a number of ensigns and lieutenants. Admiral Twining was assisted by Mrs. Twining, Mrs. Bixby and Miss Charlotte Kingore Satterlee and one or two other young matrons.

Visit of Mrs. Price.

Mrs. E. V. Price of Chicago is to be the motif for a dinner party, at which Mrs. Charles Jeffras is to entertain at the Ambassador tonight.

Mrs. Willard is Host.

Capt. Arthur Lee Willard was host at an enjoyable dinner-dance on board the New Mexico on Saturday evening.

Music Tea.

In honor of Miss Maxine Williams Mme. Rossini of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, Mrs. George Louis Machris of South Kingsley Drive gave a music tea. Three baskets of spring blossoms adorned the living rooms. Among those asked to meet the honoree were: Mrs. James McClelland, Mrs. G. Placset, Mrs. J. Milnes, Mrs. W. Hoag, Mrs. M. Woods, Mrs. A. P. Michael Narlian, Mrs. A. B. Mason, Mrs. N. Bahrenburg, Mrs. C. Cromer, Mrs. C. DeVidal Hunt, Mrs. Irene Blanck, Mrs. E. Parker, Mrs. E. House, Mrs. E. A. Schiek, Mrs. A. Arnold, Mrs. A. R. Rosenberg, Mrs. C. Shebiack, Mrs. R. Byrd, Mrs. A. Lingo, Mrs. C. Butler, Mrs. Hugh Fillmore, Mrs. Gladys Allen, Mrs. J. Daly, Misses Marie Miller, Dorothy Holmes, Cameo Illington and Helen Scanlon.

With Easter Dance.

Miss Kern Angelman and Earle B. Whittaker entertained with an Easter dance at the home of the former on Benton Way. There were eighteen guests.

In Coronado.

Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Orendorff and their attractive young daughter, Miss Helen Orendorff, are in Coronado for a few weeks. Mr. Orendorff expects to leave next month for their summer home on the northern shore of Lake Michigan and Mrs. Orendorff and Miss Helen will join him in June, after the latter has completed her school year at St. Catherine's School.

Plans Luncheon.

Mrs. Frank Finnucane is planning a luncheon for Friday at the California Club.

Prominent Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Symington of Baltimore, Md., are among the prominent visitors in Los Angeles. The Symingtons belong to one of the oldest and most aristocratic families of Maryland and are also notable figures in business circles there. They are at the Alexandria and will, no doubt, receive a warm welcome in social circles here.

Personals.

Mrs. Alexander Campbell is in San Francisco, visiting Mrs. Juline Reis. She is to remain several weeks.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

Former Chicago Officer Faces Court as Slayer of Wife.

James Elder, former special policeman of Chicago, who shot and killed his wife, Ida M. Elder, on September 22, went to trial in Judge McCormick's court yesterday charged with murder. Mrs. Elder was shot at 510 Fremont avenue, where she occupied a room.

The prosecution, represented by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Randall, asserts that, while Mrs. Elder was on the sidewalk with Bert Clemmons, her husband came up behind her and, without a word, fired two shots, one entering her neck and another her chest. At the time Mr. and Mrs. Elder were not living together.

Elder is represented by Attorneys McMann, Spring & Byers.

WHERE'S HERCULES?

They are cleaning up San Francisco. It seems like an impossible task, but the police and Federal officials are said to be undertaking it. If they succeed a lot of the old-timers will move away in disgust.

NOT SO SHREWD.

A prominent Chicago business woman told the judge in the divorce court that she had been paying her husband $300 a month to live with her. Doesn't sound like much of a business woman!

NO STING LEFT.

Death Valley is to be studded, marked and surrounded by more than 1200 auto sign posts. That should make it pretty nearly as public as Pershing Square. First thing we know the valley will be dotted with electric lights and movie signs. Likewise, it will be billed as a winter resort.

CANS ACROSS THE SEA.

Los Angeles shipped nearly 200 tons of canned peaches to Liverpool on one day. They go by the Panama Canal and will reach their destination nearly a month ahead of the old program for British shipments. It should make home rule easy if the California peaches reach Great Britain regularly and in good time.

"OURSELVES ALONE."

The Sinn Feiners are demanding that all Irishmen withdraw from the American Legion. Of course if the Legion would declare war on England and bombard or blow up the British Parliament the Irishmen would be permitted to retain their membership, but if the Legion is to tolerate any of this friendly hands-across-the-sea business the partnership must be dissolved. The men who fought to make the world safe for democracy must now battle to make Ireland unsafe for anybody.

SCHOOL OF THRIFT.

The University of Pennsylvania, which will command the services of Gen. Leonard Wood on the completion of his mission to the Philippines, has established a department of thrift and personal finance. The college students are to be taught to practice economy and how to make reliable and responsible investments. If a college student can learn to save money while going to school it will be a fine thing for the country. Mostly they learn how to throw money away to the music of a jazz band.

EXTREMES MEET.

The government Weather Bureau tells us that Miles City, Mont., has had a temperature range of 180 deg.—which is believed to be close to the world's record. Of course it didn't happen in one day, but it could in a single year. The mercury has registered as high as 115 deg. on a thoroughbred summer day at Miles City, and on the other hand it has sunk as low as 65 deg. below zero in the chill horrors of winter. We can't show half that range here. People who like variety spread and extremes in their climate will do well to go to Miles City.

THE BIG CITY.

Even in the mist and fog and chills of London the populace turns to the open air. The hurricane deck of the London 'bus is by long odds the most popular agency of transportation that the world's capital furnishes. Out of 10,000,000,000 passengers carried through London streets in the last ten years over 5,000,000,000 climbed aboard the busses. About 3,000,000,000 patronized the subway. Only about 15 per cent of the total traffic was handled by the street railways or "trams." The surface roads are not even accounted as among the necessities of life in London. It is different here. Yet busses of the London pattern might do wonderfully well in the California climate.

RIGHTS OF BOOZE.

A Federal court has held that the Volstead Act merely supersedes the old internal revenue laws and declares that the illegal sale or disposition of any portion of a stock of liquor does not justify the seizure of the whole stock. If this should be sustained the government might be sued for a few billion dollars' damages for booze that revenue officers and others have destroyed. At this rate some of our most energetic bootleggers could only be deprived of the battle they had in hand for disposal. A man who has a large private stock could also accommodate his friends without imperiling his whole supply. Always thought that this pouring the stuff in the gutter and smashing it by the barrel would have a comeback somewhere.

RENT REGULATION.

The Illinois Legislature is taking a whirl at the landlords by considering a bill which would enable cities to establish rental commissions having authority to fix the proper rents to be charged by the owners of flats and apartments. This would extend the commission idea of regulation into the home, but most thinking men are convinced that it would fail to advance the very purpose for which it is urged. The need of the cities is for more homes. Any municipal regulation of rents is more apt to retard home building than encourage it. As a result almost all interests, ranging from the bankers to the labor unions, are opposing the bill. The workingmen object because they realize that the usual building program of the year will be curtailed. There can be no regulation of rents by law any more than there can be official schedules for price of lots and lands.

GREATER SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

Census statistics are peculiarly interesting to Los Angeles and its environs this year because they furnish irrefutable evidence of how rapidly Greater Southern California is forging ahead. Data compiled by the Federal statisticians demonstrate that this section is becoming as notable for its agricultural wealth and production as for its population and manufacturing industries. The hinterland is developing as rapidly as the city itself. The latest figures show that the value of farm property in Los Angeles county is now $10,000,000 greater than in any other one county in the country, that it has doubled in value in ten years, and that the value of its farm products is not only greater than that of any other single county in the forty-eight States, but has quadrupled in ten years.

Here is some valuable information for those who have been deluded by reports that it is to climate and tourists alone that Southern California owes its greatness. Our climate is perhaps the greatest material asset possessed by any American State; but it is not the leisure classes but the producers who are taking advantage of it. Making four tons of farm products grow where but one grew ten years ago is a record that will awaken the spirit of emulation. But prosperity in California during the last ten years has not been confined to a single section. It extends from the bay of San Francisco to San Diego.

Six counties in California produced a volume of farm products last year that is greater than the combined production of any other six counties in the whole nation. Our banner counties in the order of their production are as follows: Los Angeles county, $62,212,000; San Joaquin county, $39,748,000; Tulare county, $33,329,000; San Bernardino county, $26,681,000; Santa Clara county, $23,679,000; Orange county, $22,735,000. It will be observed that three of these counties are in Southern California and three located in valleys whose streams empty into San Francisco Bay. To grasp the true significance of these figures one must know that the yield of Orange county, the lowest of the six, for 1919, was $8,000,000 greater than that of Los Angeles county in 1909, and our county then led the United States. If Los Angeles county had been content to rest under its laurels, as some other counties of the nation did, it would have dropped from first to twentieth place in ten years. Like Alexander, however, it is left sighing for new worlds to conquer; for it was first ten years ago and it can only be first this year.

All former records of the growth in value, alike of farm values and farm production, have been broken by these six California counties. As in the case of the America's race for the Queen's cup, there is no second. Five Illinois counties formerly held the combined State record; but they are now far distanced. Tulare county wins the ribbon for the greatest proportional increase in the country during the decade; the value of its farm products in 1919 was nearly seven times that of 1909.

While all things are possible to those possessing vision, courage and industry, it will require a supreme effort to show as great a proportionate increase during the next ten years as in the decade now closed. The figures of 1919 are based on what we term war prices. It is probable that the 1930 census will be based on normal values. Greater Southern California, however, is pledged to go straight ahead, ignoring handicaps and laughing at obstacles. It has struck the high road of prosperity and is crowding the speed limit. If we could but lighten the burden of our State taxes we could easily eclipse even the war records. To have made such progress while carrying so heavy a load of tax-eaters is little short of the marvelous.

For those who have done their part during the last twenty years to force Los Angeles county to the head of the procession and keep her there, it is especially gratifying to note that the increase in value of farm lands and farm products has kept pace with that of city property and industrial products. A prosperity that is generally distributed is the most likely to endure.

THE HAPSBURGS AGAIN?

Republican France, after a century of bitter hatred of the Austrian monarchy, seems ready once more to reach out a hand to the Hapsburgs, and, stranger still, the movement for the restoration of the Hapsburgs is supported in Hungary and opposed in Austria.

In all the tangled situation that goes to make up Central Europe there is nothing more remarkable than the manner in which the two worst enemies of the Austrian monarchy are now working to revive the thing they for so long wished to crush.

Nothing could be more decided than the hatred which Hungary bore for the Hapsburgs, unless it was the hatred which France for years bore toward Austria. Nevertheless the restoration of Emperor Charles is today about the only thing that Hungary is concentrating upon, and France has signified her approval.

This baffling development is an outgrowth of the new European problem which has arisen since the armistice.

French policy is shaping itself against two things, Germany and Bolshevism. France feels that she needs police states around Germany and hopes to find these in Belgium, Poland and Hungary. Similarly, she is looking to them as bulwarks against those waves of radicalism which are sweeping down upon France and Europe out of Russia.

Hungary, in spite of the ruthless manner in which the Hapsburgs, aided by Russian armies, crushed the Hungarian revolt of 1849 and an imperial policy uniformly unfair toward the Hungarians, is trying to restore Charles because she feels that in such a course is her only chance of a future.

Hungary has had a taste of Bolshevism and feels that even the Hapsburgs are preferable to it. Hungary is one of the few states with an abundance of food supplies. Food raids by radicals in the large cities and in neighboring states will mean ruin for Hungary. The only defense which she can raise up against such a menace is a restored and powerful monarchy, and she is willing to pay that price for such benefits.

In their almost a thousand years of eminence the Hapsburgs have known adversity as have few royal families. They have also enjoyed in various periods boundless power. As a by-product of reigning they have made large private fortunes, and, likewise, they have lost them. Charles V, for instance, literally bankrupted his empire and himself, so that he finally had to relinquish his thrones. Francis Joseph, on the other hand, left to the now exiled Charles a private fortune greater than that of any European monarch and probably larger than that of any individual in Europe. The Hapsburgs have been hounded about and dragged in the mire. They have also made the mightiest of the earth bow before them.

Still Trying to Recognize Her.

GERMAN NECTAR.

Germany says she is not being extravagant with the drinks as malignant foreign critics have declared. She offers her 1920 statistics to prove it. In 1913 the German drank 103 quarts of beer at a cost of 40 marks. Now he only drinks forty-one quarts, but it costs him 123 marks. In 1913 he drank ten and one-half quarts of hard liquor at a cost of 12 marks, and now he drinks twelve and one-quarter quarts at a cost of 59 marks. In 1913 he drank four and one-half quarts of wine, against three and one-half now.

However, it is admitted that the German has taken to excessive smoking, and largely discarded his respectable old pipe, at that. He spends 59 marks a year on cigars where 10 marks formerly covered it. The consumption of cigarettes has risen from 180 per capita in 1913, costing 4½ marks, to 246 per capita in 1920, costing 67 marks. If smokes are soothing we ought not to begrudge him that. But the fact remains that Fritz is by no means devoid of consolation and that in the matter of nectar we need waste no pity on him. He can still get all the drinks he can pay for at a price that would put our bootleggers out of business. He feels very sorry for himself because whisky has gone up to $1.25 a quart, because he used to get it for 60 cents, but he really can't expect us to commiserate with him on that score. When we get it at all it is dubious at $15 a quart, and maybe wood alcohol, at that.

And if he is still drinking forty-one quarts of beer, twelve and one-half quarts of whisky and three and one-half quarts of wine per capita per annum—61,000,000 of him—including his wives and children, who probably don't come in on the consolation to any marked extent, that gives him at least three quarts a week, and it should make him a good deal better-natured. But perhaps it is having the same effect upon him that it had upon the mouse who licked the leaking barrel in the cellar—"Now where's that damned cat?"

RETRACING THE ROAD.

Business is on the backtrail. Not in the sense that business is bad, but that the road to normalcy is being traveled, and traveled almost as rapidly as when prices were hitched to a star and climbing for the hitching post.

Merchants are giving a lot of thought to economic processes. They no longer make an arbitrary survey of the probable requirements of the immediate future supplemented by a slap-dash order at catch-as-catch-can prices. Los Angeles merchants are informing themselves and they are thoroughly familiar with the world forces which are moving business.

Prices, it is agreed, are not fully stabilized, but while this stabilization is going forward stocks are being liquidated and replacements ordered in the light of accurate data. Stocks, in some instances, are lower than they have been in years, but the wise merchant once more knows exactly where he is and is not to be stampeded.

This situation finds reflection in the banks where there has been a stabilization of credit to meet the changed conditions of the retail market, and the merchant who has shown an intelligent understanding of the readjustment is having less difficulty in squaring his credit requirements with the ideas of his banker than was the case last fall.

The Times has maintained from the beginning of the readjustment that if the boat-rockers could be restrained there would be no general business disaster or distress. It is now apparent that something approaching normalcy is to be attained without either of these contingencies.

It is pointed out by the Boston Federal Reserve Bank that history seems to be repeating itself in respect to the time consumed for a radical readjustment in the commodity price level. Prior to the war Bradstreet's index required, on the average, from fifteen to eighteen months to descend from the peak to the bottom, and the present decline has been in progress for nearly thirteen months.

Two great staple products, which have an important financial bearing in the Southwest, are copper and cotton, the high C's near it that further deflections may be disof commerce. Each of these is obviously either at the bottom of the decline or so counted. The upturn will soon commence, and with it there will be a general heartening of business. The fact that we, and by we The Times means all of Arizona and the Imperial Valley of California, have weathered the storm as well as we have is the best indication of the basic soundness of our structure.

The business outlook for Los Angeles and Southern California is excellent. New building records are being made every week. Bank clearings, while showing some decrease over last year, do not begin to have the slack which would be warranted by the price declines. The crop preview was never better. The investment market is excellent.

EXAMPLE FOR GERMANY.

Speeches like that which Premier Briand made in the French Chamber of Deputies regarding Germany's ability to pay for part of the damage it caused by the World War should have the widest possible circulation in the United States. There is not the slightest doubt that the country which boasted that it intended to bleed France white is conducting a campaign to win the sympathy of Americans, now that itself has become the under dog. While the Teutons are howling to high heaven against being assessed for a portion of the cost of the conflict into which they plunged the nations, it is not without interest to hark back to the war of 1870. Germany was then the victor and France was made to pay. Gen. Phil Sheridan, U.S.A., described by Gen. Grant as one of the most skillful, brave and deserving soldiers developed by the great struggle of the Civil War, was an observer of the battles from Gravelotte to Sedan. He accompanied the German army and was in almost daily contact with the King of Prussia and his Chancellor. "I often heard Bismarck say that France being the richest country in Europe nothing would keep her quiet but effectually to empty her pockets," he wrote in an article 'describing the short campaign. That policy was followed. France was compelled to pay an indemnity which was considered huge in those days. Now retribution is being visited on the Germans for their enormous levy of money and for wresting Alsace and Lorraine from the bleeding side of France. The French paid in an amazingly short time the millions exacted by the foe. Their example might be commended to the poverty-pleaders of Berlin.

THE UNITED FLEET.

The report that the battle fleet of the United States will be reunited at no distant date and stationed in the Pacific will be received with pleasure throughout the navy and the country. It is consistent with Mr. Denby's first public utterance that it would be his aim to keep the navy ready.

There is nothing aggressive, there is no threat of war against any nation, in this sensible policy of reuniting a disrupted fleet. It is a mere condemnation of the inexcusable action of the previous administration in dividing the fleet in defiance of naval strategy. Moreover, it was well known to the navy that the War College, the General Board and the office of operations would never have approved such a fatal policy.

It was dictated by political considerations shortly before a Presidential election and when the so-called Pacific Fleet, padded with obsolete ships, reached San Francisco and attended the Democratic convention it was openly derided by naval officers as a "political caravan."

The world at large, as well as sensible people at home, will understand that the reorganization of our fighting fleet is nothing more than a return to naval sanity after years of naval incompetency and political chaos.—[New York Tribune.

A LETTER FROM BECKY SHARP.

LOS ANGELES, March 25.

My Dear:

Have you heard about the awkward little contretemps that happened to an experimental gentleman at a hotel, not so very far from Los Angeles, where the stars and celebrities do congregate in their battalions? You see, he is very deaf, but otherwise quite a gay old spark and recklessly enterprising in trying all sorts of home brew. Just exactly who the fair damsel was that gave the alarm remains a mystery, but in the middle of the night a phone call to the office from the gentleman's room, in a hysterical feminine voice, said that he was dead or dying and "Help, help." The management hastened to the rescue, found the distinguished patron alone and stretched out on his bed in beautiful pajamas, apparently past all help. Doctors failed to resuscitate him, so he was hurried off in an ambulance to the hospital with all solemnity. But he awoke on the way and got restive. The effect on the poor ambulance men was most disconcerting—he could see their horrified consternation, but could not hear a word they said. He was quite sure they were demented and they knew he was. They rushed him to the hospital, while he cursed them magnificently. However, he is very much alive now and back at the hotel, trying to live it down. The voice, the voice, whose was the voice?

Admiral Hodman enjoyed the eclat of strolling through the "biggest hotel in the world" with two red-headed sirens recently—Elinor Glyn and Mrs. Kenneth Preuss. One of them is absolutely devoid of the merest glimmer of a sense of humor and the other just bubbles with mischief with a large humorous bump. Can you guess which is which? One talks magnificently highbrow and casually mentions royal friends with impressive intimacy, while the other is downright and seems hopelessly lacking in the bump of reverence. They seemed to regard each other as queer specimens of their kind, and the air was charged with red-headed electricity. On the whole, the admiral came through the ordeal rather well, but there was just that wistful look of "How happy could I be with either, were t'other dear charmer away." I don't believe the ladies admired each other the least bit in the world.

All the same, dear, the world was obviously made for red-headed charmers. They seem to be more popular than ever and never lack a dozen escorts. For instance, there is Lady Young, who has a wealth of red hair, wears unique, rich, but highly conservative clothes, skirts a couple of inches longer than anyone else's and whose conversation is confined to quiet little remarks of infinite rectitude. But she looks terribly interesting—one yearns to see her break out of her well-ordered calm and cut loose for a spell. She and her husband are very much persona grata eleywhere, he, I believe, being a writer of distinction in his own country.

There was quite a flutter in the dovecots the other day when a certain much-flattered visiting celebrity laid down the law that henceforth parties in her honor must not be recorded in the society columns. She made it evident that she accepted an invitation from some prominent hospitable people on the strict understanding that "I am not exploited for advertising." As the hosts in question don't happen to be of that kind, they sent the laly a sweet little billet by messenger next morning excusing her from acceptance. Now she is busy explaining that after she declined to be used for social publicity purposes they turned her down. Which, of course, is true—as far as it goes. But—er—well, really, don't you know, eh, what? It is difficult to love some people for themselves alone, isn't it?

All the same, of course, there are some guilty hosts who do rather trade socially upon celebrities, so there is just the soupcon of an excuse for the indignation of the exploited. However, it is a case where discrimination is the soul of good breeding, to say nothing of a little tact. In some cases the vulgarity must be "quite mutual."

Now that the Prince and Princess Paul Troubetskoy have left, an erring culprit is telling a funny story against himself. It appears that at one of the Prince's conventionally unconventional dinner parties, strictly vegetarian but by no means "dry," this gentleman imbibed too freely. The Prince bade him "goodnight" and saw him off safely at midnight, but he wandered around and went back, to find the Princess alone downstairs and about to retire. He asked vaguely if he could sleep on the couch and she acquiesced, tossing him a couple of rugs and leaving it at that. Next morning he awoke, rather unsure, still very vague, and yearned for nothing so much as a wash and brush up and to get away. He wandered upstairs, found a deserted bedroom, seized a comb—and found the big Prince glaring behind him. It happened to be the Princess's room and she had gone to take her bath. He just took a header through the window and cut the explanations.

So far so good. But two days later, feeling thoroughly ashamed of himself, he took his courage in both hands and went to call and apologize. Found the democratic Princess watering her own garden with a leaky hose. Explained, was forgiven and was left to finish watering the lawn. Being inexpert in useful occupation, and the hose being leaky, he promptly tried to drown himself. Amused and sympathetic, the Princess invited him in to get dry. Ah, you see, the awkward denouement. While awaiting his drying clothes, adorned only in his undies, Monsieur le Prince returned. As a matter of cold, unromantic fact, the Prince was perfectly aware of his presence and went up to the bedroom to be hospitable. But the guilty one did not know that. He no sooner saw the big Prince than once again he took a header through the window. Luckily he did not live far away and he got home without being arrested. But he never dared call again.

In a film now in the making we are told that Gloria Swanson takes the part of an aristocratic heroine who gets bitten by a snake out camping and the hero sucks the wound to save her life. There is some discussion as to just where that wound is—hope it isn't a great toe.

So long, old dear, more next week.

"OPEN-SHOP" METHODS.

If the movement inaugurated by chambers of commerce and large employers of labor looking to the establishment of the "open shop" as a controlling feature in the relations of employers and employed in American industry is to be successful it will be because it commends itself to the judgment and conscience of the nation as just in itself and as calculated to promote the general welfare. If, on the other hand, it is to be brought about by methods that differ in no essential from the coercive methods of trades-unionism in its most aggressive and oppressive form the "open shop" will never be anything but a challenger and a bone of contention.

Friends by conviction of the principle that the unions have no moral right to use force to compel labor to affiliate with them or to exclude from the right to earn a living all who are outside the union bulwarks will find little of encouragement and nothing to approve in the disclosure before the Lockwood Investigating Committee in New York of the deliberate policy of the big steel companies to refuse to sell structural steel except to firms in that city and Philadelphia who operate under the "open-shop" system. Even though it may be said in justification of their policy that they are acting on the defensive against the effort, in the name of labor-unionism, to dispossess the present owners of this basic industry and transfer its control by force to the organized workers, the men at the head of the steel industry are taking exceedingly questionable means of self-defense.

They ought to see that the most certain guarantee against a renewal of the revolutionary and violent attempt of the radicals in the labor unions, or at least the most formidable defense they could erect against these "Reds," would be a serious attempt to remove all legitimate causes of discontent and to make the conditions of labor in steel mills so humane and equitable that the ground would be cut away from beneath the feet of the agitators. But to adopt autocratic methods of compulsion, to arrogate to themselves the decision to whom they shall sell or who shall be permitted to erect the buildings for which their product is required, is to do the very things against which they profess to be objecting when practiced by the labor unions.

It is a question for the courts to decide whether the policy to which Mr. Grace confessed before the legislative committee in New York this week is not distinctly in restraint of trade and quite as contrary to public policy as are the combinations in the building trades which have led to so many indictments of individuals and corporations within the last few days; but it ought not to be a debatable question in public morals or sound public policy that a course of arbitrary coercion in favor of selected contracting forms or combinations of employers is mighty bad tactics, making for bitterness and certain to prolong industrial strife.—[Philadelphia Ledger.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

TRAINED HEADS.

I think it wise to train our domes to think of pleasant things, of works of art and high class pomes, fair brides and wedding rings. When some old gossip comes along to spring a low down tale, I think about the peaks of song, where scandals don't prevail. All thought's a habit more or less, as in our groove we trot, and if we think about distress, distress will be our lot; and if our thoughts are full of fear, instead of hope and glee, they'll make our brief existence here a painful thing to see.
When I fall sick of mumps or gout, my thoughts are dark as sin, until I force the dark ones out, and let the bright ones in; and I have found this can be done, however great the pain; when one is thinking of the sun he doesn't think of rain. When one is thinking of the hills where sunshine goes to waste, his thoughts are lifted from the pills that have a mildewed taste. I try to think that life is good, however harsh it seems, that all the troubles I've withstood were merely seen in dreams; and, thinking thus, I find that life is wool and two yards wide, and I invite my aunt and wife to take a flivver ride.

SNAP SHOTS FROM TEXAS.

Sometimes the reason a man is afraid of blue laws is on account of his red nose.

And what has become of the old-fashioned family who quit buying when their money gave out?

It has just about gotten so in this country that a preacher who refuses to marry divorced persons knocks himself out of a lot of money.

Another thing we have to be thankful for is that we don't have to make our living by singing and dancing.

Our idea of an economical traveler is one who makes up his mind not to tip anybody until somebody tips him.

Furthermore, anybody who goes to a doctor for a beer prescription ought to be compelled to take it with a spoon.

What has become of that "Teapot Dome oligarchy" of which we heard so much during the recent Presidential campaign?

California fruit canners have lost money by the drop in prices, but you would never know it by your bills at the cafes.

Germany might be in a better position to pay that indemnity if she did not keep the whole Hohenzollern family on her pay roll.

Why should the foreign creditors of the United States worry over the fact that if we insisted on payment we could bankrupt the world? They can't even pay the interest.

What has become of that ostrich-toned authority in feminine wear who insisted that the dresses of the ladies would be longer this spring. Where did he get that "long" stuff?

There ought to be a law in California that a householder is not compelled to nail the rugs to the polished floors of his home. If a man slips and falls and dislocates his collar button it is his own fault.

Sir Philip Gibbs, the correspondent, before sailing for home the other day, said a volume when he remarked that, whatever happened, the United States and England must stand together for the salvation of the world.

If the proposed naturalization bill is passed by Congress affecting the status of native and foreign married women it will destroy the last vestige of the good old fiction that husband and wife are one and that one is the husband.

With the shift in Attorney-General of the United States there may be some interesting developments in regard to why the prosecutions in a number of cases were ordered dropped and why it was that the word of sworn officers of the government who had collected the evidence was not taken.

It has been figured out that there are 9,211,295 registered motor vehicles in the United States. Which would seem to indicate that the American people know a good thing when they see it and are determined to make it a part of their national life. The use of the automobile is not a "craze;" it will endure.

The retirement of A. Bonar Law, Lord of the Privy Seal, from the David Lloyd George ministry is a disaster to the Premier. Law has been the safety valve of George, his "man Friday," his patient, invaluable tenant. Coming, as it does, in an hour of extreme importance, Bonar Law's retirement is a loss to high ideals, to sound progress and the peace of the world.

There is a fine opportunity for the moving-picture scenarioist to write a story of Salomon Tellirian, the young Armenian student who followed Talaat Pasha, former Grand Vizier and Minister of Finance of Turkey, until he found an opportunity to assassinate him. The Turkish ruler caused the parents of the Armenian to be put to death and the son haunted him from one place to another until he killed him. It was an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.

VOTERS RESENT HEARST ACTION.

First Rally in Cryer Fight to be Held Thursday.

That the voters resent the attempts of W. R. Hearst to conduct the city government of Los Angeles by using his Examiner and Evening Herald as a club over the heads of city officials, was the declaration yesterday of Councilman Criswell. He said:

"I am making addresses on city affairs each evening before clubs and other organizations and I find everywhere strong resentment against Hearst's attempts to conduct the city government of Los Angeles. He boasts that he is the real boss of each city where his newspapers are published. He has found that Los Angeles is one exception, and as long as I am Councilman I shall work solely for the best interests of all the citizens of Los Angeles and shall stand for the good name and reputation for integrity of the city government.

"I want the citizens to know that I do not wear the collar of William Randolph Hearst and I think that I have shown it by my course in the City Council.

ON POLICE SITUATION.

"Mayor Snyder in his campaign stuff in the Los Angeles Examiner told about the city's having only 315 patrolmen. He neglected to emphasize the fact that the City Council has provided more than 700 employees for the police department. The responsibility for the activities of those 400 employees, who are not doing patrol duty rests with the Mayor. If they are assigned to duties more important than actually patrolling the city, the public is entitled to know just what they are doing. More policemen are needed, and as soon as more funds are provided the additional policemen can be employed. The Mayor knows that every available cent of the city revenues was applied by the Councilmen to the police department."

President Boyle Workman of the City Council yesterday denounced as false the reports being circulated that he intended to withdraw from the race for Mayor. Mr. Workman said:

"I wish to most emphatically deny the rumors circulated about me by the opposition to the effect that I am preparing to withdraw from the Mayoralty race. I am in this fight to a finish.

CALLS IT VIOLATION.

"I am going into this campaign clean. The elaborate and expensive campaign now being carried on by Mayor Synder is, to my mind, in violation of the spirit of the primaries law. I am content to rest my case with the people. I have no apologies to offer."

Relative to Mayor Snyder's announced intention yesterday of asking the grand jury to investigate rumors that have been prevalent during the past week that gamblers are becoming active in the municipal campaign, President Workman said:

"I hope that the grand jury will call Mayor Snyder's political bluff. Some developments of intense interests to the citizens of Los Angeles will result if all of the facts become known."

The opening rally in the "George E. Cryer for Mayor" campaign will be held Thursday evening at the campaign headquarters at the Hotel Stowell, 416 S. Spring street. Mr. Cryer will make an address, stating his platform, and there will be other prominent speakers. The public is invited.

Assembly Bill Would Legalize Overhead Rents.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, March 28. — A bill permitting cities and counties of California to set and collect rentals for connecting structures erected over streets, alleys or other public places was introduced in the Assembly this afternoon by Assemblyman Benton of Los Angeles.

The bill provides as follows:

"Any city, county, town or other political subdivision organized under the laws of this State may regulate the space over streets, alleys and public places thereof, and upon payment of compensation, to be fixed by the proper legislative body by ordinance adopted by a two-thirds vote thereof, may permit the use of the space more than fifteen feet from the level of said streets, alleys and public places.

Pictures Pals to Keep His Hand in Pending Release

Considerable favorable comment has been occasioned in local art circles over the clever pictures drawn by Jesse M. Wood, an acting corporal of marines aboard the dreadnaught New York, now stationed at Los Angeles Harbor. Aside from his more serious efforts, Corp. Wood has created a considerable reputation for himself in the Navy by his cartoons of things maritime. Pending his release from the service, when he expects to take up art as a profession, he has created a unique little industry for himself in the making of pictures of his shipmates, thereby enhancing his own popularity as well as keeping his hand in.

TRAFFIC TALKS FOR WOMEN.

A series of lectures free to women who drive automobiles will be given this week at the Chamber of Commerce, under the auspices of the new safety and fire prevention department of the chamber. The speakers will give practical suggestions for driving in congested traffic. The first lecture will be given Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock by J. B. Alexander; another at the same hour Friday by W. H. Austin, and a third Saturday. Another series will be given at 4 o'clock on the first three days of next week.

For Lovely Summer Frocks

YOU should see these flower-like fabrics in dress cottons!

Frocks of organdies in shadowy patterns; crossbarred, embroidered in polka dots or beaded designs; frocks of crisp dimities, of voiles or crepes, soft as can be.

Quaint inspirations for gowns of Sateen, English or French, primly patterned; of English prints; ginghams in little and big checks—demure or daring, but all smart.

Dotted Swisses—always beautiful for Summer and the more practical weaves for kiddies' garments — a whole Summer wardrobe can be evolved right here in this Section!

And a most distinctive one it would be—for many of the materials are exclusive, and all are the choicest skilled buyers can select.

Sidelights on Banking

Believing that a great many people are not taking advantage of all the varied services of modern Departmental Banks, the Guaranty Bank presents this series of short articles on banking, intended to clear up many common misunderstandings and to point out ways in which your bank can be of greater benefit to you. The next of the series will appear in this paper at an early date.

NUMBER ONE

Federal Reserve Act

The Federal Reserve Act was passed by Congress and approved December 23, 1913. It provided for the establishment of twelve Federal Reserve Banks, which are in reality "banks for bankers," as they deal exclusively with member banks. They hold the cash reserves of the thousands of banks in the System, thus providing a central source from which banks may borrow by "rediscounting" the notes of their customers.

Credit Elasticity

This rediscounting privilege has provided the essential "elasticity" to the nation's credit facilities, which was previously lacking. Now, in the seasons of the year when there is an excessive demand for money, member banks may borrow from the Federal Reserve Banks, and thus be enabled to aid business men and farmers in tiding them over the period until they can market their product.

What Banks Are Members

The Federal Reserve System includes in its membership all national banks, and also provides for admission of state banks.

This Bank is a member of the Federal Reserve System, subject to its regulations and enjoying its advantages. At the same time, it retains its status as a state bank, and for that reason can offer to its customers the combined protection and service of both the state and national banking systems.

Healthy Mother Merry Children Happy Home

TO maintain a happy home the housewife must keep in good health. Her duties are many and various, and it seems as if every other member of the family depended very much on her.

"Where is my hat?" cries the boy.

"What did you do with my coat?" asks the daughter.

"I can't find any handkerchiefs," yells the husband.

The housewife is usually the advisor and general manager of the family.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women to maintain a happy home by keeping them in good health.

Bloomington, Ill.—"I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a wonderful sight of good. I was never very strong and female trouble kept me weak so that I had no interest for my housework. I had such a backache I could not cook a meal or clean up a room without raging with pain. I would rub my back with alcohol and it would ease for a few hours, but after I had taken three bottles of Vegetable Compound my aches began to gradually leave me. Now I am as strong and healthy as any woman and I give my thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my health."—Mrs. J. A. McQUITTY, 610 W. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ill.

Dante, So. Dakota.—"I would have pains and cramps every month until I could hardly stand it and could not do my work at all at that time and often had to go to bed. I went to a physician, but he did not do me much good and said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspaper and thought I would give it a trial. Now I feel lots better and don't have to give up and go to bed, and can do all my work. You may use these facts as a testimonial, and I will answer with pleasure all letters I receive, and you may be sure I will praise your wonderful medicine."—Mrs. ARTHUR J. KADE, Box 71, Dante, South Dakota.

NUXATED IRON

A CAUSE OF WOMEN'S ILLS

WOMEN OFTEN THINK THEY HAVE HEART TROUBLE, INDIGESTION, NERVOUS PROSTRATION, ETC., WHEN IT'S SIMPLY IRON STARVATION OF THE BLOOD.

Many women believe they are weak and nervous as a result of age, worry and overwork; they think that their disturbed digestion, headaches, heart palpitation, shortness of breath, pains across the back, etc., are due to some serious disease instead of the real cause—iron starvation of the blood. This is proven by the fact that when many of these same women take organic iron for awhile all their alarming symptoms quickly disappear and they become strong, robust and healthy. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living cells and tissue. Without it nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the strength out of it.

If you are not strong and well do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, but take some organic iron—Nuxated Iron—at once. But be sure it's organic iron and not metallic iron which people usually take and which is made merely by the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. Organic NUXATED IRON is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples and it often increases the bodily and mental vigor of weak, worn-out women in two weeks' time.

Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all druggists.

FIRE LOSS AT TUSTIN.

Blaze Destroys Big Barn and its Contents.

Thieves Rob Charity Box at Catholic Church.

Citrus Growers Boost Newport Harbor.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, March 28.—A loss of approximately $25,000 was caused by a fire of mysterious origin which totally destroyed the large barn of C. E. Utt, of Tustin, 100 tons of hay and burned a horse to death. The barn was located in the heart of Tustin near here. Efforts of Tustin and Santa Ana firemen were unavailing against the blaze which rapidly passed beyond control. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

ROB CHARITY BOX.

For the second time the charity box at the local Catholic church has been robbed of money donated for the poor. Today the empty box was found near the church, $50 which had been donated during holy week was taken from it during the night. The thief had broken the padlock which fastened the door to the compartment where the box was placed.

FAVOR NEWPORT HARBOR.

Newport harbor as a port of call for the ships which will carry citrus fruits to the East and foreign markets received the official indorsement today of the Tustin Hills Citrus Association members in annual meeting. Growers of this vicinity can save more than half of their trucking charges by sending their fruit and other products out of Newport Harbor, it was said. A resolution opposing the proposed county free library was unanimously adopted, and the old board of directors was re-elected.

HOLD OFFENDERS ON YEAR-OLD WARRANT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, March 28.—William Wells and Clifford Pence, two young men, were arrested today by Police Officers H. M. Thomas and N. Cook on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Raymond G. Thompson charging them with assault with intent to commit robbery. They are held in the City Jail, with bonds fixed at $1000 each.

The assault and robbery with which they are charged occurred more than a year ago. On the night of March 11, 1920, J. R. Mills, proprietor of a grocery store at Elm street and Oakwood Court, who was in the habit of opening his store after hours to accommodate neighbors, opened the store in response to a knock and two men clubbed him into insensibility. After that they robbed the store.

WILL REVISE STUDY COURSE.

Superintendent of Schools J. F. West has appointed a committee of teachers to revise the course of study in the elementary schools, with an idea to making more definite the minimum requirements in essential studies. Eight teachers from the first to the eighth grades have been named and with this committee will serve three principals, to be named later.

MAY BAR GARAGE SMOKES.

An ordinance prohibiting smoking in any garage, public or private, is under consideration by the City Commission. It will come up before that body tomorrow. An ordinance regulating the quality of gasoline which may be sold in the city may also be adopted.

WILL REMOVE GLARE.

The glare of the white steps of the Pasadena Federal Building, at Colorado street and Garfield avenue, is to be removed, Postmaster McLain, custodian of the building, has been advised by the Treasury Department. It is proposed to rough the stone so that reflection from the sun's rays will not be so strong. The glare of the steps has been the subject of much local debate.

New lot of those low-priced small enameled boxes and plenty of the delicious Ballitea just opened at Grace Nicholson's Famous Pasadena Shop. The opium bowls for flowers and a collection of rare antique brasses and temple candlesticks, pigskin and camphor chests, nests of teak tables and some charming carved Chinese candlesticks in natural woods are among the new things offered this week.—[Advertisement.

KILLED BY STAGE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, March 28.—Edwin J. Moschel, aged 51, was struck and killed by an auto stage driven by H. T. McInnes, driver of the Tijuana stage, on the main street of Chula Vista yesterday.

Moschel was hunting for a bolt from his own car, when the stage swerved to the right to avoid hitting him. Moschel moved at the same time and the auto struck him. He lived but a short time following the accident.

STUDENTS BOOST BONDS.

Stage Parade in Glendale on Eve of Election Today.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, March 28. — Pupils of the intermediate school marched in a parade this afternoon, urging all Glendale citizens to vote for the civic center and park bond issues which are on the ballot for tomorrow's election. Singing a campaign song to the tune of "Over There," those dressed in bathing suits carried banners reading "We Want a Swimming Pool," while boys dressed in their track suits carried signs saying "We Want a Gymnasium."

The gymnasium and parks will incur a bonded debt of $149,000. Another issue is for a debt of $26,000 for municipal equipment and a building for storage. The city charter prepared by the freeholders is to be read and the question decided of whether the property owners shall be taxed for water mains supplying their property or the tax be levied on all property in the city.

Bonds in the sum of $100,000 will be voted upon for extension and operation of the city waterworks and system.

BATTLESHIP RACE.

Two Big Fighting Boats in Contest of Speed and Endurance.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, March 28.—Radio messages were received at the harbor this afternoon to the effect that the superdreadnaughts Mississippi and Idaho left the Bremerton navy yard at 6 o'clock this morning for their base in the outer harbor here. The ships will arrive during the latter part of the week.

A twenty-four-hour endurance run will be on the program for the trip down the coast, the first four hours of which will be a smoke-prevention test. A full-power run at 21.5 knots will be engaged in, following which the endurance run at 19.5 knots will take place.

The two battleships have been in dry dock at Bremerton for inspection and overhauling.

TO FILE PROTEST.

Kings-Tulare Counties Contest Power Site Filings.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HANFORD, March 28.—Kings county will join with the county of Tulare in protesting the so-called "power site grab" of the city of Los Angeles, which recently entered filings on a number of the sites for hydroelectric plants in the mountains of the San Joaquin Valley.

These filings are now before the Federal Power Commission and objections must be made before May 15.

For the purpose of formulating a plan for opposing the granting of the sites to the city of Los Angeles, representatives of the two counties will meet at Visalia tomorrow night, under the auspices of the Kings-Tulare Commercial Secretaries' Association, at which time it is declared resolutions will be passed protesting against the alleged "grab." The delegation from this county will be headed by Secretaries B. B. Price of the Kings county Chamber of Commerce and Frank C. Russell of the Hanford Board of Trade.

KEEP UP FIGHT AGAINST ILLNESS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, March 28.—Ethel Hammer, who, since Jan. 23, 1921, has been the victim of an unusually insidious case of the sleeping sickness, will be taken to the home of her parents, 16 Florence avenue, Venice, within a week or ten days. She is now in St. Catherine's Hospital, where she was taken the day she fell asleep.

The girl is broken in body, her arms and legs are paralyzed, and the signs she displayed at one time of being able to recognize her parents have disappeared. A strange condition of her case, however, and one to which the attending physician, Dr. Russel Sands, attaches hope for her eventual recovery, is that her strength has decreased but slightly.

Food has been administered normally at times, and at others by enforced methods, but she has at all times assimilated it and benefited from it. It has never been possible to give her water by natural methods. She resents any attempt to make her drink.

Though she is still in the throes of the sickness, the physician is of the opinion that he can care for her as successfully in her home. The girl is 15 years of age, and is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hammer.

BANK ACCOUNTANT ELATED OVER RESU

San Francisco Man Says He Was in Bad Shape Before He Got Tanlac—Gains 22 Pounds and Always Feels Fine Now.

H. E. Moxley, well-known accountant in charge of the San Francisco and Los Angeles office of the E. F. Hutton Co., bankers and brokers, residing at the Hampton Court Apartments, 378 Golden Gate Ave., San Francisco, is one of the latest to come forward and give Tanlac his unqualified indorsement. Mr. Moxley came to San Francisco in April, 1920, from Denver, Colo., where he is also well known and popular. Following is his statement:

"In checking over my experience with Tanlac, I find a balance of good health and a gain of twenty-two pounds in weight to my credit, and the best I can say for the medicine is not as good as it deserves. Mystery Woman Killing Case Waits.

Mrs. Edith Lundberg and Detective Sergeant Bean.

BECAUSE of the physical condition of Mrs. Edith Lundberg, accused of the murder of Linas F. Worden, Jr., her sweetheart, her hearing before Justice Brown, was continued yesterday until April 5, when she will appear before Justice Follette. It is charged that while the deceased and the defendant were sitting in his automobile in front of his house on North New Hampshire street, she shot him and then turned the weapon on herself. She is now recovering from her wounds.

Mrs. Lundberg's case has been more or less of a mystery to Detective Sergeant Bean and others who investigated. When she was questioned by the officers she replied to most of their inquiries with "That makes no difference." Later she said that she could not "live with him (Worden) and could not live without him." She is a frail woman and is two years older than the young man she is accused of killing.

For a time it was thought Mrs. Lundberg would die, as young Worden did while he was being taken to the Receiving Hospital. She was taken to the County Hospital and recovered sufficiently to appear for arraignment, but yesterday her attorney, T. E. Justice, asserted she was not well enough to undergo the hearing.

FORMS RESIDENCE SECTION.

The City Council yesterday set aside as a strictly residence district the territory bounded by Washington street, La Salle avenue, Harvard Boulevard and Western avenue.

Charges Trusty Gave Prisoners Drugs in Jail.

An investigation of the charge that a trusty in the County Jail has been supplying prisoners with drugs probably will follow the statement to that effect made by Clyde Hester in Judge McCormick's court yesterday.

Hester was convicted of embezzling a $700 diamond ring belonging to a Miss Grovert of a beach city. He came before the court yesterday for sentence. He insisted that he had not taken the ring. The court sentenced him to San Quentin for from one to ten years.

The report on Hester showed that he had been on probation from Judge Craig's court. He told the court he never had any trouble in getting drugs.

"Since I have been in the County Jail," he said, "I got it from a trusty. I had a shot last night."

"Who was the trusty?" asked the court.

Hester refused to tell.

FOR PASTOR'S FUNERAL.

Funeral services for Rev. William Davies, pastor of the East Vernon-avenue Congregational Church, who died Sunday, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the church, East Vernon and Hooper avenues, instead of in the chapel of W. H. Sutch, as was originally announced appearing with the Chicago Opera Association next week at Philharmonic Auditorium, whose artistry may be heard NOW at the Fitzgerald Music Company, as RE-CREATED by the NEW EDISON Phonograph.

Fitzgerald's

Celebrated NEW EDISON ARTISTS

FRIEDA HEMPEL

of whom the great critic of the Boston Transcript, Henry T. Parker, says: "There is not a singer upon the operatic or the concert stage in America to compare with Miss Hempel in present glories of voice. There is none who excels her skill of lyric song. She is indeed fast becoming the unique figure in her generation."

LAZZARI

Probably the most delightful basso Re-Creations ever made are those of Virgilio Lazzari. His voice is sonorous, clear, and his technique is perfect.

Those familiar with Lazzari's voice will recognize it, as Re-Created by the New Edison, so perfect is this wonderful phonograph's Re-Creation of an artist's singing or playing.

BONCI

"The Greatest of All Living Lyric Tenors," Allesandro Bonci, has made a number of superb Edison Re-Creations, sung both in Italian and French.

Those who have heard Bonci will immediately realize the absolute fidelity with which the New Edison Re-Creates these selections.

Van Gordon

Unusual vocal range and perfect control, combined with a voice of great sweetness, have endeared this celebrated artist to the music lovers of both Europe and America. The New Edison's Re-Creation of Cyrena Van Gordon's artistry preserves all of its superb beauty.

Visit Fitzgerald's today and ask to hear the selected list of Re-Creations made by these celebrated artists so that you may become familiar with their voices, the better to enjoy their singing next week at Philharmonic Auditorium. You will not be urged to purchase

We extend this courtesy "for the advancement of music."

FOUR NECKTIE CHANGES DAILY.

That's the Suggestion of Color Expert.

She's a Woman and Doesn't Have to Tie 'Em.

Ebell Club Holds Stately Costume Review.

BY MYRA NYE.

The man that changes his tie once a day is more efficient in his business, and the man who has the time to change the color of his neckwear at least four times a day will escape his habitual grouch, be able to put over a business deal and meet his wife at the door with a caress instead of a complaint when he is through with the office grind. This was the opinion Miss Orcelia Rexford, color expert, expressed yesterday before the Ebell Club. She spoke on "Color Harmonies in Dress."

To cut a figure, Miss Rexford suggested, a woman might wear a salt-and-pepper suit, a claret-wine tie, a wrap of elephant's breath, cinnamon hose, burgundy shoes and a parrot-green hat trimmed with sage. The speaker was decidedly against the costume of all one color, and black she regarded as the great instigator of crime and dangerous in the extreme. It is criminal for a mother to put black upon a child, she said.

"As you are dressed he who runs may read what you are; the colors you have on tell your emotions; colors tell the very character of the wearer, physically, spiritually and mentally," said this young woman, who herself was gowned in a lilac underdress of shirred messaline over which hung an overdress of ultra-marine blue georgette, hand-painted in square design along the irregular border of the tunic and lined with crepe de chine of ashes of roses. Each point of the tunic ended in a varicolored tassel and a girdle of rose satin encircled the low waist line.

Miss Rexford was not averse to rouge to heighten the color effect for milady. She did suggest, however, that a more beautiful effect might be gained by putting color about the face rather than on the face. She advised the most careful choice of colors to suit the complexion, for the complexion, she averred, is the most salient point in the beauty of a woman. Further, that only certain colors should be worn near the face of a certain type of brunette, and today all women must not, in spite of the dictate of Dame Fashion, rush to gray and orange, the two most stylish colors and at the same time the most trying, she believes.

"Every woman should be a picture," concluded Miss Rexford enthusiastically. "Moreover, she can be if she chooses her colors wisely."

The costume revue that followed Miss Rexford's lecture was not only colorful and charming to the spectators, who were all costume lovers, but it was redundant with suggestions for the spring wardrobe. The most striking gown of the revue was a gold-spangled evening gown, a Parisian model of today, recently imported, worn by Mrs. Harmon Kyrus. Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the club, as Mme. Ebell Club, was handsome in a gown of American Beauty willow taffeta over which she wore a dress of black silk net embroidered heavily in red and yellow roses. The three gowns about which romance clung, still beautiful in their lines of loveliness, were the costumes of 1840, 1850 and 1860 worn by Mrs. C. W. Fish, who was charming with her brown hair in high coiffeur and the blue brocaded polonaise over pink quilted satin. Then there were Mrs. Grantland Sejon Long in a gown of her mother's of black and cinnamon brocade measuring some seven yards around the bottom and decollete with the low shoulder line; Mrs. Ada Van Pelt wearing a gown she had worn when a girl, a gown of sprigged mull with old-fashioned lace and embroidery.

To enhance the charm of color and sound, a quartet composed of Mrs. Norman Hassler, Hazel Anderson, Edna Voorhees and Daisy Prideaux, gowned in Kate Greenaway costumes, sang a group: "When I Walk in the Garden Early" (Schumann,) "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" and "Minuet" (Patty Stair.)

Philanthropy and Civics Club.

One of the most delightful programs for the year was enjoyed yesterday afternoon by the Philanthropy and Civics Club in the Elks' clubhouse when that dean of actors, Frederick Warde, spoke before a large audience of the club members and their friends on "Fifty Years of Make-Believe."

Mr. Warde reviewed his many years of stage life down to today, when he is playing Father Serra, the leading part in John Steven McGroarty's "Mission Play." Mr. McGroarty also was a guest of the club.

Baby Week.

Today the eminent specialist, Dr. Truman Brochym, formerly of Chicago, will speak before the audience of mothers gathered in the interest of child welfare week at the Los Angeles Mothers' Educational Center, Plymouth Branch, 650 West Twenty-first street. Mrs. Robert C. Richert will preside.

Dr. Brochym will speak on cleft palate, hair lip and other mouth deformities that cause imperfect speech in children. He will speak at 11:30 a.m. Dr. V. E. Stork will speak on "Children's Diet," and Dr. Titan Coffey on "Prenatal Care."

Yesterday Dr. Laura Bennett, speaking at the first session of the week at the assembly-room, Chamber of Commerce, said that there were students in the high schools that were falling behind in their studies, not on account of deficient mentality, but because of poor feet. This condition, said Dr. Bennett, might have been easily corrected in babyhood.

It is expected that in the remaining days of the week fully 500 babies will be examined, examinations beginning this morning. The mothers will be taught the importance of teaching babies when they begin to walk how to walk properly.

Dr. Henry Dietrich yesterday, in speaking to the mothers who filled the assembly-room, urged upon them the importance of nursing their babies and emphatically decried the advice that is being given today by doctors, nurses and grandparents alike to "put the baby on the bottle." This, Dr. Dietrich said, is one of the chief causes of infant mortality today. Dr. Guy Cochran told of what may be accomplished in his subject, "Children's Surgery," and Mrs. Gladys Coe talked on "Reading for Children."

MRS. CHAPLIN IS EN ROUTE HERE.

Mother of Comedian is Temporarily Admitted to the United States.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—Mrs. Hannah Chaplin, mother of Charlie Chaplin, the cinema star, who was detained by the immigration officials on her arrival in this country Saturday pending a medical examination for an asserted mental disorder, was temporarily admitted today.

Thomas Harrington, secretary to Mr. Chaplin, who accompanied Mrs. Chaplin from England, filed the necessary bonds with the immigration authorities. The two left tonight for Los Angeles. Mrs. Chaplin and Mr. Harrington arrived Saturday on the Celtic, but their names did not appear on the passenger list.

Negotiations for bringing Mrs. Chaplin have been pending for two years, it was learned, and Mr. Chaplin has made several trips to Washington in connection with his mother's case.

INVITE WAR VETERANS.

Ex-service men are invited to attend the Sid Grauman night exercises of Los Angeles Post, No. 3, American Legion, to be held at the commandery headquarters in the Washington Building, Thursday evening. The entire exercises of the evening will be under the personal supervision of Mr. Grauman, who will personally address the assembly on the various phases of theatrical enterprises. In addition there will be special entertaining novelties.

GOVERNMENT LOSES NORTH ISLAND SUIT.

Finding of Jury in Air Base Action is Sustained by the Supreme Court.

Word that the United States Supreme Court has sustained the judgment of U. S. District Judge Trippet in favor of the Coronado Land Company in the suit growing out of the condemnation by the government of lands on North Island in San Diego Bay, for naval aviation uses, was received here yesterday.

The land was desired for a naval base by the government, which sought to secure it by condemnation proceedings, holding that the deeds for the land as originally received from the Mexican government contained the reservation that if the area was ever needed for the purposes of war, the national government could take possession of it without any pay.

Judge Trippet decided that if the government wanted the land it must pay for it, and the question of the value of the land desired by the government was passed on by a jury in San Diego. That jury fixed the value of the land at $5,000,000, with interest from the date of the award, and by the judgment of the court of last resort that amount of money must be paid if the government wants the land. Whether or not the government will pay is as yet undetermined.

When the case was brought in the local United States District Court, George J. Denis of this city was retained by Atty.-Gen. Palmer as an assistant Attorney-General to try the issues, and he took an appeal from the judgment of Judge Trippet, which has now been affirmed. The basis of his appeal was that the jury had included certain tidewater property in that to be paid for, when title to such land was clearly in the State or the Federal government.

IG TEN FEET; GO BACK EONS.

Marvelous Finds Made While Excavating at Torrance.

Pioneer Marine Remains Said to be Million Years Old.

Pioneer Bones of Early Man and Huge Bogged Beasts.

They went back 1,000,000 years yesterday in digging down ten feet on the property of the Torrance Lime and Fertilizer Company, just south of Torrance. Dr. C. L. Eddy, head of the nature study department of the Los Angeles schools; E. Sandos, chemical expert, and Vaus Purple, general manager of the company, spent the morning examining and appraising the various bone, shell and rock specimens as they came up in the course of a series of excavations which promise to be among the most important made in Southern California.

Although undertaken solely for commercial purposes and with a view to placing on the market the 5,000,000 tons of the highly valuable decomposed marine shell lime on the tract owned by the company, the excavations have produced marine remains covering a period of from 500,000 to 1,000,000 years before this era and have also yielded a portion of an immense pelvic bone believed to have been part of the most gigantic animal that ever walked the earth.

In those ten feet of lime deposits is packed the recurring drama of 1,000,000 years. There was the bed of the ocean, as attested by innumerable shell and fish deposits. There in the course of tens of thousands of years great sharks battled, falling locked in the death embrace to the bottom of the sea. There, after the waters had, vanished and vegetation had sprung up, were large trees, portions of the forest remaining petrified amid other relics older by hundreds of thousands of years.

PASSED INTO GEOLOGY.

There, in tens of thousands of years, the imperial elephant, standing over fourteen feet in height and probably three tons, went down to his watering place, failed on one bright day or one dark night to watch his step and bogged one foot in a lime pit, struck out in anger, with another foot and his trunk, got those caught also and passed out of life into geology.

However, before the elephant had perished in the mire the saber-toothed tiger pounced upon him, sinking his twelve-inch teeth into the helpless victim. Relinquishing his grip when satiated, he dropped contentedly toward what he thought would be solid ground, only to sink into the same pit with the elephant and to join that immense creature and the sharks and the infinitesimal shall forms in furnishing a story book which would be opened with pick and shovel some day any number of thousands of years later.

BONES TELL TALE.

And the great wolf, too, prowled and fed there, and perished there also, as his bones, along with those of the rest, testify. Then, almost yesterday it seems, in contrast with the far-reaching records in the pits, a famished and desperate man came there, seeking water and some roots. A tiny stream tricked out to quench his thirst for a few weeks, then, as the heat grew, it began to grow less.

Day by day he grew more alarmed as his water supply kept shrinking. With only crude tools—perhaps it was less than 5000 years ago or it may have been shortly before the coming of the white man to this continent—he hit upon the frantic idea of digging back to the source of the stream. And so he tunneled in, painful foot by painful foot, using a clumsy, heavy shale scraper, not unlike a large arrowhead in shape.

In this way he tunneled several yards, growing weaker, no doubt and losing hope. Finally he must have come to within a few inches of a considerable body of water. Perhaps he heard it or felt it seeping through the rocks. But there was the trouble. He was no longer digging through the debris of 1,000,000 years. He had come to solid rock and he never got beyond it. They found traces of him, too, yesterday, a few bones mingled with those of the shark, the tiger and the wolf, his heavy spade a little ahead of him.

TAPPED BY MODERNS.

Out of the depths of the same spring, toward which he was striving the excavating party yesterday drank cool, bracing water in abundance. The rock that had baffled him still acted as a cistern, but it had been tapped with modern tools for modern men. It was remarked that he had shown a strange idea of well digging—trying to tunnel in through the side of a hill for water. But he was probably a trifle dazed by the heat of the sun or by hunger. At any rate, he paid the price of his folly and had dropped his spade there for any man who wished to carry on where he left off.

The company in its operations is now taking out and making ready for market ten tons of the lime deposits every hour. Scarce a shovelful but runs back eons in the history that it relates and scarce a shovelful that does not carry within itself fertilizing power sufficient to bring to luxuriant growth vegetation which, in the course of another 1,000,000 years, may be found petrified into immortality alongside the bones and relics of men of this time.

The very dust of those thirty acres swarms and writhes with life and in the moonlight one can almost see the long-tusked imperial tossing his defiant trunk at the moon, or hear the wild scream of the thirsty tiger,—or catch the echo of the sighing of that frantic fool tracing water to its source.

But, after all, it is strictly business and the elephant and the tiger and that baffled man may be on a neighboring lawn tomorrow, seeking another immortality in ... flowers.

SAYS KIDNAPER NAPPED.

Arrests last night here and in San Bernardino disclose what appears to be the kidnaping of two men, one of whom was held in a hotel here and walked about the streets with a pistol thrust against his side while the other was taken by automobile to San Bernardino to raise the ransom. But one of the kidnapers fell asleep, and the police were called.

Such is the story told by Robert E. Hart and A. A. Garibaldi. They say they were held up at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by two men, one of whom accused Hart of having removed opium from the pocket of the stage Hart drives from Tia Juana to San Diego. The man professed to have placed the drug in the pocket while the stage was on the Mexican side.

Deputy Sheriffs Cronin and Johnson last night arrested a man who said his name was C. W. Berry. He was with Garibaldi in front of the Morris Hotel at 311 East Fifth street and, the deputies said, was "covering" Garibaldi with a pistol. Garibaldi was held as a witness.

The arrest here resulted from advices from Sheriff Shea of San Bernardino, where Hart appears to have escaped from his captor in a peculiar fashion. Hart telephoned the San Bernardino police that he had been kidnaped, brought to San Bernardino to get from his father the $650 demanded as ransom. But, he said, the kidnaper had fallen asleep while waiting for the money. The police went with Hart to an automobile where they found a man fast asleep with his head on a pistol. He was arrested. He is said to be J. C. Moore of San Francisco. Hart told the San Bernardino authorities that Garibaldi was held captive in Los Angeles.

CHILDREN WITH OTHER WOMAN?

Cruelty in Taking Offspring is Divorce Charge.

Former Stenographer of E. L. Kendall is Named.

Indemnity Exchange Tangle Recalled by Suit.

Mrs. Eliza H. Kendall in a divorce action filed yesterday charges extreme cruelty in removing her children from her and names her husband's erstwhile stenographer as co-respondent. The husband, Eugene L. Kendall, is head of the American Indemnity Exchange and of the Union Investment Mortgage Company of this city, affiliated concerns that are involved in much controversial litigation with the State Insurance Department.

The action for divorce was brought by Mrs. Kendall's attorneys, Hunsaker, Britt & Cosgrove. It was foreshadowed recently by Mrs. Kendall's pursuit of her three children, who had disappeared from Los Angeles. She found them in Minden, Nev., in the charge, she asserted, of Miss Katherine Bryant, who had been Mr. Kendall's stenographer. Mrs. Kendall caused the issuance of a writ of habeas corpus, but obtained custody of her offspring without legal aid. She returned to Los Angeles with the children. Soon after Mr. Kendall returned here, to look after his business interests, which had become much involved. The Kendall home was at 1133 Fifth avenue.

Mr. Kendall was charged with the embezzlement of $104,000 and later of $8629 from the reserve fund of the American Indemnity Exchange. The State officials also brought involuntary bankruptcy proceedings. State Insurance Commissioner McCabe was appointed receiver of the indemnity company. The matter is pending in the courts here.

Mr. Kendall asserted the funds in question had been transferred locally from one company to another, and he retaliated with an action for $100,000 against Mr. McCabe.

COMEDY QUEEN IS SENTENCED.

with a babe in her arms, "She's such a sweet little thing."

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Mosely in his argument contended that the law prohibiting autoists from driving in excess of thirty-five miles per hour was simply an amendment to the commandment, "Thou Shalt Not Kill!"

Attorney Gilbert's argument consisted chiefly of an endeavor to prove that Miss Daniels was either not exceeding the speed limit or the testimony of the officer was faulty—that he was wrong in his mathematical statements.

WIFE SENDS WINKS.

Miss Daniels displayed extreme nervousness. Her big eyes were turned toward the District Attorney. He gazed at her for awhile, and fidgeted. Miss Daniels continued to gaze at him. The District Attorney turned, stood on one foot and looked at his wife. Mrs. Nelson looked at Miss Daniels, turned to her husband—and winked.

The jurors filed out. Seven minutes later they returned and E. B. Covington, the foreman, read the verdict, "guilty as charged." Only one ballot had been taken.

Mr. Gilbert moved for a new trial. The motion was overruled. Mr. Gilbert then waived time of pronouncing the sentence. Then quoth the judge:

"That which is about to be done is hard for this court to do. Bebe Daniels, it is the judgment of the court that you be confined in the Orange County Jail for a period of ten days."

Miss Daniels swayed.

Her mother and her friends cried.

Then Miss Daniels smiled at the judge; her first smile of the day.

Attorney Gilbert filed notice of an appeal to the Superior Court. Bail was set at $100, which Miss Daniels promptly paid. The notice must be in the custody of the Superior Court within fifteen days. The Superior Court will only review the case and return its verdict to Judge Cox. If it upholds Judge Cox's decision, Miss Daniels must eat her meals in the Orange County Jail for awhile.

Miss Daniels left the courtroom smiling. Neither the judge nor the jury had been vamped, and the judge's precedent had not been shattered. Outside the Courthouse, the fair speeder's car refused to budge. Then did the populace of Santa Ana show their love for her when a large percentage of the population pushed Miss Daniels's car for two blocks.

But what did the District Attorney's wife mean by that one conspicuous wink?

Let's Discuss It

Have you property you want to Improve? or Sell? or Lease? Are you looking for a location for your business?

We are here to serve you. We have experts in our organization on every phase of management of business properties.

Come in and let's discuss your problem. Often the difficulties that harass one man disappear when two or three business men get together and have a heart-to-heart discussion.

We don't care about "conferences." There's a formality and a formidableness about a "conference" that to our notion interferes with free and frank interchange of opinions and experiences. We prefer that you just drop in to see us when you feel like it, without bothering about an appointment, and have a man-to-man talk and understanding Don't you agree with us?

Meet your friends at our waiting-room in our spacious new building. We planned it for your convenience—for your downtown meeting place. Entire building occupied and owned by us.

DANCE TO AID CHILDREN.

Ira Remsen, Louis Sherwin, Cedric Gibbons, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes, with dancers from the Denishawn studios.

REMARKABLE COSTUMES.

The Indio-Persian group, under direction of Robert Brunton, presented the "Marriage of the Seven Steps," an India episode featuring extravagant costuming. The cast included Nenette, Dewey Shelton, Nigel De Brulier, Boris Karloff, Fred Burns, Otto Lederer, Harry Lorraine, Marbe Vallon, Bessie Crouch, Andre Bayley, Doris Cleveland, Etta Lee, Alice Hess, Mrs. Lee Milbank, Miss Cecile MacLaughlin, Miss Georgia Kean, Miss Florence Marsh, Miss Anna Morse, Miss Ann Roble, Miss Mary Forve, Miss Rowena Schneider, Miss Julia Valentine, Miss Corinne Eisenmayer, Miss Marian Wigmore, Miss Adelaide Duque, Miss Florence Kays, Miss Margaret Miller, Miss Odile Marcues, Miss Amelia Rogg and Miss Polly McKinney. Mrs. Robert Brunton appeared as the Spirit of India, wearing a costume on which were more than 50,000 pearls.

The Italian group presented a fantasy to the effect that while the people of Italy were singing on their way to the vineyards a messenger of the church came to sanctify the operations of commerce. The church grants a period of gaiety and retires. The queen of carnival is summoned. The rainbow tent of revelry is raised and the feast is spread. The cast included:

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo were among the distinguished guests witnessing the pageant and joining in the dancing afterwards. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lawrence Doheny, who entertained a few others. Mrs. McAdoo was lovely in a handsome gown of silver and blue brocade.

One interesting box party was that of Admiral and Mrs. Nathan Twining, whose guests were Capt. and Mrs. John Hooe Iden, Mr. and Mrs. Hancock Banning, Mr. and Mrs. Jotham Bixby, Jr., Mrs. Charlotte Kingore Satterlee and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jeffris. Capt. and Mrs. Iden entertained the group at dinner first.

Mrs. Roderick Tower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney of New York, was one of the most important folk who took part in the pageant, being in the French fantasy and appearing as a magnificently gowned court lady of the time of Louis XVI. Mr. Tower was also in the pageant and they joined later in the dancing.

Dr. and Mrs. West Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Gustavus Hunt occupied a box together, Dr. and Mrs. Hughes having with them, Dr. and Mrs. John R. Haynes and C. D. Zezin.

Mrs. Fred R. Babcock of Chicago had an interesting group for dinner and in her box later. Her guests were Mrs. John W. Wright of Texas and New York, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Reynolds, Mrs. Morris Fishbein and Mrs. Hewett of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Converse and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of New York.

With Mr. and Mrs. William May Garland for dinner and in their box were Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hunter, Dr. Paul Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cushman, Miss Olive Rosamond Garland, Dr. and Mrs. Rae Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Cochran.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Crutcher had with them Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Mears, for whom they entertained earlier at dinner, and Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Esheman, Richard Griffith and Miss Cecile McLaughlin.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rathwell Page had a dinner party and later assembled their company in their box and in that of her mother, Mrs. I. N. Van Nuys. The distinguished group included Bishop and Mrs. Joseph H. Johnson, Coadjutor Bishop and Mrs. Bertrand Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Shedd, Mr. and Mrs. Henry O'Melveny, Mr. and Mrs. Allan C. ### Small Girl Uses Matches as Toy; Has Close Escape from Bad Burns.

But for the prompt action of neighbors and several children with whom she was playing, Rose Wells, 2½ years of age, 409 South Breed street, probably would have been seriously injured yesterday when her clothing caught fire at her home.

The child was playing with matches when a lighted one set fire to her dress. She was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where her injuries were treated. She was later removed to her home. She was but slightly burned.

The Dread Pyorrhea Begins With Bleeding Gums

Pyorrhea's infecting germs cause many ills. Medical science has proven this.

Diseased conditions, which not long ago doctors were unable to trace to a cause, are now known often to be the result of Pyorrhea germs that breed in pockets about the teeth. Rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders and other diseases have been traced in many cases to this Pyorrhea infection.

Don't let Pyorrhea work its wicked will on your body. Visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection.

And watch your gums yourself. Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, begins with tender and bleeding gums; then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of poisons generated at their base.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

We wish that every woman in Los Angeles might know about this sale of DRESSES $34

—For women would only need to know about these dresses to enthuse over them and buy them—

—And so, if this advertisement—with its illustrations which were made directly from the garments—does cause women to KNOW these dresses and APPRECIATE the values then today is going to be a wonderful day—one of the biggest days our garment store has ever known—

—Our new garment chief had his heart set on making this March of March far greater than any his predecessor had had—and he used one argument after another until the maker gave him these dresses at a fraction of their worth—and then he set the price but a wee bit higher—

—How they will go flying out!—

—They include frocks for afternoon, dinner, street and sport wear—

—Some of Georgette over charmeuse, elaborately trimmed with bugle beads—quaint little basque effects and youthful blouse models in lustrous taffeta with ruffles, tucks and touches of embroidery—

—A fascinating array of crepe de chine and Canton crepe frocks in pleated, draped and straight line styles—

—Then, too, there are tricotine dresses, self trimmed or braided

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.
Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do the work which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.
No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad complexion or pimply face.
Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.
Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.—[Advertisement.

OIL LEASE LAW BRINGS PROFIT.

Government Gets Large Sums from Kern Fields.

More Than Half Million Put into Federal Bank.

Land Under Taft Withdrawal Order Productive.

Some idea of the amount of money being paid to the government on account of oil production in the Kern county oil field is furnished by the fact that yesterday Receiver Mitchell of the local Land Office paid into the United States Treasury, $514,857.72. This was done under the provisions of the mineral leasing law of Feb. 25, 1920. The total sum represents the royalty of one-eighth of the total production charged under the above law, and the accumulation in the hands of the receivers of the various oil companies previous to the passage of the mineral leasing law.

The properties involved represent oil land withdrawn from all forms of public entry in September, 1909, by President Taft. The various oil companies were at the time in diligent prosecution of the work of development of the territory, and they were granted preference rights where such condition could be shown.

There has been as yet no check-up on the companies by the government to see if the amounts paid are correct, but it is the intention of the Interior Department to have men on the ground at all times to see that the provisions of the law as to the amount of money to be paid each month to the government are carried out.

The largest contributor to the fund is the Miocene Oil Company, that paid $223,719.51. The Maricopa Star Oil Company paid $127,616.06, the General Petroleum Company, $122,317.41; the El Dora Oil Company, $40,198.84, and the Trojan Oil Company is the smallest contributor, with the payment of $571.44.

The large sum of cash was handled by Receiver Mitchell through the local branch of the Federal Reserve Bank.

NO HOPE FOR TEACHER MYSTERIOUSLY HURT.

CAN FIND NO WITNESS TO ACCIDENT: SUPPOSE STEPS OF CAR HIT WOMAN.

Physicians at the California Hospital hold out practically no hope for the recovery of Miss Zauna Osgood, 21 years of age, a schoolteacher, who was knocked down yesterday morning by a street car at Santa Monica Boulevard and Kingsley Drive. She has been unconscious since the accident and no reliable information is available as to its cause.

Miss Osgood left her home at 5084 Romaine avenue, Hollywood, a few minutes before the accident. She was to have gone to the offices of the Board of Education to report before proceeding to work at Lankershim. It is believed that she crossed the tracks on Santa Monica Boulevard and was struck by the steps of an inbound Van Nuys interurban car.

The injured woman was found by Deputy Sheriff Nolan and Carl Wirsching of the county road department and taken to the Receiving Hospital, where it was discovered that she had a fracture of the skull, fracture of one leg, severe scalp lacerations and other injuries. Dr. Dorn said her hurts would probably prove fatal. She was removed to the California Hospital after she had been identified by relatives two hours after the accident.

Under the direction of Capt. Adams of the Hollywood Police Station an investigation was made, but the police could find no eye-witnesses.

MISSION CONFERENCE TO OPEN HERE TODAY.

The Union Mission workers' conference and convocation for prayer will begin today in the Temperance Temple, 301 North Broadway, at Temple street, and will close Friday. There will be sessions each day from 2 to 5 o'clock, and a song service daily at 1:30 p.m., in charge of the evangelists, Frank A. Miller, W. T. Dixon and Mrs. Dixon.

The services will be in charge of S. B. Shaw, evangelist of Grand Rapids, Mich., who recently held a series of meetings here. The speakers will give ten-minute addresses to be followed by ten minutes of prayer.

The speakers and their subjects for today follow: Mrs. A. Nesbitt, superintendent of Temperance Temple; Mrs. Helen Stoddard, State president, Women's Christian Temperance Union; Mrs. Eliza Upham, president Los Angeles W.C.T.U., "Prayer for Temperance Work;" Mrs. Alma White, editor, Pillar of Fire, "Prayer for a Tongue of Fire;" R. W. Carter, city missionary, Baptist Church, "Prayer for City Missions;" Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, "Prayer for the Guidance of the Holy Spirit;" G. E. Ramige, editor The Pentecost, "Prayer for the Pentecostal Baptism;" William M. Bowen, Superintendent, Free Tract Society, "Prayer for the Printed Page and Tract Circulation," and J. S. Norvell of Bethel Temple, "Prayer for Divine Healing."

GEORGIA MAYOR'S WIFE STRICKEN AT CITY HALL.

Mrs. W. E. Wood, wife of the Mayor of Dalton, Ga., was taken ill yesterday afternoon at the City Hall and was removed to a private hospital. It was stated she had suffered a slight stroke of paralysis.

DENIED PROBATION.

W. F. Cunningham was denied probation yesterday and sentenced to San Quentin prison for from one to ten years by Judge Reeve on a charge of embezzlement. The defendant was found guilty by a jury of defrauding John W. Smith out of $100 in a deal involving the supposed purchase of an apartment-house.

MURDER VICTIM JUST RUBBISH.

Salt, Beef Bones, Old Shoes and Remnants of Buggy Start Mystery Tale.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, March 28.—Reports from Brawley that a mysterious murder had been committed at Alamorio and that the body of the victim was burned to destroy the evidence were quieted yesterday when Coroner Peterson found at the scene of the "crime" nothing but a large lump of charred crystallized salt, a couple of beef bones, a pair of old shoes and a pile of burned rubbish which had once been a buggy.

The story of the "murder" arose because of the fact that some men had been camping for the past few days in the place where the bones and other rubbish were discovered.

AID ON WARRIORS' DAY FOR BRITISH VETERANS

OVERSEAS CLUB WILL HOLD BALL AND DINNER FOR EX-SERVICE MEN.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has sent forth a message to Britishers all over the world asking them to devote Thursday, the 31st inst., to the observance of Warriors' Day. To this end, local British organizations, under the auspices of the Overseas Club, are making elaborate arrangements for dispensing aid and hospitality to all British veterans of the World War in this vicinity on that day. There are several hundred of these here, many of them in dire straits. For some time the Overseas Club has been the chief organization to aid and comfort them.

On Thursday evening any and every British soldier will be entertained with a dinner in the Overseas Club rooms at 211 South Broadday from 6 to 8 p.m. and afterwards at a ball to be held at the Goldberg Academy. The latter will be a benefit dance, with tickets selling at 50 cents, to which all ex-service men will be admitted as guests. The proceeds will be devoted to their service.

Donations may be sent to S. A. Milborne of the Overseas Club, treasurer for the relief committee.

Other organizations taking part in the Warriors' Day hospitalities are the Sons of St. George, the Clan Cameron, the Maple Leaf Club of Hollywood, the Maple Leaf Club of Los Angeles, the Canadian Woman's Club, the Daughters of the British Empire, the Caledonian Club and the Los Angeles Scotch Pipe Band.

The general committee for the warriors' benefit is made up of C. Howard Shaver, president of the Maple Leaf Club; Mrs. E. H. Chamberlain, Mrs. E. P. Hanscom, Miss M. Massey, Mrs. W. Wilkens, J. Williams, Miss M. Lowe, Miss Evelyn Marriott and T. P. Menzies.

TOT FATALLY INJURED.

Japanese Child Fractures Skull in Forty-foot Fall From Window.

Falling from a window to the ground forty feet below, Kazao Hara, an 18-months-old Japanese child, was probably fatally injured yesterday morning. The child was rushed to the Receiving Hospital by its parents. Dr. Norman Dorn reported it to be fatally injured. The child was later taken to the Japanese Hospital, where it was learned the skull was fractured.

MONEY IS GIVEN FOR MIDNIGHT MISSION.

Two subscriptions, totaling $25, were received yesterday by The Times as donations toward a building fund for the Midnight Mission, the work of which among the unfortunates was described in an article Sunday. A $15 donation came from "A Friend," and $10 was sent by E. F. Pinkham. The money was turned over to T. H. W. Liddecoat, founder and supporter of the mission.

Woman Leses in Battle to Win Tailor's Estate.

Mrs. Grace A. Madden Cohn, who battled in Judge York's court to be judicially declared the widow of Isidor Cohn, a wealthy tailor of this city and heir to his $75,000 estate, lost her fight when Judge York held that she never married Mr. Cohn and denied her petition for letters on his estate.

Mrs. Cohn testified that she married Mr. Cohn in San Francisco shortly before the earthquake and fire. She said the ceremony was performed in the house at 810 Taylor street, and produced a witness who said she was the bridesmaid. All records were destroyed in the great fire, she said.

The defense declared no such marriage ever took place. The court held that there was no proof of the solemnization of the marriage. The records produced showed no marriage license had been issued. Mrs. Cohn paid her gas and electric light bills under her name of Madden, the suit developed. Only to a few friends was she known as Mrs. Cohn.

LIABILITY CONCERN WINNER.

A jury in Judge Myers's court yesterday returned a verdict of $10,000 in favor of the Employers' Liability Assurance Corporation and against E. E. Speer in the corporation's suit to recover damages for serious injuries received by one of their risks.

AFFIRM DANTON DECISION.

A judgment of Superior Judge York, in favor of the defendants in the action brought by Beatrice Danton, a minor, and the Title Insurance and Trust Company, against Walter F. Haas and Joseph Friedlander, executors of the estate of the late Baroness Rosa von Zimmerman, involving the construction of an agreement relative to certain gifts that were to be made by the deceased to Beatrice Danton, was affirmed yesterday by Department No. 1, District Court of Appeal.

On June 29, 1912, the New York Foundling Hospital had in its care Beatrice Danton, then 3 years old. On that date an agreement was made by which the child was indentured to the baroness, and was to be treated as her own until her majority.

If returned to the hospital when she reached her majority she was to be given a Bible and a suit of clothes. If not returned Baroness Von Zimmerman was to create a trust fund of $15,000, to be deposited with I. and W. Seligman of New York, the interest to be used in the maintenance and education of the girl until she had attained the age of 30 years, when the principal was to be paid her. In her last will the child was also to have $15,000.

Baroness Von Zimmerman died in Pasadena, April 25, 1917, leaving an estate estimated to be worth $2,000,000. The Title Insurance and Trust Company, as guardian of Beatrice Danton, presented two claims, $50,000 to provide for the care and education of the child until she reached her majority, and another, $30,000—$15,000 to be placed in trust with I. and W. Seligman, New York bankers, and $15,000 for the benefit of Beatrice Danton as provided in the agreement.

The claim for $50,000 was rejected, and $30,000 allowed and paid.

The action was brought to recover on the rejected claim. The lower court granted a nonsuit and found for the defendant, and this is affirmed by the District Court of Appeal. The higher court said the only question involved in the case was the interpretation of the contract to care for the child.

HARRY CAREY IS SUED.

Sheep of Film Actor Injured Grain, Complains Damages Seeker.

How Harry Carey and five other men are said, in true cowboy style, to have opened the barn doors on the ranch of Jose D. Perea and to have driven out of the barn sheep belonging to Mr. Carey is told in a complaint filed against the actor by Mr. Perea for $250 damages yesterday.

The rescuers are declared to have been armed and poured out profanity and abuse. The sheep, according to the complaint, trespassed on Mr. Perea's land and ate his grain.

He said he warned Mr. Carey's agent not to allow the sheep to come on his land. When the sheep again ventured into his grain field, he shut them up in his barn.

Demands Fees Before Divorce is Dismissed.

A remarkable document filed by Chester Bennett, cinema actor, in which he asks the court to dismiss the divorce suit of Gladys E. Bennett, will have an airing in Judge Burnell's court. The motion is opposed by Philip Cohen, attorney for Mrs. Bennett, who says the suit cannot be dismissed until his consent has been received.

The document states that Mrs. Bennett has condoned the acts she asserts Mr. Bennett guilty of; that they have made up and are living together. Mr. Cohen declares that a balance of $525 attorney's fees is due him, which he has earned under the law, and that there can be no dismissal until he is paid.

LOCAL SHOE MAN WEDS; LEAVES ON HONEYMOON.

George E. Twitchell, aged 47, and Miss Hilda Nelson, aged 32, were married Easter Sunday morning at the First Congregational Church, Eighth and Hope streets. A wedding reception followed at their future home, 102 North Hicks street, after which the couple left on a wedding trip to Santa Barbara. They will return April 1. Mr. Twitchell has been connected with a shoe [illegible] of this city for many years.

City is Victor in Owens River Water Contest

The city of Los Angeles won a victory yesterday when the State Supreme Court issued an order in San Francisco directing the dismissal of an action filed to prevent diversion of the water of the Owens River, which supplies the aqueduct. The action had been brought in July, 1918, by the Inyo Development Company.

The city moved to dismiss in November, 1919, on the ground that the action had not been prosecuted in the five-year period provided by law. Motion was denied on the ground that there was a stipulation of parties that the five-year limitation should not be adhered to. The city appealed and the court ruled today that the additional time stipulated was for one year only and that the period of hearing the action had passed.

MANY GIFTS TO VETERANS' FUND

But Emergency Measure is Still in Need.

Churches to Aid Disabled Service Men's Home.

Sunday to be Observed as "Sacrifice Day."

While many more contributors are needed to complete the emergency fund for the unemployed ex-service men, the checks and pledges received yesterday by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, the organization under whose auspices the money is being raised, greatly increased the sum already in the treasury. Yesterday's contributions included money and pledges from fraternal organizations, business firms and individuals as well as money from employees of local concerns. One man sent in a donation with the promise that the same amount would be given each month.

Secretary Zeehandelaar of the association said the movement was meeting with great success, but that the fund was far short of the total.

"This is not a charity fund," he said yesterday. "It is a fund of justice. If the government has failed to take care of the men who did not fall the government, why, then it is up to the citizenry to assist them."

The day's donations follow:

CHURCHES TO HELP.

The Church Federation of Los Angeles, at its last regular meeting, decided unanimously to ask all churches of the federation to appeal next Sunday for contributions to the Disabled Veterans of the World War Home Fund. Every church also is asked to make donations.

Maj. A. F. Judson is head of a committee that is co-operating with the federation in procuring speakers and arranging the programs. The Council of Community Service of California has sent a letter thanking the federation for its action.

A special effort will be made in all churches to arouse the interest of the Sunday-school children. They will be asked to bring their pennies and to make it a day of sacrifice.

SURPRISE WELL CAUSES BOOM.

Deep Hole on Bradford Land East of Placentia Spouts Oil and Starts Rush.

With one well flowing 2000 barrels a day and two more wells drilled down to the 4000-foot mark, a new oil boom has broken out on the A. S. Bradford ranch, one mile east of Placentia. The flowing well was brought in Sunday. It came with a rush, throwing oil for 500 feet and discharging large quantities of gas. Yesterday it was under perfect control and giving up oil of 26 gravity.

This is the first well to come in on the Bradford ranch. It was drilled by the Santa Fe interests, through the Petroleum Development Company. It went down 4090 feet. There are four other wells going down on the same fifty-acre ranch, two of them being past the 4000-foot mark already. The Bradford well is a wildcat proposition, and somewhat of a surprise, but is panning out remarkably. It is just east of the Standard's Kramer lease and 2000 feet from the Chapman gusher.

DEFENSE EXPLAINS JOHNSTON DEPOSITS.

COUNTERS THE EMBEZZLER CHARGE BY SAYING HE WAS SELLING CARS.

The defense in the prosecution of Clyde Johnston, charged with embezzling $30.00 from the safe in Police Judge Chesebro's court, indicated in Judge Houser's court yesterday that it will explain the large deposits Mr. Johnston had at a local bank by showing that he was buying and selling automobiles.

The prosecution contends that the Police Court safe had no money in it and produced a witness who testified that Mr. Johnston gave him his personal checks instead of the cash bail money when he went to the Police Court after his case was dismissed.

Evidence was also produced to show that there was a shortage of city money taken to the City Treasurer's office and that this was made good by Mr. Johnson after he had negotiated a loan at a bank by putting up as collateral Liberty bonds. These bonds were owned by a man who had put them up in the Police Court in lieu of cash bail, it is said.
